AMERICA'S APPEAL TO IRELAND.

The Address of Our First Continental Congress to Ireland in 1775. TO THE PEOPLE OF IRELAND: From the delegates appointed by the United Colonies of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Bay, Rhode Island and Connecticut...

But we forbear to trouble you with a tedious detail of the various and fruitless offers and applications we have repeatedly made, not for pensions, for wealth, or for honors, but for the humble boon of being permitted to carry on the honest industry, and to enjoy that degree of liberty which God and the constitution have given us...

It is never to be forgotten that the British monarchy have for ten years past endeavored by fraud and by violence to deprive them of their rights. We are determined to be true to our principles and to our country.
