When during the heated term one who has been exposed to the sun's bested rays begins to suffer from headache, giddiness, names and disturbance of sight, accompanied dden and great prostration of the physical forces, sunstroke is probably immi-nent. If such an one will take time by the orelock and immediately retire to a coo place, making use of some simple restora-tives, such as aromatic ammonia, etc., he may be spared further trouble : but if he may be spread further froute; but it he persists with his business be will doubtless soon become very ill, which illness usually takes the form of heat exhaustion, heat apopiexy or genuine sunstroke, the thermic fever of some writers.

Those who are exhausted by the heat have a cool, moist skin, a rapid, weak pulse and respiration movement and the pupil is dilated. In fact the symptoms are those of collapse. These patients will probably recover promptly, an event which may be hastened by the use of tonic and restorative treatment. Those who suffer from heat apoplexy frequently become unconscious at the onset. The heart and breathing apparatus is not markedly disturbed and the pupil may be normal, but the unconaciousness deepens and the case runs on to a faial termination. An artery has been broken in the brain and the puring out blood pressing on the nerve centres brings about the fatal event. A treatment calculated to draw the blood from the brain to the extremities—hot foot taths, bleeding, etc., promises to be the most useful in such cases.

in such cases.

The thermic fever patient is unconscious and convuised, and his body temperature may be 108 or 110 degrees Fahrenheit—that is, ten degrees above normal. The skin of this patient feels as though it would burn your hand when laid thereon. In this case the thorough, prompt application of cold water is needed. Ice to the head and cold water to the body generally will be in order. Medical advice should be promptly had in either of the two cases last referred to. Complete recovery from sunstroke is rare, the brain be ing permanently crippled in many cases. Residence in a cold climate affords some hope

THE STATE FIRE COMMISSION.

It Recommends the Building of Six More Pishways in the Columbia Dam. H. C. Ford, of Philadelphia; H. C. Demuth, of this city; S. B. Stillman, of Scranton; J. D. Long, of Pittsburg, and W. L. Powell, of Harrisburg, members of the state fish commission, have been at Columbia for a few days past, examining the fishways in the Columbia dam, and making arrangements for additional ones, to enable shad to ass up the river above the dam. They made a careful survey of the dam, and the two Rogers' fishways that were erected there a year ago. It is known that during the spring run of shad quite a number were caught by placing a gill net at the mouth of the fishway above he dam, and also that a greater number of shad were caught at several places above the dam than were caught in former years. The commissioners are in favor of building six additional fishways, and the matter of having them erected was left to Mr. Powell, of Harrisurg. That gentleman at once telegraphed Mr. to come on at once. The price of the patent is $800, but they think by the building of a half a dozen at a time they can be erected at much less cost. Two more will be placed in the dam on the Wrightsville side, between the two present ones, while four more will be done at once.

The commission have also decided on an active campaign against fish ptrates and builders of fish dams. At the last session of the legislature $5,500 was appropriated for fishways and the enforcement of the nish laws and the commission futend to use it to the be t purpose. Mr. Demuth is now in Columbis in furtherance of the work.
