A Ranch on Tow Hill. Reference has frequently been made to notorious and disreputable dive situated in an alley on "Tow Hill," and kept by a colored woman. Almost every week a disturbance takes place in this ranch ending in a law suit. On Saturday nights the place is frequented by numbers of hard characters, both white and colored. These nights are spent in a ner which is a disgrace to the community. A bearing took place last evening at the office of Squire Evans, as the result of a night spent in drunkenness. The place was a scene of drunkenness last Saturday night, and on Sunday morning the crowd went to a place on the outskirts of town, where they continued the drunken revelry. A row between a man and woman occurred and this law suit was the result. The language used at the hearing was extremely vulgar, and it could hardly b thought possible that a woman could use such language. The trouble between the parties will be settled. The ranch should by speedily broken up. The Indian Exhibition. The collection of curios belonging to Miss Maggie Layton were exhibited to-day in the parlors of the Methodist church. They will pariors of the Methodist church.

also be exhibited this evening. A visit also be exhibited this place, where images should be paid to this place, where images are dressed in native costumes and specimens of India art work can be seen. The collection is in charge of the Columbia Auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, and the proceeds will be devoted to that cause.

Paid to Head Bad News. Over a week ago a well-known merchant of this city wrote a letter to a customer in the country, saking him concerning a bill of $70 which he owed. On Monday the merchant received a reply, and, before getting possession of the letter, he was obliged to pay one cent for extra postage, the sender having failed to put on the required amount. The letter stated that the writer had received the merchant's letter and was sorry that he had not answered it before. He would say, however, that he had gone out of business as the sheriff had sold him out, and he did not have anything at all. The merchant did not object to losing the bill, but he thought it pretty rough that he should be compelled to pay haif of the postage to learn the news.

Married a Lancaster Lady. The Union Republican, published at Winston, S. C., publishes a long account of the death and funeral of Judge D. H. Starbuck He died suddenly of heart disease last Thurs day a week. The deceased was one of the most prominent citizens of his town, where he had been a lawyer for many years. He was 68 years old and leaves a wife and three Blickenderier, a sister of Henry, William and Richard Blickenderfer, of this city. She was married to Mr. Starbuck in 1856

New Postoffice. The posteffice department has established a postoffice at "Truce," Lancaster county, Pa. and appointed Harry L. Wiggins postmaster This office is located at what has long been nown as Hickory Grove, on the L & Port Deposit stage and mail route, about two and a half miles south of Smithville and the same distance this side of the Buck. The community thereabouts is increasing in population and Wiggins has recently established

Registration of Voters. The lists of taxables in the assessment books of the several districts of the county were given to the assessors on Monday. It is now the duty of the assessors to make a thorough canvass of their wards or townships, and take the name of every voter, his occupation and residence. After they have completed this work, the books are returned to the commissioners' office, duplicate copies are made, and the lists are placed at the voting piaces for inspection on the first

The Fall Extent of the Law. The only customer for the disposition of the mayor this morning was Wm. Hughes, It was his third cifence of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. When the mayor ordered him committed for 60 days he became very abusive, and the mayor promptly added thirty days more, which made his punishment 90 days, the longest term for which he could be sent to the county jail by Caught a Live Eagle.

This afternoon a man caught a large bird which is believed to be an eagle on Rudy Herr's fish pend on the Columbia turnpike. He brought the bird to this city alive and gave it to Jacob Hartman, who took it home and will endeavor to keep it.

The Usual Result.

John Wagner was heard before Alderman Pinkerton last evening on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. A compromise was effected between the prose cutor and accused and after the costs had been paid the latter was discharged.

Grading Project Postponed. The project to grade College avenue for driving purposes will be abandoned if the City street railway are allowed permission to lay their tracks there. Bids for the grading were to have been opened Saturday, but were postponed.

Myrtie Peck Next Monday. On account of the heavy condition of the track, owing to the great quantity of rain that has fallen recently, Myrtle Peek did not give an exhibition with her running horses in McGrann's park this afternoon. The event was postponed until next Monday. Another Circus Co. Lowande's circus, which was in Lancaste for a week last season, will open a five days' engagement in McGrann's park on next Tuesday. The show plays at low prices, and draws well.
