Trance has the greatest debt of any of the million, and cannot afford to make it ---much greater before she rises to the su-preme duty she has set herself of com-manding Germany to pay it for her; as Germany commanded her.

Germany commanded her. If we do not have war in Europe this spring, then there will be a peaceful settle-ment between the nations that are strain-ing all their resources now to put their best foot foremost. They cannot stand the cost indefinitely. But who expects France IN COLUMN STREET, STRE and Germany to lie down together ?

> Another Excellent Veto. President Cleveland has again shown his fitness for the high post he occupies by his veto of the bill giving $10,000 out of the federal treasury to supply seed wheat to distribute to drought-stricken farmers in certain Texas counties.

Texas has not a dollar of debt. At the time of the passage of the bill it was stated by Senator Coke, of Texas, that the state legislature was providing measures of relief. There was no call for such a display of federal charity. It grew out of an overflowing national treasury, which seems to inspire the wasting of the contents thereof. Senator Coke showed this well when he said : "We ask no charity from Congress ; we ask no aid from the national government. We only ask to be treated as the people of other states are treated. The president deserves high commendation for his art, in conflict as it was with people of the oil region are very interested in the bill before the the votes of ten Democratic senators. And one sentence of the veto message should not be soon forgotten : " Though the peoto require a reduction in the this business and the aid of the ple support the government, the government should not support the people."

THE ground-hog seems to be doing all that he promised.

CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER, one of the most eminent litterateurs of the country, has this to say of libraries : "Few people, even intelligent home readers, know how to use a library and get at its treasures. A library (no matter how large and well selected) shut up, will, of course, have no more effect upon the life of the community than a locked ware-house full of grain would have in appeasing the hunger of the city. A collection of books is as idle ars collection of pebbles, unless they are used. And it is not enough to open the doors. It needs an intelligent corps of librarians to distribute the books-that is, to advise and assist readers, to issue builetins of information and in many ways stimulate the public to use the library. The library at Worcester, Mass., doubled its circulation and the number of its readers in a short time by ### a system of this kind."

THE Fulton Democrat is 37 years old and rejoices because in the last six years the sub scription list has increased fifty per cent.

New Yong is anxious to have an Arbo day like that of Pennsylvanis, and it is proposed to put it through this legislature. Brewer, of Yale, is quoted as re marking that there were three good reasons for an annual Arbor day in the calendar of school children. " In the first place it gives them a good bit of nature's teaching of which they are sorely in need. Then, too, it is the means of spreading wood-growing in the state. And in the third place it beautifier the country." Professor Northrop, who has done much to awaken public sentiment in favor of tree planting, is of the opinion that two days ought to be named, one for the northern and the other for the southern section of the state.

PUGILISTS usually have interesting wives. That of Patsey Cardiff snapped a pistol at her lord and master in Minneapolis the other day. This seems to have been a time when it ought to have been loaded.

GREAT a lawyer as was Samuel J. Tilden, he does not seem to have been able to write a will incapable of mis-construction. One or two of the heirs have brought suit to overthrow it, and in the New York assembly there was a warm debate over the bill to create the Tilden trust fund, to which the executors of the will propose to pay the money which the deceased desired should be devoted to the establishment of a great public library. An amend ment proposing that the act, if it should be passed, should not affect any pending litiga-tion with reference to Mr. Tilden's cetate, and that no structure for the proposed library shall be erected till after such litigation i concluded, provoked a stormy debate. THE nomination of Captain Greely to be chief signal officer with the rank of briga-dier general will be received with pleasure not only by the people who appreciate his services, but by the army who will hall it as establishing the principle that the rules of promotion are not inflatible as heretofore, and that distinguished services will be recognized. By the regular order of promotion no encouragement is given for special exer-tion and efficient and inefficient officers have the same chance, their advancement baving nothing whatever to do with their work or capacity but depending solely upon the death

Greely was a private in 1861 and a brevet major at the close of the war. Many an offi-cer has rendered valuable service in Indian apaigns as dangerous and full of hardship as any he could perform in civilized warfare, yst has never received or expected the least recognition of his services, while men who did as little as they possibly could were pro-moted by death of those before them on the army register.
