

Nothing to say, my daughter! Nothing at all to say! I have not a word to say to you...

From the Boston Globe. The real reason why men and women live to such an extreme old age is that they don't know exactly when they were born.

From the Boston Globe. The Old Folks at Home. Or elsewhere, need a tonic now and then to sustain them under growing infirmities.

From the Boston Globe. The question of interest to those who are anxious to see the "wonderful" effect of this medicine...

From the Boston Globe. A high official of the government tipped back in his comfortable office chair and said to the Traveler correspondent: "I have made a discovery that is worth millions to the people of this country."

From the Boston Globe. A PLUCKY WOMAN. She captures a burglar by slapping him. He is arrested.

From the Boston Globe. To Test the Speed of Messenger Hops. William Stockwood, of New York, now of Westbury, Conn., has invented and placed in the service of the District Telegraph company there an ingenious contrivance which is destined to be of great benefit in the use of the district messenger call system.

From the Little Express. In York county the voice of the campfire can be heard howling over the coast.

John Doherty, a horse thief, serving a three year term in Herk county, attempted to escape from the county jail at 12 o'clock Thursday night by crawling through the ceiling. He had gotten half way in when he struck his head on the ceiling and fell forward on his face. His cries for aid brought the prison officials, and he was pulled out, but with a head injury and a broken jaw.

From the Boston Globe. Mrs. Cleveland has been urged to write a story, at her own price, for a leading magazine. Crakey, how it would take!

From the Boston Globe. "JUDITH NOT THAT HE IS NOT JUDITH." Perchance the friend who cheered their early days has yielded to the tempter's power: Yet why should he and draw away his shirt. An hour he wears, and would he do not hurt. Will thou prove stronger in temptation's hour? Perchance the one thou trusted more than thou.

From the Boston Globe. The Old Folks at Home. Or elsewhere, need a tonic now and then to sustain them under growing infirmities. No sale or more thorough means for age and the delicate can be found than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a reasonable medicine in these ailments of common occurrence.

From the Boston Globe. The question of interest to those who are anxious to see the "wonderful" effect of this medicine is not so much that the price of the necessities of life may be, as it is how many portions of food, fuel and clothing each one can buy at the retail shops in which the necessities of life are sold.

From the Boston Globe. A Remarkable Good Man. He who attends to the comfort of his family and will not let his little ones suffer with afflictions of the throat and lungs, should have in his home a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

From the Boston Globe. A Remarkable Good Man. Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by two of her townspeople: "I am 72 years old, have been troubled with rheumatism for over twenty years, and many times could not dress myself without help."

From the Boston Globe. A Remarkable Good Man. The Herk County Jail, Herk County, New York, is a place where many a man has been confined who has been suffering from the effects of the "wonderful" effect of this medicine.

From the Boston Globe. A Remarkable Good Man. Mothers! Mothers! Mothers!!! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth?
