On Treeday atternoon a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Forth Flick and child, Mr. and Mrs. Address Forthlinger and Mr. Joseph Roths, M. W. Levis, hired a 'bus from the livery stable of Bamuel Campbell for the purpose of going to Lancaster to attend the wedding anniversary of Mr. Flick's daugh ter. After spending the evening at that city, the party started for home about one o'clock this morning. They had reached some distunce beyond Hambright's hotel when the driver attempted to leave the pike and go driver attempted to leave the pike and go on the summer road. The embankment is very steep at this place, causing the 'bus to spect. Mr. Flick was sitting on the seat with the driver, and was thrown with great force to the ground, striking his head on a se, received a severe gash. He quickly rap to the back, which was lying on its side. and helped the occupants from their perilous tions. Fortunately the horses were not rightened, but remained standing. The party were taken to a house near by and Dr. Shenk, of Rohrerstown, summoned. The injuries of Mr. Flick consist of a terrible gash a the left side of his head, which was bleeding profusely. Mr. Roths has a severe gash on his forehead and it was supposed these were the only results of the accident. The ne at 7 o'clock this morning party came home at 7 o'clock this morning when Dr. Markel was summoned. Upon Gramination it was found that Mrs. Flick had or right arm broken at the wrist, which was aded to by Dr. Markel. Mr. Flick interviewed this morning and gave above particulars. Charles Camp-, son of Samuel Campbell, was stioned about the affair, but could not give any particulars. He stated that the The Conference Convener

ON THE WHESLS. A Party of Bicycle Riders Who are Es Route to Stanaton, Virginia. . . The party of bicycle riders who are on their way by wheel to Staunton, Virginia, arrived in Lancaster at 1 o'clock this afternoon. They started from Philadelphia Tuesday morning and reached Coatesville last evening. They were met by the members of the club of that morning, accompanied by several Coatesville riders, they set out for Laucaster. At Witmer's Bridge they were met by five members of the Lancaster Bicycle Touring club, who ex-corted them to the Stevens house, where many more of the home riders joined them. About forty persons took dinner there. This afternoon the strangers, accompanied by many members of the Lancaster club, started for York, where a ball and banquet will be held to-night. Samuel B. Downey, of this city, acted as road master from Lancaster York. The tourists will go from York to Gettysburg, and thence to Waynesboro, Pa Hagerstown, Md., and down the Shenandoah Valley to Staunton. Here the party will break up, and some will go to St. Louis to attend the National meeting of wheelmen. Others will return to their homes by rail.

The party that came through from Philadelphia was much smaller than it was expected to be. The following were included in it: N. L. Collamer, Washington, D. C. B. Mitchell, E. L. Russel, W. H. Kirk, H. Barnes, A. W. Barnett, W. W. Randall R. L. Shaeffer, Philadelphia; S. F. Craw-ford, Kankakee, Illinois, and E. H. Ross, Wellsboro. The party is under the marsha ship of N. L. Collamer, and they expect to

CHARUES AT YEATES INSTITUTE. Head Master Hardy and Amistant Jones to

Rev. Lucius M. Hardy, head master of the Yea'es institute, has accepted the position of head master of St. Paul's school at Salem, N. Y. His many friends in Lancaster, won riad to learn that besides a considerable in rease of salary Mr. Hardy is thus promoted to the control of a boarding school of high standing, having four male instructors under him and a roll of thirty-five scholars, that being the fixed limit of the school. Mr. kind, but had become so attached to our city and the school that he refused them all Under him the Yeates institute has acquired a reputation that will be no easy task to naintain, and its patrone wrust fegret the loss of a thorough and conscientious teacher.

Mr. Wm. Jones, the assistant teacher, has also secured a desirable situation in a school at Stamford, Connecticut, and his loss will be much regretted both socially, and in the school, where he has proved a most efficient instructor.

Missionery Meeting in the College Changl. Last evening the last missionary meeting for this college year was held in the chapel. Rev. Dr. E. V. Gerhart presided, and conducted the opening exercises, after which Rev. A. C. Whitmer, superintendent of the church, made an able address in which be detailed the special needs of the church in the missionary field, dwelling on the fact that the church needs many able and vigorous men to go out into the western part of our country. Then Mr. Aumen, of the seminary, after which Rev. C. F. McCauley, D. D., of Carlisie, was introduced who made one of the blest addresses on the subject of missions that has been given in the college chapel dur ing the year. After Miss Apple sang a sold the meeting was closed.

To-night, as has been announced, Philip Schaff, D. D., LL. D., the great church historian, will preach the annual sermon be fore the students of the theological seminary at 7:30 o'clock.

WHILE STRALING A RIDE.

William Miller, of Strasburg, Moots With i Terrible Railroad Accident William Miller, a resident of Strasburg borough, met with a serious accident this morning. In attempting to get on a locomo tive at Straeburg he stipped and fell unde the car wheels. The train was at once stopped and Miller taken from under it. An examination showed that one arm was badi; crushed and that his side was also seriously pjured. After his injuries were temporarily dressed he was taken to the county hospital. He is 25 years old, a bricklayer by trade, a single man, and he admitted that he was about stealing a ride when the accident hap-Dr. F. Keneagy and Dr. H. M. Black took a rib out of the unfortunate man and some broken bones out of his arm. He is in a critical condition.

Painters' Union Organized. The Lancaster journeymen painters met at Rothweiler's hall Tuesday evening and effected a permanent organization by the election of the following officers: President, John F. Pontz; vice president Samuel V. Miller ; secretary, John F. Davis assistant secretary, Aaron Keesey ; treasurer, Louis Krauskop; conductor, C. McGinnis; doorkeeper, Isaac Ammon; trustees, Edward E. Davis. Frederick C. Miller and Wm Shertz. The meeting was a large one and it is expected that nearly all the journeymen pain ters of the city will connect themselves with the organization. The Gothesn Anniversary.

The Gothean literary society of Franklin and Marshall college will hold their fitysecond anniversary on Friday evening at half-past seven o'clock at Fulton opera house. Following is the programme: Speaker, H. K. Miller; salutatorian, E. K. Eyerly; ators, C. A. Loos, J. C. Noll, H F. Dittmar G. W. Richards; eulogist, J. L. Rouah Goethean orator, W. R. Petera.

Committee of arrangements, D. Scheirer, jr., chairman ; E. C. Musselman, W. B. Werner, W. H. Landis, C. E. Heller, A. R. Craig, F. C. Miller.

Another Surprise Party.

Last evening the friends of Charles Vogt. the salcon-keeper on East King street, gave him a big surprise party, which was under the management of Mrs. Annie Wesver. Forty couples were present and to the music of Miller's orchestra they denced in Excelaior half until a late hour. At 12 o'clock all sat down to a big supper prepared for the cocasion. Mr. Vogt knew nothing of the affair, although his wife had been let into the secret, and he was greatly surprised. James Prangley, of this city, has been granted a patent through W. R. Gerhart for an improvement in devices for inserting cords in the ends of cigars. The cords are inserted longitudinally in the closed end of the cigar and withdrawn when it is to be used, svoiding biting or breaking off the end thereof. MRS. JAMES BROWN POTTER.

Boroott, Her Bushend and Manager Analysed by a Lancaster Lady.

"I see by the way," said a Lancaster lady who keeps her eyes open, "that Mr. James Brown Potter has signed an engagement with Manager Barton Key. I know both school and Manager Analyred a Lancaster Lady. yes, I have often seen her act in private theatricain, and listened to her recitations; and listened to her let way you ming woman! In what way you sak? Why in every way but beauty. would not cell her very beautiful, but she has peculiarly fascinating manners, and talks intelligently and sympathetically. She makes one think now this is just the person that I want to talk to ! She is certainly a most oplished lady, and in private theatri cals her acting is just splendld ; but ob, my! poor Mr. Key.

"Why pity Mr. Key !"
"Why because Mrs. Potter will never in the world make a good professional actress; she has too many mannerisims, little things that people overlook in private entertain ments, you know, because they are the familiar peculiarities of friends. But in an ectress they cannot be tolerated. People want the worth of their money, you know. We will not excuse trifles on the stage that we would not think of noticing at all in a parlor recitation. What tritles? Well, for one thing, she has a peculiar gesture with one arm, a gesture that she uses constantly in talking ; it comes in in private theatricals and recitations, and would be certain to disclease a more critical audience. She is a charming, a magnificent woman, but, oh such a stick of a husband. He is a little, miserable, insignificant man, who stands around without saying a word for himself, while everyone is worshiping his wife. Why he was so quiet he made me feel like going up and poking him to stir him up.
"No, I do not think that's right. I want a man to stand up for himself now and then : shows he has something in him. And Mrs. James Brown Potter's husband basn't much money, either. He just turnishes his name as a kind of trade mark for Mrs. James' theatrical business. Manager Barton Key is a gentleman in every sense of the word, and I do hope he will make something out of the venture. Mr. William Fares Coward, a young lawyer, deserves most of the credi for Mrs. Potter's success in private theatricals. He is a splendid actor, a man of natural talent in that line, and it was in acting with him that Mrs. Potter scored her triumphs. Mr. Coward brought out Mrs. Potter."

St. Authory's Society Officers. At the stated annual meeting of St. Anthony's German Catholic Beneficial society held on Monday evening in their rooms at Fulton hall the following officers were elected to serve during the ensuing year : President, Frank Ursprung : vice president, Peter Diehl : secretary, Adam Mattern ; treasurer, Louis Schmid ; standing committee, Henry Reiner, Henry Ransing Michael Matt. Matthias Steinwandel, M. Blankenmayer, Michael Haberbush, Joseph Schwende (1), Joseph Schwende (11). The society numbers 138 members and has capital of $1,072 89. During the year just closed $519 were expended for sick benefit and $72 for funeral benefits. Ascension Thursday Ceremonies Lancaster Commandery, No. 13, Knights Templar, will observe Ascension Thursday, by special services in the morning. The seron will be preached by Rev. Dr. J. Y Mitchell, and the music will be under the Death of a Valuable Mule.

This morning one of the fine large mules which were purchased by R. A. Malone d Son for work on their contract, killed himsel in the stable at the Merrimac house. He threw himself down in the stall and broke his neck. The other mules and a number of carts were shipped to New York to day. Going to Love Peast.

Tuesday afternoon, attached to the Fast Line West, were two cars filled with River Brethren from Lancaster, Labanon and Dauphin counties, en route to Abilene, Kan-mas, to attend their annual conference about to convene there. They will remain in the West ten or twelve days. The New Conestogs Bridge.

The work on the new stone and brick bridge, which is to span the Big Conestoga creek east of this city, will be started in the course of a couple of days. The derricks are now being erected and the track will be placed on a large treetle work where they will remain until the job is completed.
