WARDERINGS OF A DEMERTED NOMAN

Coldly Decline to Receive Her. On Thursday night Officer Lewers, while on his beat near the reservoir, saw a woman wandering simlessly about the grounds. On ing up to her he found she was evidently of unsound mind, and supposing she had wandered away from the county asylum he took her there and left her in charge of the officers. Friday morning the officers turned ber out, saying she was not an inmate of the asylum and that they had no authority to keep her there. She wandered off, and the next that was heard of her was from Lampeter. Mr. J. Henry Musser, seeing that she was insane, took was Mary Myers and that she belonged to Robrerstown. Thinking the asylum the proper place for her, an knowing that the officers of that institution last evening, but was refused admittance Not knowing what else to do with her he took her to the police station, where she spent the night, and was this morning again ent to the asylum on an order from Mayor Morton, and there she remains at present

It may be necessary for the officers o the county institutions to be very careful in receiving inmates except on properly drawn orders, but after having received this demented woman from Officer Lewars they ortainly should not have turned her out upon the public highway the next morning, liable as she was to run into all sorts of

A PAULU ARODO CRIADRES.

Friday evening there was an entertainment given in Excelsion hall by the pupils of Miss. C. Stone's private school, No. 356 South Queen street. The hall was handsomely decorated, and packed with people, both children and adults. A temporary stage was erected at the north end of the hall grown which the readings resistations. which the readings, recitations, dislogues, plays, tableaus, etc., were presented. The amme was a very full one, and the tableaus were quite artistically arranged. One of them was the thirteen original states, there being thirteen little girls gally dresse to represent the states, and in their midst the Goddess of Liberty, Miss Etlen Wisne taking the part of Goldess. While I the sung. Another tableau was very pretty Clara Spong appeared on the stage very poorly clad and sang "Nobody's Child." The curtain in front of the stage was closed as she ended the song and almost imme distely was reopened when a most effective tableau was presented, the same little girl being seen in fine attire, in charge of an

(Miss Mable Dreer), while a chorus ang " The Home Over Thera" While the programme was going on very nicely, there was a terrible shrick camfrom the audience, and this was instantly fel. lowed by other shricks and screams and a general panic reigned throughout the hall. The curtain in front of the stage was made of cotton flannel, and the footlights were candles. The curtain happened to be pushed against one of the candles, and instantly there was a flame arose from the floor to the esiting. The curtain was immediately torn down, and it was found that it was very slightly burned, nothing more than the "nap" having been burned off. A settee on the back part of the stage on which some liktle girls were sitting was upset, and the children were thrown down but not hurt. There was great confusion in the audience for i have been trampled upon and injured on the stairway in the stampede which would have ensued had not the cool-headed doorkeeper locked the door and prevented them from rushing out. The panic soon ended ; nobody was burt, but the excitement ran so high that it was thought best not to attempt to finish the entertainment, and the audien was dismissed before the prizes were awarded

For His Big Claim if the Commissioners Declin

H. R. Fulton, whose fee for the collection of $20,823.50 has been discussed in the newspapers, is not disposed to accept the compromise fee of $2,000 offered by the commission ers. His claim is for 25 per cent of the above amount, which would be $5,205.87, for his services in getting from the state the state tax paid by the county on horses and cattle on which there was a levy of three mills which was repealed but the county held for the amount of the assessment.

He bases his claim on the contract made with the commissioners while he was county solicitor, but the labor of which he claims was performed after the expiration of his term of that office. He says that he will never take what the commissioners offer, but that at one time he agreed to accept $4,000 in full for all demands against the sounty. He is bound to pay all the costs of the suit brought in Dauphin county, which are considerable, and in addition he has a colleague, so that when the division is made it will not be so large a fee.

When told by the INTELLIGENCER rep-esentive that Mr. Myers was emphatic in his declarations that he would not vote for one cent more than $2,000 and only pay that on being given a bond of indemnity by Mr. Fulton, to protect the commissions in case of a surcharge, he said he could not accept that amount, but would take his chances be fore a jury in recovering the amount of his claim on the contract made. It is probable he will sue for the amount of his bill unless the claim is soon settled.

At a meeting of the Managers of the Home for Friendless Children held on July 1st, the ollowing communication was presented by the president.

Before operating let us recall that since our last monthly meeting one, long a member of our board, has been removed from earth, Mrs. Cecilie l'earsol. Let us pause awhile to think and speak of her. She was active among us until about one year since, when failing health compelled her to resign. She was a member of the purchasing committee and a most prudent and efficient member. She was for many years a member of the board of managers, always ready to do her part of any work and to do it earnestly and effectively. During the years that funds were being collected for the erection of the new building, she was most active, ever ready to start to the country on a collecting trip, to assist at fairs, or in any other way called upon to lend a helping hand, and in all was ever kind, gentle, affectionate, and considerate of the teelings of others, therefore be it.

GOLDEN EAGLES AT MANUELE. The Public Installation Exercises of Steigel

Castle, No 166, Friday Evening. "There was a sound of revelry by night at Manhelm Friday evening. The revelry was not of the Bacchanglian order, for the voice and laugh of fair womankind was mingled with it and the presence of reverend ministers of the gospel was mingled with that of plumed and titled Sir Kuights. The cocasion was the public installation of efficers of Stelgel Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, No. 166, and the banquet at the Washington house following.

Steigel Castle is less than four months old and numbers 95 members. The installation ceremonies were in charge of District Grand and six other members of Hermit Castle, No. 66, Mount Joy,-H. C. The Presbyterian Picule

The piente of the First Presbyterian church of this city was held at Rocky Spring yesterday. The weather was warm, and it was s relief to get away from the dusty city and mjoy the cool breezes of the delightful grove at Rocky Springs, and it is doubtful if ever a more byons party assembled at this favorite resort than the big and little "blue stockings" that assembled there yesterday. In the first place, the picnic was free-no tickets were sold, and nobody was expected to bring a basket or any other kind of lunch, and yet a most abundant unch was spread, and the tables were filled with good things from morning until evening. It is hard to tell how many people were on the ground. Tuirteen packed omnibusses went out in the morning, and several more at noon. There were scores if not hun dreds of private conveyances, and a great number rode out on the East End street cars o Potts', and thence boated down the Conestoga to the picnic. A large number of boats were provided, and every child at the pienic was given a boat-ride Then there was a game of base ball between the men and the boys, and the boys won a glorious victory. Quoit pitching was a favorite pastime and so was angling and there were many other games, some of them quite congenial to the girls, indulged in. The party returned to the city at an early hour in the evening, delighted with the day's recreation,

CIVEN AWAY FREE!

I you usually read an advertisement with this heading. They charge for packing and mailing more than the article is worth—that is usual. We give Fitter, absolutely free, all the comforts of the store. Come and see what they are. Coolest place in town, some say. A cosy place to meet your friends. Chairs to rest in. Can leave all your packages till "that hustand of yours" is ready to start for home, and free, always free to talk over newest patterns in stamping (here are some perfect heauties) and the new lancy work. A free start in any of them. That is the work commenced, so you can go on and fluishit. You little though that you could do it. Looks so hard; and is so simple when you start right and materials are right.
