A Sad Death. A sad death occurred in the Broad street station, Philadelphia, Monday about noon when Miss Lizzie Martin, daughter of the late Dr. John Martin, of Georgetown, breathed her last. The family have been residing in Philadelphia for some time and Lizzle had been afflicted with consumption. It was her earnest wish to return to Lancaster county, and she was to have been brought to Chris-tians on the fast line Monday. Just as she was being put upon the train she died in the presence of her sister. The sad scene was witnessed by hundreds of people, and there were few dry eyes in the crowd. De-ceased was 24 years old and will be buried at

Married by a New Alderman, The first parties doing business with Alderman Hershey after the opening of his new office on Monday, were a smiling couple from the country. They found their way to the office in the afternoon. They entered blushing like a pair of hollyhocks in full bloom. They at once stated that they wanted to be united in marriage. This startled the new alderman somewhat, as he did not expect anything of the kind so early. He quickly recovered, however, and asked the couple for their license. The groom with a broad smile drew the paper with Mart Keiler's signature from his pocket. The squire at once pro-ceeded to make the two one and the knot was tied. Without further ceremony the couple left the office happy for the present, Alderman Barr Sues the County. Alderman Barr on Wednesday presented a bill to the county solicitor for $79.35 for disposed of since January 1st, in all of which cases the defendants were committed. The solicitor approved the bill, but when presented to the commissioners they declined to approve it, on account of the rule adopted some time ago, requiring all bills to lay over thirty days. The alderman demanded his bill back, and at once brought suit against the county before Alderman Fordney. The object of the suit is to ascertain whether the county commissioners can legally refuse to pay a bill after it has the approval of the solicitor. The alderman also claims, and it is the fact, that as the constables' bills for the same cases were paid on presentation, his should also have been paid.

This was a question which came to our minds to day relative to a successful business man of this city as his new delivery wagon passed by, which attracted our attention from the style of its construction; it was built by Mr. Killian for Mr. Grabill, the well known, original and only cash grocer of this city. The question was, "Was it luck that enabled Mr. Grabill to build up the only cash grocery trade in Lancaster, and that one, one of the largest in his line?" The answer was, "No, it was simply snap, low prices, accommodation and square dealing." The success of the Cash Grocery, Duke and Vine, has been a constant marvel ever since it was opened in the spring of 1880. It has a trade paculiarly its own, and reaches the cash paying people in every part of the city.

Very lew people, even among those who depreciate the quality and fineness of the genuine French Champagne wines, have a correct idea of the extreme care and solicitude with which the vineyards are kept in the district of Champagne, which undoubtedly is one of the richest and best cultivated parts of the world. One of our triends lately returned from France gives the eulogious report on the estate of Messrs. Bouchedis & Co. at Marsentil-sur-ay; this includes a remarkable piece of property named "Les goisses," which can be shown to any foreigner traveling through France, as an illustration of the ideal accomplishment of a Champagne vineyard, "Situated on a hillslope," says our friend, "with the beams of the sun freely lavishing from dawa to sunset their beneficial warmth A CHAMPAGNE VINEYARD. from dawn to sunset their beneficial warmth on 1, this vineyard seems to cumulate all the qualities required for the production of perthe qualities required for the production of per-fect grapes. Its surfaces soil gives the fruit the fineness and bouquet, while the heat of the sun is counterbalanced by the freshness constantly drawn up from the lower ground by a network of roots, which spread themselves in a bed of chalk." There is a great deal of this product in the Bouche Sec Champagne, which explains its peculiar fineness and aroma so much removed among the connoisseurs: but amateurs desirous el obtaining the wine coming from the "vols-sor" exists only would have to ask for the lead sos" estate only would have to ask tor the liou the Sec Exira.
