The market of this morning was very largely attended. A number of farmers were dance from York county who had taken advantage of the free road across the river on the ice.

A number of sleighing parties were held last night. Four parties made Lancaster their destination and some went to other places. Several parties came to Columbia on sleighing trips. John C. Klinefelter, driver of the Reading express wagon, will leave this position on January 15th. He will engage in farming near Bambridge. The ice is so badly gorged on this side of the river that the merchants find it impossi ble to cut a channel through the gorges to get o the clear ice in the middle. To secure the hutes placed over the gorges.

An agreement has been entered into by a large number of the farmers, attending mar-let in town, not to sell any produce at the markets of Tuesday and Saturday until eight o'clock in the morning. This will cause the market to be held at a later hour.

Mr. W. Z. Sener informed a representative of the INTELIGENCES this morning that the company of which he is a member took an account of stock during the holidays, and they found that they could not afford to pay the wages they had previously been paying their men. They had been paying union prices right along, and these were considerably higher than the wages paid in most other shops in the county. They prepared a new schedule, reducing the prices 50 cents per thousand. Mr. Sener said he did not know whether the men have struck or not; but he knows that after the new schedule went into effect they have not returnschedule went into effect they have not returned to work. At the Laucaster Kink

A very large crowd was at the Lancaster riuk last evening to witness Prof. Gleason's work. Nearly every seat was occupied all around the arena, and the galleries were pretty well filled. After two horses were handled successfully by the professor there was a race between three horses, which created considerable amusement. The prize, $20, was taken by a mustang, entered by Reist, the grocer.

This evening the last exhibition will be given, when hesides two spunky mustangs there will be several kickers and balkers.

A THIBYING NEWABUT. He Steals a Gold Watch and Chain and Skips

the Town. John Miller, a newsboy, stole a gold watch and chain from the house of clerk of the orphans' court, M. V. B. Keller, on Vine street, on Friday. Miller is employed on the Reading railroad, and when in Lancaster made his home at Mr. Keller's. Yesterday morning while Mrs. Keiler was getting din ner he was in the dining room and during her absence he slipped up stairs and took the watch and chain from a bureau drawer. The watch and chain from a bureau drawer. The watch and chain was a gift to Miss Sallie Keller, their daughter, and was presented on her last birthday. The watch case has en-graved on it, "Presented to Sallie E. Keller on her 17th birthday, May 22, 1886, by her parents." The number of the movement is 2.178.835 and the case 22 (20).

Early in the evening some of the boys were at Mr. Keller's house with his son, who also works for the news company, and the incident of Miller having the chain, was again mentioned. It was sugchain, was again mentioned. It was sug-gested that Mrs. Keiler should look if the watch was in its piace. She went up stairs and she found the watch and went up Stairs and she found the watch and chain missing. Complaint was made before Aiderman Barr against young Miller and a warrant issued for his arrest. Officers searched for him last night but were unable to find him. It is believed that he has left the city. His parents live at Harrisburg, and the authorities of that city have been notified to be on the lookout for him.

Horses Run Away With Steighs. About half-past 5 o'clock this morning Israel Kreider, of West Lampeter township came to Lancaster with a sleigh loaded with marketing. On reaching Centre Square the runner of his sleigh caught upon the railroad track, the sleigh was upset, Mr. Kreider and marketing were scattered around, the horse took fright and ran down West King to Prince street. In front of Dr. Raub's drug-store he came in collision with a post; the shafts of the sieigh were broken off and the body of it badly wrecked. The runaway horse was caught by A. S. Dosei and Am-brose Bitzer, and returned to its owner. He was rather badly out about the legs. This morning a horse belouging to a far-mer named Meam, residing in Manor town-ship, got away on West King street near the Cooper house. The driver with robes, etc., was thrown from the sleigh and the horse continued out West King street. He turned into Manor street and ran out the Millers-ville turnpike, beyond the toll gate. He turned into the tavern yard of a man named Bausman and was caught after he had done but little damage.

Friday evening John Ranck and wife who reside near the Black Horse, in Paradise township, started to drive from Bareville to township, started to drive from Bareville to their home. As they passed through Gordon-ville, their horse frightened at a sied, on which several boys were riding. The animal ran into a guilly, upsetting the sleigh and throwing both occupants out. Mr. Ranck held fast to the reins and was dragged for some distance, but neither he nor his wife were badly hurt.

Mount Nebo and Vicinity

A lyceum was organized in this place on the 29th ult, with the election of the following officers: President, W. W. Parker; vice president, Jos. E. Morrison; secretary, Early Stevenson; assistant secretary, E. A. Waiton ; treasurer, Frank Conrad ; editor, F. A. Walton. The society meets every Wednesday evening. None are admitted to the meetings but those who are members. A surprise party was held at the residence of J. W. Gardner, merchant at Colemanville, for his son Eddie on last Thursday evening, th inst. Between fifty and sixty ladies and gentlemen were present from Mt. Nebo, Rawlinsville, Colemanville and Conestoga. A good time was had. Messrs. Jos. McMullen and W. T. Engles, while starting home from Gardner's store, at Colemanville, their horse became fright-ened and started home at a terrific rate, al-most demolishing the sieigh. Fortunately,

Mr. Eimer E. Pegan returned to Western Pennsylvania on last Tuesday.

The First Pair Tobogganer The Harrisburg Call says that Miss Kate Stephens was the first female to make the descent of the Harrisburg slide. A number of to bogganists appeared in proper costume and as each toboggan load started down its rapid course, those on the platform gave them a parting shout, which the tobogganers returned with interest, till the sound re-echoed from the Cumberland hill across the river. The slides were in perfect shape until the lee packed portion was ended, when the only obstacle was encountered. The snow bed is not compact enough and in consequence indiscreet persons who placed their feet along the outside were turned over and given a genuine snow bath. It was amusing, however, and appreciated.
