BEATH OF JOHN GEMPERLING.

Demtee of a Well Known Plumber and Tinsmith of This City. John Gemperling, the well-known plumber and tinsmith, died at his residence No. 826 East Orange street, about 8 o'clock this morning after a lingering illness due to a wasting away of the bladder. He had been confined to his house since August, but had been a sufferer from this complaint for the past 10 or 12 years.

Mr. Gemperling was a native of Lancaster and was in his 7-ith year. His place of business was opposite the Grape hotel for a time and alterwards on West King street, this last propagity having been recently sold to Edwin and alterwards on West King street, this last property having been recently sold to Edwin Eberman. He was the first man to put gas into the city factories and churches. He has one brother Daniel, his only sister, Mra. George P. King, having died a few years ago. He leaves a widow, Miss Emma, who lives at home, and Mrs. J. B. Samson, of this city. His funeral will take place on Monday at 2 p. m.; Interment at Lancaster cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Galbarine W. Bart.

Death of Mrs. Catharine W. Davis. Mrs. Catharine W. Davis died at her residence, No. 56 North Prince street, on Friday evening of paralysis. The deceased was the wife of the late Prof. W. V. Davis, who for years was principal of the Lancaster high school. She leaves five daughters as follows: Mrs. A. C. Reinoehl and Misses Jennie, Margie and Annie, of this city, and Mrs. F. D. Walker, of Washington, D. C.

A Real Good Bouse Warming. Rev. G. W. Selihamer and family, formerly of the Church of God, this city, now of town, Md., were in rare good luck last week. Mrs. Sellhamer had been from home ne time, and on her return met with a delightful surprise. The hflair was en-gineered by Messrs. E. G. Gilbert and Ezra Garner and was participated in by a hundred or more of the members and friends of the pastor, and his good lady with a zeal and practical enthusiasm that will keep the ministerial household from want for any good things for the next six months. A borse and buggy were placed in the pastor's stable, a supper of Chesapeakes' best bivalves awaited the mistrees' return, and as load after load of parlahloners with their well filled wagens of everything usual to the well filled lander. parishioners with their well filled wagons of sterything usual to the well filled larder, arrived and found a place in the home. The horse was made to laugh at a well filled crib and a plentitul supply of Carroll county's best hay, while the reverend gentleman and his estimable helpmeet were completely overloyed by the generous gift of their many friends.

The alderman chopped off the owls' heads, threw them into the stove and burned them, took Martin's affidavit as to the killing of them, paid him $2.50 premium, made out sworn statements regarding the same, hurried out of his office to avoid the smell of the burning owl heads, went up to the court house and collected the $2.50 he had paid the owl-killer, and 20 cents additional for himself for cutting off the heads of five owls, burning them in his office stove and making out a set of sworn statements both for himself and the owl-killer! The alderman thinks the owl law to be a humbug, and his opinion is shared by almost everybody else. Crawford county has already paid over $8,000 premiums for the killing of hawks, owls, minks, etc.; Adams county has paid nearly $4,000; Lancaster county has paid for the state is almost $1,500, or a total of $100,000.

The ornithologist of the state board of agriculture has made careful and practical examination into the food of hawks and owls, having killed large numbers of them at all seasons of the year and carefully examined their crops to ascertain the exact nature of their food. His report to the board will indicate that, of the many varieties of hawks, but two are known to prey upon chickens and that even these two live largely upon mice and insects. His report will show that the injury by the destruction of chickens is much more than counterbalanced by their destruction of insects, etc.

There is no doubt the hawks and owls do the farmer more good than harm. The law was passed not in the interest of the farmers Freights dull, grain to Liverpool, so.
