He advertised for such a man but did not succeed in getting one, as he asked the parties to put up $25 as security which they did not reel life doing without some security from Coleman. Last week he can vassed the town for man. Last week he canvassed the town for an advertising scheme of his own. He had a very pretty plush album and in it had a num-ber of fancy pictures of females, &c. Above and below the pictures he put in adver-tisements and charged 25 cents for each card. He caught a number of people with this petty thing, many of whom would refuse to advertise in a legitimate way, but did not succeed in filling his book. On Friday night he managed to allp from his room in the City hotel and succeeded in getting away without paying his board bill. Coleman is a man of short stature and about 40 years of age. He has a large and very prominent pose and was fairly well dressed.

The People's National Sank The People's National bank opened its doors to business this morning under the most gratifying auspices. When a reporter of the INTELLIGENCER poked his head into the bank's handsome quarters at No. 152 East King street this afternoon, Cashier Blaymaker smilingly informed him that the deposits already ranged in the thousands. The appointments of the room in which the bank is located are first-class and will be ample until the occuparcy of the handsome building that is soon to be erected on the site of the Killinger property, on the other side of the street.

-STEAM-

WORKS.

Four years ago, as an experiment, we put up a small machine for cleaning carpets by steam power instead of hand-bearing. Each year sluce we have been compelled to enlarge our works, put in additional machinery of the latest improvements, and we this season have a plant second to none in the State, and with a capacity for cleaning over 5,000 yards per day.

This addition of new machinery was necessitated by our rapidly increasing business each year. All this is the result of doing what we promised when we started. That is returning carpets the same day without regard to weather, and returning them thoroughly clean—a thing that cannot be done by the old plan of beating carpets by hand. We have cleaned many carpets sent to us from Harrisburg, York, Columbia, Lebanou, etc.

All we ask is a trial, feeling sure when once tried you will never have a carpet beaten by hand again. The steam-power ceaning he rapidly grown in the larger cities, Philadelphia having no less than fitteen different carpet-cleaning works.

As usual, with every new thing inter-cated (f) persons have circulated reports to the effect that carpets are tora, spoiled or shrunk by the steam, &c. In reply, we will say such is not the case; that if we tear your carpets anywhere we will give you a new one of the same quality. As far as the steam spoiling and shrink-ing, that is another "fairy tale," as the steam does not touch the carpet, merely drives the machinery. In the last four years we have cleaned thousands of yards of carpet, and have torn but one, and that by carelessness of an employe. It was an old one and the owner received a new one in its stead.

Customers are always welcome to in-spect the machinery and see how the cleaning is done. You can see at a glance that the carpets are in no way injured.

We are owners of the patent process of cleaning carpets without removing from the floor—a very good thing in its way, but we always advise taking up the car-pets if at all possible. This is the only proper way to do where it can be done; where it cannot be done, the other is a good substitute. The machinery for beating carpets simply removes the dust and dirt and brightens the colors. For removing ink, grease or stains from carpets we have another process, which is perfect in its work and will thoroughly remove all traces of sull, and will restore colors as bright as new.

Our prices are but little more, if any, than hand-beating, and you are sure of having it done right, and when promised, rain or no rain. Not only are the moth removed from gbe carpet, but they are not likely to attack it for a year or so to come. come.

We have no connection with any other carpet cleaning works. Be sure your orders get at the right place. Works—Gable's Building, corner Church and Duke Luave orders at
