Down With the Wires.
The storm of Monday night the telephone connections of our city with the rest of the world were cut off by the wires were completely wrecked, and for the first time in the history of the city the city was in peril of fire, and the dangers of death by the powerful current of the electric light wires. Wires encumbered the streets and side walks and that were not suits for damage pending against the companies for injury caused by wires is simply owing to their good luck. The telephone company have had experience of this kind and should not need repeatedly. In self-protection, all the companies using electric wires, whether for light, telegraph or light service, should take their influence to secure a system of underground wire conduits for the city of Lancaster. In self-protection, as a measure of public safety, there should be an urgent popular demand that the wires be put underground.

What Next?
The very respectable and influential meeting of our representative citizens, who assembled in the Board of Trade rooms to discuss the proposed new charter for the city, very emphatically expressed their disapproval of it and unmistakably called on their representatives in the legislature to prevent its passage. The best that could be said for the proposed bill by its advocates was that it has some good things scattered among its crudities and more defects than merits. There should be no mistake about its defeat. To undertake to send it into shape would be very like trying to mend the dog by cutting off his tail close to the end.

Why the Emperor is Honored.
The hearty and popular character of the demonstrations in Berlin, in honor of Emperor William, prompts the question whether there is so great a difference between the rule of czar and kaiser, and that which should merit the hate and the other the love of the people. That Germany has a constitutional government is no fault of the emperor, and it is not for their narrow view that the people thank him. That Germany has been united and made the strongest power in the Old World to-day is due to the policy of many statesmen, and most of all to the policy of the emperor. It is not for the sake of the emperor that the people thank him. It is for the sake of the policy which he has followed, and which has made his people a strong government.

Should the Brooks High License Bill become a law, Philadelphia would derive an estimated revenue from the sale of liquor of over $500,000, while the revenue to the state would be over $200,000 more than the entire amount now paid.

Personal.
AARON S. SWARTZ is being actively urged for national law judge of Montgomery county.
DANIEL DOUGHERTY, in speaking for Clary in New York, remarked that he never recalled the name of the man who was his great namesake. He is as well as his great namesake.
LINCOLN L. EYRE, of Philadelphia, in a recent lecture recited the words of fashion for what he deemed to be shallowness and hardness of heart. There was a great rattling of Quaker City dry bones.
GEORGE GOLD has settled into a great rattling state of domesticity since his marriage with the actress, who married on Tuesday at his home. His one aim now is said to be to rival his father's success.
JOHN A. LOGAN, only son of the late Illinois senator, was married on Tuesday at Youngstown, Ohio, to Miss Edith Andrews, daughter of H. H. Andrews, the Standard Oil company millionaire. The bridegroom is going to Florida, when they will return in a month, as Mr. Logan will engage in business with his father-in-law. The wedding presents aggregated over $100,000 in value. The father of the bride giving $50,000. Mr.
Andrews presented the couple with $50,000 in bonds. Mrs. Logan's present was a set of 100 pieces of cut glass.

Oppose Deceased Representation—Memorial Services for the Dead.
At Tuesday's session of the Philadelphia annual Methodist conference, Rev. J. J.
McConnell, of a committee appointed at the last conference on the subject of sustentation, reported a revised constitution, which presented the name of the board having charge of the sustentation as the "Board of Sustentation," the words "Home Missions" being stricken out, and that no charge receiving $500 shall receive aid from the board. A motion to make the limit $700 and to have the board receive aid from the conference, so as to make it read: "The general conference shall not allow of more than one minister representative for every forty-five members who are prime movers, nor allow of a less number than one for every 75, nor more than two lay delegates for any annual conference, provided, nevertheless, that when there shall be an annual conference a fraction of two-thirds the number which shall be fixed for the ratio of representation, such annual conference shall be entitled to an additional delegate for each fraction, and provided also, that no annual conference shall be denied the privilege of one minister and one lay delegate." It was non-concurred in.

The annual memorial service was held at 10 A. M. The Rev. Isaac R. Merrill presided.
Memorial services and addresses were considered, and the following names were read who had died during the conference year were read, as follows:
The Rev. Daniel R. Gillinham, Minister of the First Church, who died January 20, at Washington, D. C., prepared by the Rev. L. R. Hughes; memoir of Rev. Joseph C. Gregg, who died January 12, at Lancaster, prepared by Rev. W. W.
Bickley; memoir of Rev. William Cooper, D. D., who died in Philadelphia, February 19, prepared by Rev. J. S. J. McConnell; memoir of Rev. John C. Gregg, who died in Washington, D. C., September 25, prepared by Rev. Jerome Lindquist; memoir of Mrs.
Elizabeth Wiggins, wife of Rev. William Wiggins, who died July 24, prepared by Rev. W. C. Webb; memoir of Mrs. Mary F. Bailey, wife of the Rev. J. R. Bailey, who died January 27, prepared by Rev. William Fowler. It was directed that a memoir of the wife of the Rev. A. J. Anthony, who died a few days ago, be published in the next issue.

A Point-Blank Statesman.
From the Washington Star.
Judge Thurman belongs to the school of statesmen who are prime movers with inquiring newspaper men. He does not try to be funny, or cock his head to one side and assume an air of mystery, or utter oracular ridiculous, or declare point-blank that he will not be interviewed. He answers his inquirers full in the face and says: "No, I am not an here to ask for an office or to accept one."

The Reason Why.
From the Atlanta Constitution.
It is said of Mrs. Cleveland that all styles and all ornaments suit her. She is simply a beautiful and lovable woman. The country is proud of her.

A Costly Capitol.
The state of Texas is building a $5,000,000 state house of native granite and marble, and the legislature has just voted $100,000 to furnish the structure.

The Successful Man.
From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.
It is the man with the pig eyes, the mule tail, the big mouth and the wart on his nose, that moves the world.

Size of Wild Western Snow Flakes.
From Puck.
The snow-flakes in Montana are said to be so large that four of them will make good slighting.

Medical.
ATHLOPHOROS FOR RHEUMATISM.
IT IS WONDERFUL.
How easily rheumatism begins, and how instantly it grows in the system, until one is started to find himself the victim of the acute or chronic form. He then learns the fatal tenacity of the grip and the utter powerlessness of the ordinary remedies to give relief.
Probably no disease have physicians given more study, and none has more completely defied their efforts to provide a specific; and until Athlophoros was discovered there was no medicine which would surely cure rheumatism, neuritis and nervous or sick headache. Thousands of testimonies like the following prove beyond question that Athlophoros is the only reliable remedy, and that it will do all that it claims for it.
