On the right side "The Lord loveth the Gates of to look after the intere Elon, 1867." The services opened with an organ votuniary followed by an authors by the choir, invocation, scripture reading, singing by the congregation, surger, sunging; they were followed by a humarinal serson by the pastor, Rev. George Wells Ely. The pastor found his text in the 57 Panim, 5th and 6th verses, in the summer of 1803, Revs. Colin Mc-Farquar, of Donegal, and Robert Cutheart, of York, held services occasionally in Col. York, held services occasionally in Col ist meeting house. An unsuccessful at-tempt was made to organize a society in the same year. Rev. Nathaniel Snowden, of Lancaster, began preaching here in February, 1800, on every third Sabbath, sometimes in the Methodist church and at private houses. This minister organized the Presbyterian orsilisation on August 29, 1807, when James tham, Moses Montgomery and Wm. P. atty were made ruling elders. On the following day he administered sacrament to many two communicants. Rev. Snowden mained until 1808. During the next year we william Kerr approach for one fourth of tov. William Kerr engaged for one-fourth of his time, and an application was made in 1810 to be taken under the care of the presbytery of lewCastle. A lot of ground was donated to the congregation, cituated on Walnut street, but it was not suitable and the lot at Fourth and ust was purchased in 1811. The corner tione was laid on July 15, 1811, and the h opened for public worship on July 19, 1812. Among the persons present at the dedication were Samuel Bethel, Philip Gomier, John McKissick, Robert Barber and many prominent families of town. The building when first erected stood back from Locust street about 20 feet and the pulpit was at the Locust street end. Thirty-six years ago the church was remodeled and ex-tended to Locust street. Rev. Kerr reuntil 1814, when he was succeeded by Rev. Stephen Boyer. The following ministers preceded Rev. Boyer: Reva. John H. Bymmes, 1833-39; Robert W. Dunlap, 1841-44; Roger Owen, 1844-50; Ebenezer Erskine, 1851-57; Joseph S. Grimes, 1857-61; Robert A. Brown, 1861-68; R. H. The services in the evening were devoted to the Sunday school history, carried out: Singing, reading of scriptures, prayer, history of the Sunday school, by Mr. J. W. Yocum, the present superintendent. The first Sun-day school in Columbia was held in the Quaker meeting house by E. P. Page, an Englishman, in 1806. Among the attendants was Samuel B. Heise, who joined the Presbyterian Sunday school after its organization and was very active in all church work, dying about two years ago. The Presbyterian nized about one month atte the starting of the church, but many of the records are misssing. Since its organization the school has had eleven superintendents and the historian gave a brief sketch of each.

John McKissick was the first one in charge. The primary department was organized in 1858 with 50 children and has grown to 135. In 1825 the main school had 118 attendants and has grown to 335 children, 24 teachers and 12 officers. The school is in excellent financial condition and has contributed large amounts to mission work. Mr. Yocum was followed by Colonel D. B. Case, who was the superintendent of the infant department from 1874 to 1880. The speaker made a brief, interesting address. A silm audience witnessed the excellent shooting exhibition given by Wm. F. Carver and John C. Brewer. Those present, how-ever, were amply repaid for their attendance. The shots made by both men were difficult in the extreme. The first part of the proame embraced abooting at clay pigeous at a distance of eighty feet with a rise of thirty leet, between Dr. Carver and Capt. Brewer. The next feat was shooting at composition balls thrown in many directions and at varied distances. Immediately upon leaving the hand of the thrower the balls would be shot s and broken into fragments, one of which would be singled out and again broken.

Oranges would be thrown in the air and hit several times before reaching the ground by these unerring marksmen. Piezes of shapes. The hip shot made by Dr. Carver was loudly applauded. Five balls were thrown into the air and broken in quick succession. The thousand ball feat was reduced to 300 balls in 15 minutes, owing to the tening weather. This was accomplished in 12 minutes and 40 seconds.

A Reading Bride Becomes Incane

On June 30 Miss Annie E. Grist, of Readlog, was married to Thomas Waiters, of Boston. Sunday she was taken to the county prison, pending her commitment to an asylum, violently insane. The unfortunate bride is the daughter of Benjamin W. Gr s', superintendent of the Pennsylvania iron works, of which William L. Elkins, of Philadelphia, is president. She is rather a hand-some little woman, just 20 years of age, and upon the occasion of her wedding, only two weeks sgo, was the happiest of the merry party who gathered to celebrate the event. weeks sign, was the happiest of the merry party who gathered to celebrate the event.

Four days later she began to show evidences of insanity. She attended a Sunday school picnic, and her many young friends embraced the opportunity to congratulate her. In every instance, as they took her hand, she burst into tears. Efforts to avert insanity failed, and Saturday she began by turning on the water spigots to flood her father's house. The water was two inches deep in the kitchen before she was discovered. She made a desperate attack on Mr. Grist, and was only overpowered after a determined struggle. The bridal chamber had been completely wrecked by her, and the farniture and wedding gifts thrown into the yard. To night the bride is locked in a cell, where she raves and sings mournful hymns alternately. The broken-bearted young husband is in Philadelphia arranging for her admission to Kirkbridge's asylum.

He was born in Lan caster city, October 28th, 1862. He lost the use of his right eye from the effect of a severe cold when a small child. Soon after this his parents moved to Altoons, where young List intered the public schools. He made rapid progress in his studies until one day, while at play, he was accidentally struck in the left eye, which entirely destroyed his eight. The most distinguished oculist deemed it best to send him to the Pennsylvania Institute for the Bilnd, at Philadelphia, where he re mained until 1881, when he graduated. Prof. List is not only a musical critic, but has attained to considerable distinction as a composer of instrumental music.

Bicycling News. Yesterday morning Mesers. Downey, Hartman, Smith, Miller and Emmert, mem-bers of the Lancaster Cycle Touring club, rode over to Lebanon on their bicycles and spent the day. By previous arrangements Ariel Wheel club, of Reading, and the Har-risburg Bicycle club, were also to be there, but for some unknown reason the latter club failed to put in an appearance. In all, there were sixteen wheelmen, and they took din-ner together at the City hotel. After dinner a visit was paid to the celebrated Colebrook urnace, and after inspecting the huge bias engines in use there, a run was proposed to Cornwall, five miles distant, over a beautifu stretch of road. Of course there was racing from the start, and Mesers. Downey and Smith upheld the honor of our local club by

OAK HALL

TEN AND TWELVE DOLLAR SUITS.

Are they easy to get? Yes.

It would be a sorry day for old Oak Hall o have no higher ambition than to provide "good lookers" and "quick sellers." When we say $10 and $12 Suits for sale keep this in mind : First, they are Suits formerly $13 50 and $15.00. Especially now, we'd rather make absolute loss than to turn our manufacturing from winter back to summer goods. It may be shortsighted, but we make the loss rather than risk the holding over of summer goods. So we mark down the high priced ones to fill the gap and make the bargains. The question will not be asked-are they all wool? Are they made and trimmed well? No; we believe the people know the Wanamaker Clothing. They're sure without asking.
