"Hush! hush!" orice the old birds; "you foo ish young thing.
To wake up and sing for the moon!
Towns, tesk your silly head under your wing; You'll rouse our good neighbors too soon."

But the little bird flow to the top of the tree, And looked up into the sky. "Our time for singing is short," quoth he, "And sing in the night will I." -James Buckham, Scranton social circles have been in a whiri all day over the hasty departure from town of William H. Swan, a Western Union operator at the tolographer's deak in the office of the Soranton Republican. Swan for some months past had been engaged in the conquest of hearts among the young ladies of society, and made such an impression by his fine appearance and intelligent manners that his progrem was rapid and he soon announced among his friends that he would be married in May to the daughter of a leading citisen and coal operator.

To strengthen his position is social circles he professes religion at a recent church revival and attached himself as a probationer to Adams Avenue Eschodist church, and at once became a most active worker in its weekly social gatherings and suppers, neglecting his work in order to attend them and be in the presence of his reported affisuced and her friends. On the strength of his supposed engagement he borrowed money from the best business men wherever possibla, promising to settle when he married, and with these prospects before him he bought without stint from all who would give him oredit.

The young woman's father heard of the af-and with these prospects before him he bought without stint from all who would give him credit.

The young woman's father heard of the affair, and, not being favorably impressed with fiwan, put an end to proceedings by causing his arrest Friday evening and compelling him to disgorge all correspondence he had received from her and giving him to understand that the affair must come to an end. Almost simultaneously with this came the announcement that Swan had been married twice, his first wife being dead and the second living at Eikhart, Indiana, where she has charge of the telegraph office, but who recently obtained a divorce because of his neglect and non-support of herself and children. At Milwaukee and Buffalo he became engaged to a respectable young woman but was prevented from marrying by his wife turning up and exposing him at an opportune moment.

She is reported to have taken a prominent wife turning up and exposing him at an opportune moment.

She is reported to have taken a prominent part in his hasty leave of Stranton, having learned of his whereabouts and actions by the use of the telegraph wires. The Republican denounces Swan as "an ununitigated scoundrel, a dead beat and plous fraud." Heports were circulated that Swan was married to the young Scranton lady four weeks ago at Binghamton, but this is flatly contradicted by her father, who has obtained possession of all circumstances connecting the young couple. The young lady is not at home at present, her whereabouts being known only to her family.

Congressman Bayne's Wife.

From the Pittsburg Leader. A medest and unassuming woman is the wile of Congressman "Tom" Bayne, of Allegheny City. She has from $200,000 to $400,000 in her own right. She has a wonder-$400,000 in her own right. She has a wonderful country house at Bellevue, a few miles down the Ohio. It is perfectly round in shape and has some remarkably odd rooms. A round hall in the centre, following closely the lines of the house, is lighted by a skylight. Mrs. Bayne never forgets old acquaintances. It is said that she recently astonished capital society by chaperoning a rural party through the department buildings and the galleries of the Senate and House. Mrs. Bayne's friends were poorly attired, yet they found a hearty welcome from the wealthy congressman's wife. She had once boarded with them in their simple mountain home in Pennsylvania.

The Western Sattler's Chosen Specific With every alvance of emigration into the far West, a new demand is created for Hoatetter's stomach Bitters. Newly peopled regions are frequently less salubrious than older settled localities, on account of the missma which arises from recently cleared land, particularly slong the banks of rivers that are subject to freshets. The agricultural or integral emigran soon learns, when he does not already know, that the litters afford the only sure protection against malaria, and those disorders of the stom-ach, liver and bowels, to which climate changes, exp-sure, and unaccustomed or unhealthy water or diet subject him. Consequently he places an estimate upon this great household specific and preventive commensurate with its latrinsic merits, and is careful to keep on hand a restorative and promoter of health so implicitly to be relied upon in time of need. maril-is

The Same Human Nature.

Many vain attempts are made to repeat the remarkable success of Benson's Capcine Plaster. This splendid remedy is known, sold and used everywhere, and its prompt action and unrivalied curative powers have won for it hosts of friends. Imitations have sprung up under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicin," "Capsicum," etc., intended to deceive the careless and unwary. These articles possess none of the virtues of the genuine. Therefore we hope the people will assist us to protect what are at once their interests and ours. Ask for Benson's Plaster, and examine what is given you, and make sure that the word "Capcine" is cut in the middle of the plaster itself, and the "Three Scalis" trademark is on the face cloth. Any reputable dealer will show you the safe guards without hesitation: If you cannot remember the name—Benson's Capcine Plaster—cut this paragraph from the paper.

and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her freet was a mass of decay, masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers festered and and three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration, and for sev-ral years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 125 to 89 hs. Ferhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or ointment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this lines: Wolf, and commended the sufferer to her all-wise Greator. Her hashand hearing wonderful reports of the use of Swirr's Spacific (S. S. S.), prevailed on her to try it as a last resort. She becan its use under proteat, but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison, as the sores assumed a red and healthy color, as though the blood was becoming pure and active. Mrs. Salley continued the S. S. until last February; every sore was healed: she discarded chair and crutches, and was for the first time in it years a well woman. Her husband, Mr. C. A. Balley, is in business at 11½ Blackstone Street, Boston, and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure. Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.
