LANCASTER, JULY 22, 1847.

Wants Ball Abelished. Louis F. Post is a pioneer of the W York Labor party and a partisan of ry George. He also has his ambition on the office of district attorney.

He has announced a platform composed hiefly of one very slippery plank. He es to abolish bail. Mr. Post thinks that the furnishing of bail is a greater rdship to the poor than to the well-to-do so is the buying of bread. He wants the precept that every man is presumed ent until proved guilty, applied to this matter of bail. Why then should is not be applied also to the first arrest On the same principle no man could be ar rested, for it would be necessary first to prove his guilt, and unless he chose to walk into court, that could not be done. Mr. Post says: "Preliminary im-comment contravenes this precept, and is as unnecessary in the majority of cases as it is illogical and oppressive. A pledge to appear for trial would answer every purpose. If the accused appeared, the only defensible object of preliminary arrest would be accomplished; if he absconded, ent by default would make him an gile for life and rid the community of a es member."

He appears to suspect that this plan is not so beautiful as it is simple, for he adds that " if justice cannot be ratisfied withvengeance" fugitives could be ared and brought back under extradition laws, or "defendants might be released der the custody of official bail, who could pursue them to the ends of the

This would be very expensive, "but shall personal liberty be weighed in the balance with pocketbooks ?" A chorus of defaulters in Canada answers " No! not with public pocketbooks." Suppose a man steals half a million dollars or a ham, and in defiance of the presumption that he is innocent until proved guilty, is deprived of his liberty and dragged to jail. rived there, he would at once regain his liberty by promising to surrender himself for trial. As a thief is usually a liar, the result would simply be his emigration, alone if he had taken a ham, or attended by a body guard if his theft had reached

This whole scheme is calculated to fill the mind of the metropolitan thief with joy. The law does not now presume the guilt of the accused; it simply gives him chance to choose one man for his custodian in place of the authorities of the jail.

The Ohio Democrats.

The action of the Ohio Democratic convention in harmoniously nominating a strong ticket, and adopting a platform calling for taxation reduction and the proper regulation of the interests of labor and ital, is good evidence that the Buckeye Democracy have gone into this fight to win. On the three points of labor, immigration and contract labor, these strong utterances

Labor being the chief factor and great con-servator of free and liberal institutions, should enjoy its full share of the common sensits derived therefrom; therefore we favor such restraint of the centralization and scronchment of corporate power as will ring the best possible protection to honest abor and at the same time conserve the in-labor and at the same time conserve the inserests of honestly employed capital.

We favor such legislation on the question of immigration as will prevent the landing for permanent residence of aliens who are not willing to declare their intention of becoming citizens of the United States.

We declare our opposition to the importation of contract labor and we demand appeady punishment of all persons inciting riot and revolution against republican instifutions.

The enthusiastic endorsement of President Cleveland shows that his work is fully appreciated in Ohio, and that they, n common with the Democrats throughout the country, believe him to be entirely worthy of Democratic endorsement and ragement in his chair of chief executive. The nominees are of unquestionable station, and with the internal dissenas in the Republican ranks, the outlook for Democratic success in Ohio this fall is very bright.

The Case of Harvey. Some new light is thrown on the Harvey by the Washington dispatch to the York World. It appears that Mr. endail was as much imposed upon as the cartment in this case. The Pennsylva-Congressman simply stated that Harwas indorsed by gentlemen of the character, who would not lightly their recommendation to an unworthy test. It appears that they did, and Randall is relieved from the main rebility for the appointment.

ervey had some gentlemen of high er from this city, also, as his spon-They doubtless believed all that they d to at the time, but it is probaat they will not lend their names to next application that comes along, they have a better knowledge of the oter of the applicant.

The Reglect at the Almshouse. hen the INTELLIGENCER recently a plain, unvarnished tale of the permitted in the lower hospital of ster county almshouse, the New was quick to rush to the rescue of the compose a sowing that "our as owing the contemporary has been impose." We invite its attention to the action of Admiral Reypost in bringing about the re-

In particular, we invite the New Ere to read Conway's story of the menu prorided for sick people at the institution to see which journal "has been imposed upon." Worths in soup will surely not be recommended by the New Era as a diet for patients hovering between life and

It is a mournful commentary on the con duct of the county almshouse, that a local Grand Army post finds it needful to protect a soldier's con from neglect at the hands of the county authorities. And it is still more surprising that a public journal in a matter of such grave concern shuts its eyes to plain facts and endeavors to gloss over official derelictions by the bold statement that the INTELLIGENCER "has been imposed upon."

THE Philadelphia Ledger confesses to a lack of faith in the air brake. Now let the Hote Automatic brake come forward.

Dr. TANNER has apologized in the House of Commons for his language to Mr. Long, and the matter dropped. But the doctor has the best of it.

It has been said that Utah could not become a state because she would not be admitted without the imposing of a condition prohibiting polygamy, and that a strict con-struction of the constitution makes the admission of states unconditional. But the Gordian knot has been deftiy cut by the voters of Utah who have framed a constitution prohibiting polygamy. No conditions have been formally imposed, but the citizens of the state have themselves assumed a con-dition which they knew to be essential to their admission to the sisterhood of states Whether or no Congress can impose conditions for the admission of a state, it has done so in numerous instances, notably in the requirement of pledges of the Southern states and in the admission of Missouri, Michigan and Nebraska; but in the case of Utah no condition has been imposed by Congrees, but one has been voluntarily as by the voters of Utah. The only fear is that after having firmly secured the dignity of a state the disfranchised polygamists of Utah may be able to regain control and the last ondition be worse than the first.

New advantages in favor of the industrial development of Alabama are turning up every day. Now they are talking of a new fuel down there, or rather of an old fuel perfected, which is claimed equal to natural gas and very cheap. It is a gas made from resin from the pine forests, and is used extensively in the manufacture of glasmanufacturer mys that it is entirely smoke less and makes a clear white teat. This gen-tleman explains that the trying labor of glass making, which is often suspended in Pittsburg on account of the heat, can be carried on without intermission at Atlanta, where there is always a pleasant breeze. In Pittsburg nine or ten months a year is the rule, but the Southern works, it is claimed, can run steadily. Certainly the South can not have more tropical summer weather than Pennsylvania beaten troubled with of late.

No MAN of this generation seems to be so well able to say the right thing at the right time as Grover Cleveland.

HERE is a sound plank in the Ohio Demo-cratic platform. It declares for a tauff which result in producing a revenue sufficient only to meet the expenses of an economical administration of the government and the payment of liberal pensions to Union soldiers and sattors."

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF PAYNE, of the Sons of Veterans, has been making a very conspicuous spectacle of himself lately. The Sons of Veterans aim at the organization of a military force that might be available as a nal militis, and in general order No. 16 Payne says: "Let us make a standing army of our order: well drilled and disciplined," and adds, "ready and willing to go at a moment's notice to cut off the shoot of treason, rebellion or anarchy before it grew to be a tree." The camps are also spe urged to "secure arms and equipments and acquire as much proficiency as possible in the manual of arms and evolutions of the line." and in the third section of general order No. 16 is this remarkable declaration : "The state of Pennsylvania has passed a law giving the surplus arms and equipments of the state to the order of the Sons of Veterans, and we hope other states will do likewise, and when we have a strictly loyal Congress we hope to have them constitute us the militia of the United States."

The Pittsburg Post, commenting on this bombastic "general order," wants to know what this particular "Son" means by the hope of getting at some future day "a strictly loyal Congress."

WHEN the papers of summer resorts speak of the happiness of a certain citizen over the "arrival of a braud new male boarder," it may be said that business and social interests are becoming slightly mixed.

AUMIOULTUMAL TUPIOS.

What to Do About the Farm That Will flave Beneficial Result From the Germantown Telegraph. root so useful, both in the kite

In this part of the republic the lat to the 15th of August, is the great turnip sowing time; and it is a crop so easily grown and a farm, that both the garden and field should have its turnip patch. The first essential to a good crop of turnips, and a crop of good tur-nips, is rich soil; and yet it is a necessity that the manure should be thoroughly decomposed. Some of the best successes follow a sowing on a piece of ground that has been highly matured for potatora. The latter crop rather prefers high loose manura. By the time they are mature, the manura has become rotten enough to suit the turnip exactly. The early crop of possioen being generally all dug by the affects of August, the turnip can then well follow. If the ground is in excellent condition, very good results often follow when the seed is sown so late as the first week in September; but this is contingent in a great measure on good rains falling soon after the seed is sown. If the potato crop has been kept well-worked, it is not necessary to plow it over again for turnips. As soon as the potatoes are taken out the rubbish can be harrowed off and the seed at once sown. It is possible that with more labor the result might be a triffe better; but we have seen such results follow from this practice that it is well to know it is so near perfection, as it often happens that in view of a sudden shower being probable, the seed may be put in at once, for certainly ashower on the seeds as soon as sown will be more good than an extra working of the ground.

Those do best generally who sow rather thin, and depend on the chance of getting clear of the fly. The best of precautions against this is good rich soil. Then the plant grows faster than the fly can injure it to any great extent and is thus saved.

reat extent and is thus saved. Care of Horses,

The following, from the Turf, Field and Farm, should have the attention of all owners of horses in this section: "In this bot weather the horse which labors in front of the wagon or plow should be watered frequentity. His stomach is small and it is a bad plan to give him a large quantity of water just before or immediately after eating. The water should be taken long enough before a meal to allow it to get out of the stomach, and thus make room for corn and cars, and it should not be taken after eating in quantity sufficient to wash away food before digestion begins. Give water at short intervals and a raging thirst will not be created. The horse is a patient toiler in barness, and he deserves careful treatment from his master, especially when the thermometer is up in the nineties."

How to Tell a Horse's Aga,

At two years old, colt sheds two centre nippers; at three years old, colt sheds the adjoining teeth ; at four years old, colt sheds outer or corner teeth : at five years old, bridle tooth is up and six years old, cups leave two centre teeth below; at seven years old, cups leave sojoining teeth; at eight years old, cups leave outer or corner teeth; at nine years old, cups leave two centre nip at line years old, cups leave two centre nip-pers above; at ten years old, cups leave ad-joining teeth; at eleven years old, cups leave corner upper testh; at twelve years or past, groove in inside of the bridle tooth diz-appears in horse. Mares very seldom have them. When they do, no criterion to be guided by.

This Distillery has been erected at the famous Old Groffstown Spring, which has been noted for its plenteous and unfailing supply of the purset water. At it our grandfathers drank when they were boys, and it has never been known to run dry even in the hottest weather. From this spring all the water used in the distillery is obtained, the pump drawing from it twenty-dve gallons a minute.

Besides my own distilled Whisky, I also handle Brandies. Gins. Wines. &c.
