"IN THE HEART OF THE WINTER".

The air is drowsy with a tender mist,
The wind is low;
The floating clouds by the warm sunset kissed
To rosy glow,
Hold not a whisper, in their calm content,
Of winds that in white deserts make lament
Shaping for summer fair, a monument
Of drifting snow.

For summer, whom the wild north wind had wooed
With careless pride,
Fled from his cold, white arms and passion rude,
And shuddering died.
So now beneath the wood the white night long
He mourns his dead love in a dreary song,
Wading the day when he shall be ere long
Close at her side

The foolish wind! does he not feel to night
The presence fair,
The tender warmth of summer's breathing light,
Through all the air?
For though the great god Phœbus drove to day
Low in the winter heavens his fiery way;
The heralds of a coming summer gay
Are everywhere.

Once, in a golden month, I met my love;
Under a sky
Whose mellow warmth was not more fair above
When night was nigh,
Than hangs its spangled arch in winter weather,
This lovely night; below we walked together,
Remembering only that we loved each other—
My love and I.

So, as I loved her there, I loved her now,
With all my soul:
Though the glad months are buried deep in snow,
And bleak winds howl,
This happy night comes like a sweet surprise,
Sending its grace to cheer my longing eyes,
And fill my heart with sunny prophecies,
As the weeks roll.

When the wild wind shall clasp his love again,
And cease his cry;
When the tired robins through the April rain
Shall homeward fly,
When all glad things that God has made have choice
Of all others—then will we rejoice,
In twilight's gloom, to hear each other's voice—
My love and I.

—From the Presidence Journal

Does it Fill a Gap?

From the New York World.

One million dollars, the gift of J. G. Clark, to the city of Worcester for the founding of a university, is certainly a generous donation. It is very satisfactory to see a wealthy man devoting his money to the advancement of education rather than to selfish enjoyment or the corruption of politics.

But does New England really need a new university? Already within her boundaries are gathered some of the greatest educational institutions in the world. Among them are the universities of Harvard, Yale, Boston and Vermont, the colleges of Bowdoin, Trinity, Amherst, Wesleyan, Brown, Williams and Dartmouth, the Boston school of Technology and various advanced institutions for women. Every branch of scientific and literary investigation is represented in these great schools. Why then, should Worcester endeavor to build up an institution on so grand a basis as that designed for the Clark university?

If the proposed school were to be one devoting itself to some narrow and technical branch of intellectual pursuit there might be room for it. But to enter an already well filled field as a university embracing the whole realm of teachable knowledge is to repeat an error that has already given this country a great number of colleges but few great schools. Would it not have been more productive of good results to devote the $1,000,000 to strengthening some well-established institution? What New England seems to need is, not more colleges or universities, but a better equipment for those already founded.

A Girl's Great Offense.

From the Washington Critic.

A bright girl reading in the suburbs found a stray dog which she adopted and called Romulus.

"That's a funny name for a dog," said a young man to whom she told the story of the rescued wanderer.

"But very appropriate," she replied.

"Why appropriate?" he inquired.

"Because the dog was a roamin', and so was Romulus."

Pattison's Splendid Record.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The late administration sets a high standard of integrity and independence for its successor. If the new administration can come up to that standard, it will be entitled to equal or even greater praise.

A Genial Restorative.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are emphatically a genial restorative. The changes which this great botanic remedy produces in the disordered organization are always agreeable, though surely progressive, never abrupt and violent. On this account it is admirably adapted to persons of delicate constitution and weak nerves, to whom the powerful mineral drugs are positively injurious. That it infallibly effects those changes which result in the re-establishment of healthful vigor is conspicuously shown in cases where it is taken to overcome that fruitful cause of debility, indigestion, coupled, as it usually is, with biliousness and constipation. Thorough digestion, regular evacuation and abundant secretion, are results which promptly and invariably attend its systematic use. It is, besides, the best protective against malaria, and a first rate diuretic.

jan13-2t

It is said that a great many Englishmen are visiting this country this season. I asked Jinks what they came for. He said he supposed "to marry soft-pated, infotuated women, to talk the fellows out of their money, who want to be fooled, and to lay in a supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

"The greatest cure on earth for pain, Salvation Oil; take up the strain."

LEND YOUR CONSTITUTION A HAND.

Constitutions are much alike, and in nine-tenths of us the same causes produce the same effects. Vertigo, dizziness or pain of any kind, excepting that of an injury, can come only when there is in our bodies some impurity of the blood which we have not sufficient vitality to throw off without help. Therefore, the proper thing to do is to get immediately the necessary help. No aid is so effective as BRANDRETH'S PILLS. When you feel these ills coming on take from three to ten of these pills, according to your weight, and be relieved at once. Never put off the feeling by thinking you will soon be over it. Take the pills and do not rack the constitution.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

WE SUBMIT FACTS

In regard to Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for rheumatism, and ask you if you are afflicted with this disease to try the medicine which has so greatly benefited others. Hundreds of people who suffered the tortures of rheumatism, even in its severest forms, have been perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. It corrects the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and gives strength and vigor to every part of the body.

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla last spring, and can truly say it helped me very much. To those suffering with bilious complaints, nervous prostration or rheumatism, I earnestly recommend it." MRS. E. CARPENTER Kalamazoo, Mich.

"Some twenty years ago I had my right ankle dislocated, and it has been weak ever since. About ten years ago I was exposed to severe cold and came near freezing. Since then I have often been troubled with rheumatism, affecting me most in the right ankle. I suffered severely during last winter, and tried Hood's Sarsaparilla as a help. It gave me almost immediate relief, and I keep it constantly ready for use. If it does as well for others as it has done for me, it is worth many times its cost." L. T. HUNT Kenton, Ohio.
