The court said its practice was not to do saything in cases of this kind until a hearing had been held efore the magistrate, and it would not be departed from in this case.

Whereas, Such an action, if true, and such suport, if false, places the church of the affed Brethren in Christ in a very false SALE OF THE KILLINGER PROPERTY Vailed Brethren in Christ in a very false light before the world,
Resolved, Tast the church of the United status in Christ has always been devoted be aution's unity and the nation's fag.
That we consider the fig of the United status as a fit and worthy decoration of the collect as and graves of the defenders of cur Union, and that no person is allowed in any matter to displace it from coffins or graves or durch during the services, and that we decidedly assert our approbation of those who excitedly assert our approbation of those who excitedly assert our approbation of those who excitedly assert our approbation of those who excited to victory and success.

A spirited discussion followed, endorsing the resolution. Bought for Mr. Bernard J. McGrann for the Sam of $12,550. The sale of the Killinger property at the County house on Saturday evening attracted big crowd. Promptly at 7 o'clock W. W. Franklin, one of the attorneys for Wm. S. Shirk, administrator, read the conditions of sale, after which Henry Shubert, the auctioneer, asked for a bid. No one responded and he then announced that he had a bld of $12,000 to start the sale from Jacob S. Shirk. He dwelt on that figure for a few minutes when R. H. Brubaker added a $100 bid. It remained at this figure for several minutes when Robert A. Evans made the figures $12,200. The auctioneer then dropped to $50 bids, and after receiving a few agreed to take $25 bids, and finally came down to $5 bids. The only bidders after Shirk's bid were Evans and Brubaker. The property was finally knocked down to Mr. Brubaker for $12,550. It was sold a few weeks ago for $11,000, but there was a dispute, two parties claiming to have made that bid. The sale was set aside by the court and this one ordered. Mr. Gerstley, who was a bidder and claimed t have bought the property at the last sale, was present, but did not put any bids on it.

It is understood that Mr. Brubaker made the purchase for Mr. B. J. McGrann. Sprained His Hack. A. F. Spencer, owner of the file works of East Walnut street, while on his way to church Sunday evening, slipped and fell upon the icy pavement. He sprained his back very badly, and was taken to his home
