Sumatra—Apparently knows of no quiet market nor caree for any standstill in the manufacture of cigars. It sells and sells lively every day in the week, regardless of any unjust duty or whims of appraisers, combinations of importers, or rulings of the secretary of the treasury. It brings about $1.30 when raw and torn, and from $1.50 to $1.50 when smooth, clean and of acceptable and when swo and torn, and from $1.50 to $1.85 when smooth, clean and of acceptable colors.

Havana, too, sold quite lively during the week, bringing the total sales up to 800 bales at from 78 cents to $1.17.

The Tobacco Leo/ reports the cigar leaf market duil, and likely to continue so until the '86 crop is sampled.

Of Havana it says only 350 bales were taken at from 60 cents to $1.20 per pound, and adds: A gentleman who has just returned from Havana said to us on Friday; "The new crop (1887) will be fully one-third less in pounds than that of last year. Assorting and baling is keeping the farmers busy at present, and from the temper displayed by a great many of them, I judge their crops have not been all they could desire. I saw some very fine tobacco, but it formed a very small part of the vegas I examined. The 1886 and older tobacco will command in the near future much better prices than are now prevailing in this market. I would not be surprised to see an advance of from 15 to 20 per cent in good old stock before September."

bacoo this week have been largely confined to old goods, for which there is a good demand. Dealers are keeping prices stiff on everything that can be classed as good or better. None of the lots sold this week were large, but the aggregate transactions will foot up over 250 bales, at from $1.20 to $1.70. Over 1,300 bales of new tobacco were re-ceived this week. While much of this is tine tobacco, the old goods have the call on manu-facturers who are buying for immediate use. The best tobacco offered yet this year is ex-pected at the sale in Amsterdam next week.

There is a boom in manufactured tob see; smoking tobacco is in sympathy with it, and egars move on improvingly.

Seed Lesi—As this is the season of the year when many of the dealers in cigar leaf have only a limited supply suitable for manuscuring purposes, sales are therefore confined to the few who make it their special besiness to carry old stock. They appear to be doing a full share of trade, while as a general thing the leaf trade is quiet, largely owing to the want of desirable stock. Prices, however, still cling to the side of the buyer. A change would be nothing more than fair. Buxents moves right along.

Havana selis astonishingly. If clean, regularly pecked, and of the desired flavor, an admirer is soon found. By the by, Philadelphia importers are quietly moving to the state rank.

The market for Maryland is firm, and very till miss have been made, both of fine qualities and seconds, for which latter there is a good demand. The French contractor has not been on the market this week. Ohio is till very quiet, and only about 40 hhds. for home consumption were sold this week.

MAYTOWN, June 21.—Sunday was a red-letter day for the Reformed church. R. F. Gass, of the Lancaster theological seminary who had served the congregation with much acceptance during the last year, preached hi farewell sermon. The members who had shown much kindness towards their beloved pastor during the year did all that lay in their power to make the day as pleasant as possible for him. In the morning the Lord's supper was administered by the Rev. N. J. Miller. of Sellersville, Pa., and Mr. Gass. On the preceding day a class of ten catechumens, which had been under the instruction of Mr Gass, was confirmed by Rev. N. J. Miller. This was the largest class in the history of the congregation. Both on Saturday evening and Sunday morning Rev. Miller preached able sermons. The congregation deserves much credit for the progressive spirit manifested by its members during the

The New License Law. Some of the aldermen of the city and jus-tices of the peace of the county, have an erroneous impression as to the supplement passed to the marriage license set. A nunber of them have called at the office of the clerk of the orphans' court for blanks, so that they could issue licenses. The law does not give them that power. All it does give them is authority to take the affidavits of the applicant for license, which must be for-warded to the clerk of the orphans' court, and if he is satisfied with the answers recorded, he issues a license. A PRIGHTFUL BUNAWAY.

Damage to Persons and Property That Was Caused by a Frightened Horse. Last evening a runaway and collision, which might have been much more serious occurred on North Queen street. Calvin I. Shutte, a partner of Samuel E Baily in the carriage manufacturing business, had just hitched up his horse in the rear of the actory. He went behind the buggy to put the top, and as he did so, the horse trightened and started off. Just before he came to the archway leadto North Queen street, Tweed, an employe of the factory, attempted o catch the reins. Instead he caught the parness and held on until the horse reached the street, where he was thrown against a pile of lumber and had a small bone in one of his legs broken. He was picked up and came out of the archway the buggy was against the steps of the factory the top and rear were broken The horse, with the front wheels and shafts only left, ran up North Queen street. Two York Girls After Heling Abandoned Turi Up In The Station House, The only persons who applied at the station house for lodging last night were two girls who gave their ages as 19 and 21 and their names as Lizzie Brown and Annie Myers. They said their homes were in York where one worked at tobacc stripping and the other in a cigar box factory. They said that they had left their homes on Sunday with a strange traveling man who had deserted them in this city. They were discharged but soon afterwards turned up at the mayor's office where they asked to be sent home.

There is no fund in this city to be used for returning runsway girls and so the mayor informed them. His honor, with his usual liberality, gave them a contribution and showed them the road to Columbia. When ast seen they were going out the pike leading to that town. The girls said that this trip had learned them a lesson which would be of great benefit to them in the future when they make the acquaintance of

PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION.

Ine Peoples National Bank Restrained From Building on Their Line. This afternoon City Solicitor Carpenter filed a bill in equity to the court signed by the mayor, and Select Councilmen Bolenius and Borger. It sets forth that the Peoples Na. tional bank are about erecting a building on the line of the building adjoining and that said line encroaches sixteen inches on the street. They prayed that the court enjoin the bank from proceeding with the building on said line.
D. G. Esbleman, for the bank, resisted the granting of the injunction. He argued that the bill does not set forth sufficient equity in warranting the court to use its strong arm in restraining the erection of this building. He held that if the city could take sixteen inches of their land they might with the same propriety take 16 feet, and concluded by saying that the bank had rights which the city is bound to respect.

The court granted the temporary injunce tion asked for and counsel agreed to argue the same on Tuesday next at 10 o'clock.

OAK HALL

$100,000 SALE.

No falling off in interest. A wonderful ncrease instead. It bothered us on Saturday to get all the customers waited on. There'll not be much Clothing sold elsewhere as long as our Great Bargains are

The largest room in the house devoted to Special Lots.

The truth is we are unlike other stores. First: We never keep the low, cheap stuffs. We always give more for the money. We lead the business, and what we do others imitate. No house in the trade manufactures so much clothing as we do, and this season finds us within too many of the very finest goods, and that accounts for

The $25.00 Suits marked down to $15.00. The $32.50 Finest Dress Black and Blue Corkscrew Suits to $25.90. The $35.00 Suits to $28.00.

(Please note these reductions are on the very best goods.) 1,078 Black and Blue (Indigo Colors) Serge Suits, $13.50. Enough to clothe a
