The power of man's endurance is great, es y has such been proved to be the case be well known hunter of the lower end, she Hummel. He has a great weakness for enting the woodchuck. On Monday last John was seen tramping across the fields unwhere a woodchuck inhabited. He took his position at the hole on Monday morning with his gan in readiness for action. He remained in that position all day; once or twice he left to get a drink, but before leaving the place he placed a stone at the mouth of the hole. John remained all day; when night came on he athered some hay together and slept there bright and early Tuesday morning, John was seen in his old position ready for action and remained all day. Toward evening he want to John Leiever's house to get a drink. Im. Leiever took pity on him and gave him the upper. He laid in enough for the balance of the week. Mr. Woodchuck must have heard of John's coming and prepared himself. John wowed he would sither starve the ground-hog or he would sither starve the ground-hog or he would save himself, and the only reason it did not come out was that a little foriorn-looking dog ast yelping at him all the time be was there. He thinks when a man stays a week of a man's farm watching for ground-hogs the man ought to board him. John watched patiently from Monday until fisturday and gave it up. He is only known to have eaten two meals during the week.

William McLain Dies Very Suddenly in a Har vest Field. William McLain died very suddenly on the farm of George Haverstick, who resides in Strasburg township, just north of New Providence, yesterday afternoon. McLain was at work in the harvest field, when he complained of feeling badly. He sat down along the fence and said that his blood seemed to be rushing to his head. After a time he rose to his feet and started to walk He had gone but a few steps when he fell over. He at once became unconscious and ited in a few moments. The cause of his death was either heart disease or sunstroke. No one seems to know exactly where Me Lain's home is, as he is constantly traveling around the country. Some time ago he and his wife went to Mr. Haverstick's, where they secured work. The woman is still there. McLain was 50 years of age and weighed about 175 pounds. Many believe that the name by which he was known is not his proper one. He is said to have two well-to-do brothers in Philadelphia.

TAB STORES-RELEGION LICENSE.

Dr. S. S. Stoner to Wed the Woman With Whom He Eloped Two Years Ago. About two years ago, West Hempfield township, in the vicinity of Ironville, was thrown into a great state of excitement by the elopement of Dr. S. S. Stoner, and Mrs. Lizzte Heifrich. Mrs. Heitrich was the wife of the village hotel-keeper, and the doctor and his wife occupied rooms in the hotel building. When the elopement was discovered officers were sent on the trail of the guilty couple and in a few weeks their and the doctor and the woman were convicted and each sentenced to the county jail. They served their terms and were released from prison about a year ago. Mrs. Stoner applied for and was granted a divorce from her husband on the ground of adultery, and Mr. Heltrich secured a divor e from his wife on the same ground. After their release from prison the doctor settled in Columbia and Mrs. Heifrich also in the same place.

These parties are again brought prominently before the public by the application of Dr. Stoner for a marriage license. He went before the clerk of the court on Thurs-day and made application to marry Lizzie Heifrich. In his application he gives her name as Lizzie Speath, which was her maiden name. He answered all the ques tions of the cierk satisfactorily, produced a divorce and was granted a license, and no doubt before the INTELLIGENCER goes to press he will have we ided the wo nen he wronged a few years ago. The Trouble of & Bridegroom

Frank Barley, of Stranburg township, came to this city on Thursday evening for a marriage license. He brought with him a paper supposed to contain the consent of the father of Lydia Good, the intended bride. Mr. Good signed at the wrong place and the result was that the would-be groom had to drive back to get the paper properly signed. He did so, but it was nearly 11 o'clock when he got back to the city. Alderman Fordney, who had been engaged to perform the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock, kindly waited for the couple and joined them in holy wedlock at his office in the presence of a dozen people. When Barley left with his bride he said that he had about fifteen miles to drive and would be in the harvest field at 5 o'clock in the morning.

WHITE VEIN IN TOBACCO.

A New Process for Removing It-Worthless Tobacco Made Valuable. George Coulman, of this city, has discovered a process by which he claims that white veined tobacco, no matter how bad it may be, can be converted into good merchantable leaf, fit for cigar wrappers. Mr. Coulman has smoots'ed with himself Mr. J. Albright, cigar manufacturer, under the firm name of Albright & Coulman, and are prepared to receive from packers white vein tobacco and return it to them with at least 90 per cent of the white vein eliminated. A representative of the INTELLIGENCER visited their place of business this morning and was shown samples of the white vein before and after being subjected to the Coulman process. The change in the appearance of the leaf was certainly very marked. Samples of '84 tobacco, the leaves of which were full of white vein and of all possible inde scribable colors, were after being subjected to the new process, of a dark sliky color, and suitable for wrapping purposes. Testimo-nials from some of the heaviest packers and nanufacturers in this city, were shown in which they fully endorse the value of the new process. Mesers Albright & Coulman have fitted up a re-awesting apparatus by which they can handle four cases per day, and if their business shall warrant it they can largely increase their facilities.

Last evening as John W. Lowell, of this city, accompanied by Theodore Farrel, wile and two children of Manayunk, were driving on the Marietta turnpike near Wheatland, one of the wheels of the carriage broke down, and one of Mr. Farrel's daughters was thrown from the carriage and slightly injured. Mr. Lowell secured another carriage, and brought his guests miely home.

MUCH LOWER.

The important fact of Oak Hall Clothing to-day is-Prices are lower. Nothing else is. Must we never stop telling its quality and how it's made? Will you forget for one twenty-four hours? At this day who doubts how good it is? It's the best in the country, though the prices are much lower. That news you'll like. Trousers we got $7.00 for : now $5.00.

Fine Dress Suits, $16.50; were $22 00. Everyday Suits for $10.
