

AN UNCOMMON SENSE.
Grandfather Wate used to tell his boys
That a Fourth wasn't a Fourth without any sense.
He would say, with a thump of his history
stick,
That he made an American right down stark
To see his sons on the Nation's Day
Sit round in a sort of a listless way,
With no oration and no tribune,
No fireworks and no rooster stand,
While his grandsons, before they were out of bibs,
Were banding great scrolls to his old quilts.
And so each Independence morn
Grandfather Wate took his father's burn,
And the first look he gave his father had
When he caught under schuyler, a country lad,
And Grandfather Wate would start and tramp
Ten miles to the woods at Beaver Camp,
For Grandfather Wate used to say and howl—
That a decent chipmunk or woodchuck crow
Was better company, friendly or shy,
Than folks who didn't keep Fourth of July,
And he would pull his hat down on his brow,
And march for the woods, 'neath his son's
But once—ah! long, long years ago,
For grandfather's sons where good men go—
Not hot Fourth, but by ways of our own,
Such short cuts as boys have at any time,
We hurried and followed the dear old man
Beyond where the wilds were begun,
To the deep black woods at the foot of the Hump,
And there was a clearing and a stump—
A stump in the art of a great wild wood;
And there on that stump our grandfather stood,
Talking and shouting out there in the sun,
And trying that old first-lock gun
Once in a minute, his hand being new,
Having his Fourth of July out there—
The Fourth of July he used to know
Back in eighteen and twenty or so.
First, with his face to the heaven's blue,
He held the "Deedackon" through
And then, with gestures to the left and right,
He made an oration.
Full of words six syllables long;
And then our grandfather took
And scaring the squirrels in the trees,
Gave "Hail, Columbia" to the breeze.
And I tell you, the old man never heard
When we joined in the chorus, word for word;
But he sang out strong to the bright blue sky,
And it voices joined in his Fourth of July,
He heard them as echoes from days gone by.
And when he had done, we all slipped back,
As still as we came, on our twining track,
While words more clear than the first lock
Rang in our ears.
And Grandfather Wate?
He shouldered the gun his father bore,

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.
The Oft Told Story
Of the peculiar medicinal merits of Hood's SARSAPARILLA is fully confirmed by the voluntary testimony of thousands who have tried it. It is the most powerful and penetrating of purgatives, and its ingredients, peculiar in the extreme, are such that it is put up, Hood's SARSAPARILLA, as a medicine, which other preparations entirely fail. It is the most powerful of good name it has made at home, which is a tower of strength abroad, peculiar in the phenomenal strength it has attained.
HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA
is the most popular and successful medicine before the public, today for purifying the blood, giving strength, and creating an appetite.
"I suffered from weakness and low spirits, and also had eczema on the back of my head and neck, which was very annoying. I took one bottle of Hood's SARSAPARILLA, and I have received so much benefit that I am very grateful, and I am always glad to speak a good word for Hood's SARSAPARILLA." Mrs. J. A. Brown, Fortville, Pa.

PURE RYE WHISKY.
Old Groff Spring Distillery.
Situating on East Orange street, between Orange and Chestnut, one square east of reservoir, has been erected at the famous Old Groff Spring, which has been noted for its pureness and unaltered supply of the purest water. At its outlet, grandfathers drank when they were boys, and it has never been known to run dry even in the hottest weather. From this spring all the water used in the distillery is obtained, the pump drawing from it twenty-five gallons a minute.
Besides my own distilled Whisky, I also handle Brandy, Gine, Wines, &c. Call and be convinced.
