The animal was struck with a car link and was left laying along the tracks until the afternoon when it was sho by W. A. Heilig. An Unprovoked Attack.

George Huber, living on Beaver street near Hazel, was brutally assaulted as he was on his road home on Saturday night. When he reached the corner of Andrew and South Queen streets he was struck with a brick thrown by William Saylor and while he was on the pavement, where he fell when struck, Saylor brutally kicked him several times. Mr. Huber was a witness against Saylor some time ago and Saylor threatened to get square with him some day and he took the above method to wreak his vengeance. Saylor akipped out of town on Saturday night but will no doubt return in a short time.

A number of complaints have been made before Alderman Barr by G. F. Sprenger, Fred Engle and George A. Kiehl. These gentlemen have been engaged in the bottling business for several years and in that time have lost many hundreds of bottles. They finally concluded to look up their bottless and pressents for leaveny those bottles and prosecute for larceny those dealers in whose possession they were. The cases were put in the hands of Officers Leman, Weaver and Barnhold and they found a large number of the missing bottles. At the bottling establishment of Max Marx, 179 bottles were found; at Charles Zech's, 233 bottles; at John Hain's 50 botties; at A. Fleckenstein's, Columbia, 20 boxes and 58 bottles, and at Christ Metager's a large lot of bottles, 38 of which had the trade-mark changed.

Suits were entered against the above named parties, and the hearings will be had some time next week. All of the above claim that the bottles came into their possession from the parties to whom the beer was delivered, and f they got some bottles that did not belong to them, they were in piace of their own bot tles which had been taken by other dealers.

STATESMAN LANDIS WAS TREED. Gloomy Attempt of the Auti-Corruption Association at Straeburg.

The members of the anti-Corruption society of this county have been busy for some time past informing the people that a meeting, under their suspices, would be held in Massasoit hall, Strasburg, on last Saturday evening. It seems, however, that the people of that old borough do not take much stock in the reformers. When Saturday night came it was found that the people had not turned up. Statesman John H. Landis, of Manor, was present, but when he saw that he was the only one there, he concluded to cancel his engagement. The lights were quickly turned out and Mr. Landis returned to his home a sorrowful man. Strasburg has a number o very "fly" politicians, who do not have any particular liking for Landis or his society, and they all seemed very glad that the attempt to get up a meeting was such a disastrous failure. To day they are telling the story with broad grins on their faces.

A Pretty Cigar Store.

Jos. M. Portuondo & Co., of Philadelphia, have opened a branch store at No. 132 North Queen street for the sale of cigars, cigarettes, snuffs and tobaccos. The rooms have been fitted up especially for their use. The front has been remodeled and consists principally of fine plate glass and a handsome cornice supported on ornamented columns. Inside there are rows of plate glass mirrors extending across the north and west sides of the salesroom. There are fine glass cases on the counters and upright cases against the walls in which to store the large stock of goods on hand. In rear of the salesroom is a cosy sitting room, separated from the salesroom by a panelled partition and a row of mirrors surmounted by carved and turned open woodwork extending to the ceiling and to be finished in black and gold. The walls and ceilings are very handsomely painted and papered, and taken all in all the place is one of the handsomest stores of its kind in Lancaster.
