-STEAM-

WORKS.

Four years ago, as an experiment, we put up a small machine for cleaning carpets by steam power instead of hand-beating. Each year since we have been compelled to enlarge our works, put in additional machinery of the latest improvements, and we this season have a plant second to none in the State, and with a capacity for cleaning over 5,000 yards per day.

This addition of new machinery was necessitated by our rapidly increasing business each year. All this is the result of doing what we promised when we started. That is returning carpets the same day without regard to weather, and returning them thoroughly clean—a thing that cannot be done by the old plan of beating carpets by hand. We have cleaned many carpets sent to us from Harrisburg, York, Columbia, Lebanon, etc.

All we ask is a trial, feeling sure when once tried you will never have a carpet beaten by hand again. The steam-power c suing has rapidly grown in the larger cities, Philadelphia having no less than fifteen different carpet-cleaning works.

As usual, with every new thing interested (?) persons have circulated reports to the effect that carpets are torn, spoiled or shrunk by the steam, &c. In reply, we will say such is not the case; that if we tear your carpets anywhere we will give you a new one of the same quality. As far as the steam spoiling and shrinking, that is snother "fairy tale," as the steam does not touch the carpet, merely drives the machinery.

In the last four years we have cleaned thousands of yards of earpet, and have torn but one, and that by carelessness of an employe. It was an old one and the owner received a new one in its stead.

Customers are always welcome to in-spect the machinery and see how the cleaning is done. You can see at a glance that the carpets are in no way injured. We are owners of the patent process of cleaning carpets without removing from the floor—a very good thing in its way, but we always advise taking up the carpets if at all possible. This is the only proper way to do where it can be done; where it cannot be done, the other is a good substitute.

The machinery for beating carpets simply removes the dust and dirt and brightens the colors. For removing rak, grease or stains from carpets we have another process, which is perfect in its work and will thoroughly remove all traces of soil, and will restore colors as bright as

Our prices are but little more, if any, than hand-beating, and you are sure of having it done right, and when promised, rain or no rain. Not only are the moth removed from the carpet, but they are not likely to attack it for a year or so to come. come.

We have no connection with any other cariet cleaning works. Be sure your orders get at the right place. Works—Gable's Building, corner Church and Duke Leave orders at
