This is an indictable whether the box is opened or not. Let the boys when sent to the postoffice keep their keys out of all key-holes except their own and thus avoid trouble.

Blight Fire To-Day

Shortly before noon to-day a fire alarm was struck from box 42, at Lemon and Mulberry streets. The cause for it was a slight fire in a frame kitchen of a house, at No. 531 North Mulberry street, which is owned by William D. Sprecherand occupied by Charles Witmer. The kitchen had a slate root, but the fire was under the slate and it was dis-covered by Patrick Burns. Buckets of water were procured, and the fire was extinguished after considerable of a hole had been burned in the roof. The fireman were on hand in a short time, but they did not put on any water. The damage will be about $10 to the building. are was no fire in the house at the time, as th Witmer and his wife were away from home. John Hiemenz has removed his aboe store from the Inquirer building to the large room in the Diffenderfer building, a few doors north of his old location. His store room is the one occupied for many years by Phares W. Fry, as a paper store. He has fitted it up handsomely and now has one of the finest stores in the city. The Lancaster shoe factory, run by his brother, occupies the upper rooms of the same building, and Mr. Hiemenz is the sole agent in this city for the Lancaster shoe, by retail. In addition to this brand of shoe, all the standard makes of the country may be found. Mr. Hiemenz was obliged to occupy slarger room to meet his increased trade, and he now has all the facilities to do a large business, and with his long experience knows what the people of Lancaster want in his line and will furnish it to them.

One of our triends lately returned from France gives the eulogious report on the estate of Messrs. Bouched is & Co. at Marseuli-sur-ay; this includes a remarkable piece of property named "Les goisses," which can be shown to any foreigner traveling through France, as an illustration of the ideal accomplishment of a Champagne vine-yard.
