ATTRUTION TO CHILDREN Lecture by Dr. Win. H. Atkingon at the Medica

Wm. B. Atkinson, M. D., delivered a very instructive lecture on the "Need of Atlention to Children" Thursday evening in the lec ture room of the Medico-Chirurgical coilege, Philadelphia. He spoke particularly of the necessity of carefully watching the habits of youth and guarding against bad associates of the evils of dime povels and cheap litera ture of the trashy kind; of the care which should be exercised in getting proper nurses and attendants, avoiding the ones who are in the habit of teiling children horrible stories, as there is nothing more to be deprecated than the habit of managing children by scar-ing them. "Sleep, to be of value," he said, "should be undisturbed," and he considered the bygiene of a child's eleeping room to be one of the most important of matters.

All extremes should be avoided and every All extremes should be avoided and every safeguard should be used to keep powerful medicines as well as fire out of reach of the little ones. A child often evinces symptoms of illness, occasioned by indigestion: and rest, abstinence from improper food and a careful tepid bath are frequently speedily followed by relief. If relief does not, however, immediately follow, a physician should at once be consulted.

"Avoid," he said, "the use of all forms of medicine of which you do not know the composition." He spoke severely against the practice of pushing the little ones ahead too last in their studies, and of getting children out of the way by sending them to school, "A child's brain," he said, "cannot stand being overburdened, and it is a good thing in this regard to follow the advice in the old phrase, 'make haste alowly.'"

A Life Made Miserable

By dyspepsia is scarcely worth the living. A capricious appetite, heartburn, puzzling nerv-ous symptoms, increased action of the heart after cating, sinking in the abdomen between after cating, sinking in the abdomen between meals and flatulence after, are among the successive indicis of this harassing complaint. Two things only are needful for its removal. A resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and persistence in its use. These remedial measures being adopted, a cure is certain. Taken immediately before or after meals, this great stomached promotes secretion of the gastric juice, the natural solvent of the food. The nervous and billous symptoms consequent upon chronic indigestion disappear, as the complaint gradually yields to the corrective and invigorating influence of the Bitters. Appatite returns, sleep becomes more refreshing, and, as a sequence, the body is efficiently nourished, muscular power increases, and the mind grows sanguine. Use the Bitters for chills and fover, and rheumatism.

DR I H. ALDAY says: "I found 'Digestylin' excellent and efficacious for Indigestion and Dyspepsia. I am using it in my immediate family." Sold by all druggle's, $1.00 per bottle, or W. F. Kidder & Co., Manufacturing Chemists, 83 John

The torturing disease neuralgia is instantly relieved and rapidly oured by Salvation Oil. Rev. Wm. II. Chapman pastor of M. E. Church, Georgetown, D. show that their policy has been wise as well as right.

Experience has amply demonstrated that more outward applications are worthless. The disease has its seat in the blood, and any remedy to be successful must deal with the obstructive seld which poteons and inflames it.

Athlophores a to on the blood, muscles had joints directly. It takes the poison out of the blood and carries it out of the system; it invigorates the action of the muscles and limbers the stiffness of the joints. It reaches the 'liver and hidneys, cleaneing 'them from irritating substances, and, if followed up after the rheumbits conditions cease, it will restore these organs to regularity and health.

Wmsr Chart, N. Y., Aug. 19, 1806.
