Clerk Cochran's Explanation.

Chief Senate Clerk T. B. Cochran, of this city, makes this statement about the rev onue bill that failed for want of the signature of the president of the Senate : " I have no knowledge of the bill after the committee of conference report on it had been submitted ers. to the Senate and adopted. It being a House bill, we notified the House of the adoption, and then the functions of the Senate clerks with regard to the bill ceased. We had nothing more to do with it. It was the business of the message clerk of the House in this House bill to see that it was properly signed and prepared for the governor's signature. Even had I seen the bill, which I did not after the conference report, it would still be the duty of the mes sage clerk of the House to see that it was in proper condition for the governor's signa-ure," An affidavit to this effect was signed by Mr. Cochran for the Associated Press to day

He Ran and Kicked. This morning Philip Kuhlman, who boards with William Rehfuss, his son-in-law, at the Union Hotel on Chestnut street, was driving a horse, belonging to Rehfuss along South Duke street. As he neared the schools at the corner of German street, the backing strap broke and the horse began to run and kick. The animal ran down Duke street and turning into East King was caught in front of Demuth's cigar store. The dasher of the wagon was completely demolished by the kicking of the horse, and Mr. Kuhiman had one leg injured.

A PROPOSED NEW CHURCH. Taking the Preliminary Steps to Secure a New

Methodist Church

A meeting of the officers of the Duke street Methodist church was held on Wednesday evening, with Rev. J. R. T. Gray presiding, and the majority favored the erection of a new church edifice. It was decided to call a meeting of the congregation for Tuesday evening, June 14, when the question of a new building will again be passed upon. If a majority favor a new building the next proceeding will be before the quarterly conference. That body is made up of the presiding elder, and the official mem bers of the church. If that body favors the new building, a committee is appointed to have plans and specifications prepared with estimated cost and when three-fourths of the cost of the building is subscribed the building may be begun. The sentiment of the church is mid to be strongly in favor of a new building, and if so, it is only a matter of a short time before it is built. Those who favor a new building think a fine one can be erected for $50,000.

Republican Fraud at Indiantown. The citizens' meeting to investigate the alleged frauds at Indiantown, will be held at 5 o'clock this alternoon. Immediately after the vote was counted the ballot box was taken to the office of Justice Witmer, and given in his custody. The box will be opened publicly at the meeting and the tickets read off and recounted in the presence of the voters of the district. Last year when there were watchers sent from this city the district was evenly divided between the two factions This year the Bull Ringers were returned as receiving an almost solid vote with the ex-ception of Burkholder, for sheriff, and the opposition claim that Mentzer and all the didates on that combination received a much larger vote than was returned.
