

THE NAMELESS GUEST.
I wonder if ever the angel of death
Came down from the great unknown,
And scowled away on the wings of night,
Unburdened and alone;
I wonder if ever the angel's eyes
Are dimmed with glowing tears,
As they gazed to the wail of fight
A few more weary years.
For it seems at times, when the world is still
And the soft night winds are white,
As though some spirit were hovering near
A fatal dream-like wail:
And I feel, though mortals are nowhere near,
That I am not quite alone,
And with gloomy thoughts of dying and death
My heart grows cold as stone.
But whether 'tis death that hovers near,
And knocks at the door of my heart,
Or whether 'tis some bright angel come
To be my life a part,
I cannot tell, and I long to vain
The secret always to know.
While the moments of mirth, and grief and pain
Move on in their ceaseless flow.
And at night when I kneel to a Higher Power
And ask His tender care,
One yearning cry of prayer
Is the burden of my prayer:
That I may bond, with willing lips,
To His shining orb,
And learn the way through the golden gate
To the great white throne of God.
James Clarence Harvey.

THE STRIKES OF JANUARY.
A Full List of Them With the Success and Those That Failed.
A tabular statement of the strikes that have occurred since the 1st of January in given in the last issue of Bradstreet's, with a list of the strikes that succeeded and those that failed or were settled by compromise. The record shows that during January, 1887, 78,000 men were on strike, as against 47,200 for a like period in 1886. Adding to these 9,000 men engaged in strikes that took place during the month of February, and the 16,500 workers in factories, mills and elsewhere who are idle because of the scarcity of coal, or because of the lack of employment caused by strikes of others, the total number of industrial employes who have stopped work since January 1, looks up over 100,000. In addition there were 100,000 strikes of others. Of these, 32 have ended, 22 of them involving 3,300 men, being unconvincing, and nine of them, involving 5,700 men, having failed. About 69 January strikes, therefore, remain unsettled. Of the 21 strikes reported in February none have been settled. The greatest number of strikes in number in and about New York, where last week 50,000 men, comprising longshoremen, boatmen, grain handlers, coal handlers, bag sewers and grain elevators and weighers, on strikes, supported by the Knights of Labor organizations. It was the support given by the latter in aid of the coal handlers, who found that they were unable to maintain their demands unassisted, that gave to the strike its formidable proportions, and the movement became especially serious when to the grain and coal handlers' strike were added the coal and freight brakemen, and freight handlers of the railroads centering in New York were added. The result has been to put the ordinary consumers of coal drawing their supplies from New York to serious inconvenience, to throw out of work more than sixteen thousand employes in mills and factories for want of fuel, and to delay the sailing of steamers and other vessels plying between New York and Europe, or to Spanish American ports or other ports. That a combination of these vessels, from the inability of getting their freight handled, have been delayed in port from a week to thirteen days beyond their ordinary sailing time. That a combination of strikes of such magnitude in New York and its vicinity should, by its effects on the local trade and the internal and external commerce of that city, have done serious damage to it, is evident from a mere statement of the facts we have cited. The steamship and the railroad companies have tried all that lay within their power to lessen the injury done to them and to the trades and manufactures affected by the strike. In gathering up new men wherever they could be found to take the place of the strikers, they have at least succeeded in preventing the coal famine which at one time was feared, and in handling, through other great difficulties, considerable quantities of freight, they have given some relief. It is now said by Bradstreet's that through these efforts the strikes give every evidence of becoming a complete failure, "but the state of affairs to-day does not appear to be so promising. However, this may be, the effect of the strike is one that deeply concerns Southern and Western merchants, who cannot brook delay in the forwarding of the goods they require for the spring trade, and the Western shippers, to whom the speedy handling of their grain and provisions is a matter of prime importance. The legislative examination now in progress in New York has developed facts in relation to the coal handlers which go to show that the companies might very well afford to compromise with their hard worked men.

Trade Ahead.
When the appetite falls and sleep grows restless, indicating, that the system is probably affected. The digestive organs, when healthy, crave food, the nervous system, when vigorous and tranquil, gives its possessor no uneasiness at night, tends to be effective, sleep is sound and refreshing, appetite, not a nervous to be strengthened and soothed by the administration of a sedative or a narcotic. What is required is a medicine which invigorates the stomach, and promotes assimilation of food by the system, by which means the nervous system, as well as other parts of the physical organism are strengthened. These are the effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine whose reputation is founded on its efficacy in curing, and which physicians commend for its tonic, cathartic and other properties. It is the best result to ever and again, its use, kidney and uterine weakness, and other maladies.

Good Results in Every Case.
D. A. Bradford, wholesale paperdealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a pulmonary complaint, and his lungs had tried many remedies without benefit. He had been advised by a doctor to give up, but for consumption, did so and was entirely cured by using a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all lung troubles with best results. This is the experience of thousands of others, and is a strong evidence of its wonderful efficacy. Trial Bottles free at H. H. Cochrane's Drug Store, Nos. 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.
The greatest discovery of the nineteenth century is Dr. Leslie's Special Prescription for sick headaches, which is the discovery of an eminent physician and used by him for thirty years before giving it to the public, and it stands today without a rival. Read advertisement in another column.

An End to Bone Spasms.
Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says "Having received so much benefit from Kleiber's Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors had told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Kleiber's Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."
Kleiber's Bitters is sold in fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 50c per box by R. B. Cochrane, Druggist, Nos. 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

They are looking for you everywhere. Drains of air in unoccupied places, going from hot rooms to cool ones, carelessness in changing clothing, in short, anything that brings in "common cold" in the head. Unless arrested this kind of cold becomes seated in the mucous membrane of the head. Then it is Catarrh, in any and all its stages this disease always yields to Kieley's Cream Balm. Sale, agents, etc., per box, 10c. For sale by R. B. Cochrane, Druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

The Mystery Solved.
It has always been understood that consumption was incurable, but it has recently been discovered by the late George B. Wood, of Lancaster, that a simple Balm for the Throat and Lungs is giving a relief that is known as a cure. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure all cases of Catarrh, Hoarseness, Croup, etc. For sale by R. B. Cochrane, Druggist, No. 137 North Queen street, and get a trial bottle free of cost. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

What is Scrofula?
It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which cause painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develop ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can it Be Cured?
By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by the remarkable cure it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its forms, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Peculiar Medicine.
"I have running sores on my limbs for five years, so bad at times that I could not walk, nor sleep nights. When I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, I was in pain so severe that I cannot describe it. I had no appetite and fell away. But Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a wonderful amount of good. I have a good appetite, have gained in flesh and can sleep well. My sores are almost healed, and I can easily do a good day's work." Mrs. C. F. Lamb, Dover, N. H.

TRADE S. S. S. MARK.

About twenty years ago I discovered a little secret, and the doctors pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permanent benefit. Among the number were one or two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers telling what S. S. S. had done for others similarly afflicted. I procured some at once. Before I had used the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been bad for two or three years—had a hacking cough and spitting blood continually. I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise everyone with cancer to give S. S. S. a fair trial.
