THEY THREATEN TO BOYCOTT THE WHO SELL TO CLARKE, The West King Street Tea and Coffee Deale The following conversation took place between a drummer who seld Clarke a large lot of mackerel and another grocerymen:

Salesman—Good morning, Mr.

Grocer—Good morning.

Salesman—Gan I sell you some mackerel, this

TRAS AND COFFESS.

Soleman.—Can I sell you some mackerel, this morning?

Grocer.—No. sir. We wont buy from any one who sells to Clarke. We now have a good profit on these scods. He will cut prices to pieces. He sells for cash on a small profit. We can't compete with him on account of doing a credit business. He is selling mackerel that we got $1.29 for at $5c. a bucket.

Salesman.—I am sorry, but have sold him a large quantity of these mackerel under special instructions from my house. He is one of our best cash customers, and of course can give him our best discount. After he gets them we don't care if he gives them away.

Call and see them. Finest in the market Only Sc. a bucket, —AT— CLARKE'S TEA AND COFFEE HOUSE, NO. 52 WEST KING STREET, LANCASTER, PA.
