One drop at a time, and the river flows Into the boundless sea. One word at a time, and the greatest book Is written and is read !
One stone at a time, and the palace rears Aloft its stately head ;

One blow at a time, the tree's cleft through, and a city will stand where a forest grew A few short years before. One for at a time, and he subdued, And the conflict will be won; One grain at a time, and the sand of life

Will slowly all be run; One minute, another, the hours fly : One day at a time our lives speed by

One grain of knowledge, and that was Another and more on them.

And as time rolls on your intud will shine With many a garnered gom

Of thought and wadom And time will tell "One thing at a time, and that done well,"

In wisdom's proven rule.

Is Jay Gould Ostracterd.

From a New York Letter. "Jay Gould, with all his millions," said one of New York's most successful business men cannot buy what he most desires. He would almost give ninety per cent. of his fortune for social recognition cles and fellowship with the best business cles and fellowanip with the best business men of this city. It isn't a question of family or ancestors, and obviously it is not a question of money. Up the river at Irvington there is quite a settlement of millionaires, all active men of sifiairs, who attend regularly to business in this city. They are a sociable lot of old boys, and like to chat to other the way to said from the city. Together on the way to end from the city. Ten gether on the way to and from the city. Ten of them combined, at a suggestion of one of the colony, and made arrangements with the hudson river railroad for a special drawing-room car on the regular train, so that they equid be sure of having seats together every day and be free to talk to each other. Each paid his share of the expense and was en-titled to a certain number of seats for himself and members of his family, and altogether it and members of his family, and altogether i and members of his family, and altogether it was a very nice, sociable arrangement. They had a coach, too, at Irvington to take them from the depot to their homes. When Jay fould bought the Merritt place at Irvington he thought it would be pleasant to join his neighbors in the special car scheme. Accordingly he made a proposition to chip in and buy a section of the Wagner car. His name was put before the ten business men me more than a section of the wagner car. one morning and somebody relieved the evident constraint of the party by suggesting that the proper thing was to vote upon the proposition in the same way as members of clubs are voted for. The hat was passed, and Jay Gould was blackballed. It is not the cessary to say whether or not the vote was manimons, but he was retused admission to the special car. Mr. Gould is not a boor in manners, and he is fairly educated and certainly intelligent. But those business men have certain ideas about ways of making money, and they do not indore the methods by which Jay Gould has acquired his wealth. They would not receive as an equal a three card monte dealer, and in their eyes some forms of stock operations are no better than thimble-rigging. Mr. Gould has an ex-pensive steam yacht to take him to and from Irvivgton in sunmer, and no doubt solsces bimself with the satisfaction of making a bigger show than his neighbors. But, per-baps, he would give the Atalanta for a seat in hat special car.

WORTHLESS PLASTERS

Chartes Hueston, of No. 28 Morton street, New York city, thoughves some lites of the difference between the genuine Allcock's Porous Plasters and the sportous article I have been troubled a good deal with dyspep-sia and torpid liver, together with pains around the heart. I was recommended to try Alicock's Planters, one on the stomach and one on the side. I asked for them, but the druggist said. "Here is a plaster that is better and quicker than Alicock's," and I bought two. I applied them that night, but in two hours they bilstered me so badly I took them off. My disease was not in the slightest degree benefitted.

I then determined to get the genuine Allcock's Porous Plasters. I applied three, one on each over the heart, stomach and liver. For 38 hours I noticed nothing but a slight liching, then my appetite improved and all I ate agreed with me. The disagreeable sensations I had sround my heart disappeared.

I wore those plasters one week and then re-newed them. At the end of three weeks I found myself entirely cured of dyspepsia and liver

A Gental Restorative.

A Genial Restorative.

Hostoiter's Stomach Bitters are emphatically a genial restorative. The changes which this great botanic remedy produces in the disordered organization are always agreeably, though surely progressive, never abrupt and violent. On this account it is admirably adapted to persons of delicate constitution and adapted to persons of delicate constitution and weak nerves, to whom the powerful mineral drugs are positively injurious. That it initiates those processes which result in the re-establishment of healthful vigor is conspicuously shown in cases where it is taken to overcome that fruitful cause of debility, indigestion, outpied, as it usually is, with biliousness and constipation. Thorough digestion, regular acoustination and abundant secretion, are results which promptly and invariably attend its systematic use. It is, besides, the best protective against malaria, and a first rate directic.

HOOD'S BARSAPARILLA. Out of the Fire

Tormented with Salt Rheum-Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Only those who have suffered from sait rheum

Only those who have suffered from sait rheum n the worst form, can know the agonies caused by this dreadful disease. Hood's Sarasparilla has had remarkable success in curing sait rheum, as well as all affections of the blood.

"I owe the same gratitude to Hood's Sarasparilla that one would to his rescuer from a burning building. I was tormented with sait rheum, and had to leave off work altogether. My face, about the eyes, would be swollen and scabbed, my hands and a part of my body would be raw sores for weeks at a time, my flesh would seem so rotted that I could roll pieces from between my fingers as large as a pea. One physician called it TYPE POISON and gave me medicine accordingly; but sait rheum cannot be cured in that way, I assure you Finally I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarasparilia. It helped me so much that I took a second and third bottle, and was entirely cured. I have not been troubled with sait rheum since. I also used Hood's Olive Ointment on the places affected. It stops the burning and itching sensation immediately. I will recommend Hood's Sarasparilia not only for sait rheum, but for humors of all kinds, loss of appetite, and that all gone 'feeling se often experienced by everyone." A. D. Rossiss, Hager Street, Jamaica Plain, Mass.
