

DEATH OF CHARLES BRIMMER.

Charles Brimmer, the well-known ornamental and portrait painter, died at 5 o'clock this morning at the residence of his mother, No. 148 North Prince street, aged 53 years. His death resulted from bronchitis, more commonly called "whinings," an eruptive disease of a palatal character, from which he had suffered about three weeks.

Mr. Brimmer was a son of the late Joseph Brimmer, tailor and clothier, who died about six months ago. Charles was born in this city March 5, 1833. He received his education in the public schools and on quitting school spent a short time in Eilmaker's drug store, West King street. Having a taste for drawing and ornamental painting he entered his brother Joseph's painting rooms, over Zahm's jewelry store, and rapidly acquired a knowledge of the art. He afterwards for a time worked with Charles E. Wise, painter and decorator on Duke street opposite the court house. He subsequently opened rooms of his own at Zahm's corner, a few years ago, his brother having left them. Mr. Brimmer was burned out twice while in Zahm's building. When H. Z. Rhoads' new building, West King street, was finished he removed his studio into it. Afterwards he removed into Samuel Demutt's building corner of West King and Prince streets. Here he met with terrible affliction. While at work, on the 21st of June, 1885, he was stricken with paralysis, his entire right side being affected. From this stroke he never recovered, though for a time he was able to walk without a cane and to write with his right hand but his energy was so much impaired that he was unable to do the work of an artist, and that he succeeded in showing by the many fine crayons and other pictures executed by him with the left hand. About three months ago he was afflicted with a severe attack of bronchitis, which was followed by a fatal pneumonia, which he died of on the 28th of February, in Elizabethtown, Pa., after a lingering illness, Mary Ann Engle, wife of Levi L. Engle, peacefully to her rest.

The time of Mr. Brimmer's funeral will not be announced until the arrival of his brother from the West.

Death of Mary Ann Engle. On the 28th of February, in Elizabethtown, Pa., after a lingering illness, Mary Ann Engle, wife of Levi L. Engle, peacefully to her rest.

The deceased was a daughter of Henry Horst, of Conoy township, this county, and was the wife of Levi L. Engle, a well-known and respected citizen of this county. She was a devoted wife and affectionate mother, kind, benevolent and generous in her intercourse with her neighbors and friends, always manifesting a Christian spirit. She was a member of the Reformed church of this county, and for many years a teacher in the Sunday school, faith and devoted to her duties in the church and Sunday school; even when disease had so preyed on her system that she could scarcely go out, she was at her post, like a true saint. The church and Sunday school, as well as her devoted husband, deeply feel the loss they have sustained.

Funeral of an Old Woman. The funeral of Rosanna Lovan, the old woman whose death was referred to in the INTELLIGENCER on Tuesday, took place today. The body was taken to Rawlinsville, where it was interred in a very dignified manner. Her exact age, but she was certainly over 100 years old.

A MIDDLETON BURIAL. The Romantic Marriage Golden by a Recent Philadelphia Golden Wedding. The Philadelphia Ledger of Feb. 22 contains the following notice of a golden wedding, which has interest for Lancasterians because of the fact that two of the guests, Nathan Middleton, of this city, and the parents of W. B. Middleton, our well-known townswoman:

UPBRINGING THE WIDOW.

A Lancaster Widow Prepares Marriage, But Breaks the Contract. From the Mansfield (Ohio) Herald. S. H. Martin, a fifty-year-old Lutharian, came to the city about one month ago. He is fifty years old, if that, and he has a grown-up family from Lancaster, Pennsylvania. He procured a situation with a city firm as local agent. He procured board on Third street, and started to work. He put in his time, ten hours per day, regularly, but did not drum up much business. The firm soon found out that he was a local agent, and that he was spending his time in visiting widows; in fact the gay and festive widower had several widows on the string. He was bounced and left the city abruptly without paying his board bill. Last Monday, a respectable widow lady who lives in John's Addition, called at the office of the firm and inquired for Martin. She was told that he had left the city. Thereupon her wrath knew no bounds. She said that Martin called at her house several times, and finally proposed marriage, and was accepted. The wedding day was made and the ceremony was to have taken place this week. Martin went from here to Massillon.

Ernest President of a University. Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, formerly professor of Latin and Greek in Franklin and Marshall college, and for ten years principal of the Kutztown State Normal school, has been elected president of Wichita University, an institution recently founded by the Reformed church, at Wichita, Kansas. It is thought that he will accept the position. Dr. Schaeffer is known as one of the best Normal school men of the state. He took charge of the Kutztown Normal school when it had few students and little income and made it one of the largest schools of kind in the State. He is a man of high character, as his native ability and scholarship will enable him to fill his new position in a way that few men of the Reformed church could. The trustees at Wichita have shown good judgment in giving this new institution so complete and capable a head. It will be hard for the Normal school, over which he presides, to find a successor who will be able to take his place.
