The Cancaster Intelligencer.

LANCASTER, JULY 25, 1887.

What Will They Do About It ! A fresh instalment of instances of flagrant neglect at the county hospital is given by the INTELLI-GENCER to-day. The story of the boy with scrofulous holes in his leg, yearning to be cared for and yet required to work, would be worthy of the Black Hole of Calest agricultural county of the United States. The story of how paupers were punished by incarceration with the insane is well authenticated and evidences treatment of the most barbarous description.

And now we would like to know what the board of poor directors are going to do about it. Do they purpose to ignore these facts which have been collected by the INTELLIGENCER with care, and each of which can be amply vouched for? It is needful for them to take active and immediste measures to first reform the present administration of the almshouse by ousting all connected with its mismanage ment, and then to provide by careful personal inspection against the possibility of such occurrences in the future. Public opinion is aroused on this point, and it will not do for the board of poor directors to trifle at this juncture.

The Fall of Tuttle.

One good effect has followed the battleflag controversy, and that is the showing up of the military record of Gen. Tuttle, a Grand Army chieftain, who went so far as to threaten with personal violence President Cleveland, if the latter visited St. Louis during the Grand Army encampment. It would naturally be supposed that a man guilty of such gross disrespect to the head of the nation would also be an arrant coward, but it is rather surprising that the evidence to that effect was so quickly forthcoming.

The latest accuser of Tuttle is General B. F. Farrar, a staunch Republican, a rominent Grand Army man and the officer who succeeded General Tuttle in the com mand of the department of Natchez. He is now a prosperous manufacturer in St. Louis. Farrar says Gen. Slocum had to remove Tuttle from command at Fort Mc-Pherson, because of the cotton-jobbing When the latter was leaving in disgrace he tried to take a $2,000 landau, which had been confiscated from a planter and was used at department headquarters. A gunboat was sent after Tuttle and the landau found among his effects and restored. The act of Tutile did much to bring the Union army into disrepute among the Southerners.

But this is not the worst of the scandals associated with Tuttle's name. When he was in command at Natchez, he and a lawyer named Hart would bring about the summary arrest of cotton men, and then summarily release them for money. It is said that the aggregate hush money amounted to $74,000. Tuttle is said to have resigned in order to avoid a courtmartial. Farrar suggests that Tuttle be not permitted to attend the St. Louis en-

Thus has this swindling soldier brought a hornet's nest about his ears by attempting to belittle a man, the latchets of whose shoes he is not worthy to lace.

Ireland Proclaimed.

It has been decided by the Irish privy council to proclaim all the counties in Ireland under the crimes act, with the single exception of County Autrim, and the edict therefor has gone forth Antrim is excepted because it is an Orange stronghold. It is said that the government will take immediate measures to suppress the Irish National League as the first step towards applying the coercion

And why is Ireland proclaimed now in a period of profound peace? Its criminal courts are to be superseded; the commissioners under the coercion law have unlimited powers; they may imprison men without cause and give no reasons. In short, the whole island, with the exception of one county, is put beyond the pale of common law protection, and those guarantees of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness that obtain in every civilized country are suspended.

If crime was rampant in the Emerald Isle, there might be some excuse for this tyrannous action. But never has it been so peaceful as now. Can it be that the barbarous Tories desire to stir up revolt among the Irish in order to tie them still tighter in the chains of bondage. Ireland's patience will now be sorely $ ied.

Convict Labor.

Carroll D. Wright, the commissioner of labor, furnishes some interesting figures on the subject of convict labor in his second annual report. He finds a total number eagaged in convict labor of 64,349, the males numbering 58,454 and the females 5,995. Of this total number 45,257 are engazed in productive labor of some kind 15,100 are engaged in prison duties, and 3,972 are sick or idle. Of the total number. 14,827 are employed under the public account system, 15,670 under the contract sys em, 5,676 under the piece-price system and 9,104 under the lease system. New York has the largest number of con ricts at work, and that state also produe s the largest amount of convict-made goods, the value thereof being $6,236,330. The next state in rank is Illinois, producing $3,284,267 worth of convict-madegoods. Indiana comes next with a product of the value of $1,570,991, while Ohio stands fourth with a product of the value of $1, 368,122. Then come Missouri, $1,342,020; Pennsylvania, $1,317,265; Kansas, $1,270, 575; Tennessee, $1,142,000; Michigan, $1,087,785, and, last of the states producing over $1,000,000 worth. New Jersey, $1, 019,608. The other states and territories drop below the $1,000,000 point, Dakota coming at the bottom of the list with a product of $11,577. Boots and shoes are the chief staple of prison manufacture. Mr. Wright says : The value of the total product of the penal institutions of the country for 1880 was $28,753,000, which is 54-100 of one per cent, of the value of the total products of the industries of the country. To make the products of the industries of the whole country in 1886 there was paid in wages $947,953,795, or $1 in wages to $5.63 in product. The wages paid by contractors and lessees to states and counties for the labor of convicts, from which resulted a product of the value of $28,753,000, was $3,512,070, or $1 in convict labor wages to $8.19 of product of convict labor.

THE Millersville Normal school authorities are holding out special inducements to Laneaster people to pursue a course of in struc tion there. As will be seen by the advertisement printed on Saturday, the rates are fixed so low as to be within reach of the humblest of citizens.

THE state fish commission has been judiciously using the small appropriations allowed it if the report just issued is truthful, There have been distributed during the past year from the hatchery at Allentown 112 000 rainbow trout, 34,500 more than the preceding year : 200,100 brook trout, 39 900 less than last year; 863 black bass, 622 more than in 1885; German carp 4,400 for 1886 and 1887 3,541 less than in 1885. The distribution made from the Eric hatchery was: Brook trout 130,000, 30,000 more than 18% Rainbow trout 173,500, 2,000 tess than 1885. Salmon trout 237, 500, 144,000 more than 1885. German carp 1,550, 1,122 more than 1885.

THE Philadelphia Times' Fourth of July fund amounted to more than $5,000, all of which was spent but $116 i7. And now what shall the harvest be ?

THE Harrisburg Star is in the hands of the sheriff and will be sold on Saturday next. Executions were issued against the proprietor, Col. W. P. Hastings, by A. J. Dull for $1,500, Dauphin Deposit bank with Hon, W. A. Wallace as surety for $2,500 and 1. L. Butler for $380. This newspaper was seemingly on a paying basis ; it contained carefully selected news and the advertising pages were wel filled. It was the cheapest publication in the city, being furnished at five cents a week. No statement has been made by the proprietor as to the cause of its failure.

WHAT's in a name? George Washington, colored, was lynched at Mississippi City, Mississippi, on Saturday morning, for having attempted to teloniously assault a young white woman.

WE are glad to see that the General D. B. Birney Camp, No. 13, Pennsylvania Division of the Sons of Veterans, has addressed a sharp communication to General Waiter S. Payne. ommander-in-chief of the order, protesting against the use of the expression "when we have a strictly loyal Congress," in Payne's recently issued general order No. 16. The action of Birney camp was unanimous, and it rebukes brawler Payne in this dignified and forcible language: "We consider it de-cidedly unbecoming for a military organization to contradict in any manner the loyalty of Congress. Congress is the governing body of this country, and it does not become an organization that professes to stand up for the rumors that were attached to Tuttle's oid flag and thus follow in the footsteps of their forelathers, to antagonize the sincerity of the representatives of the people because they are not of the same political persuasion. No legislature, no matter what its politic can afford to arm a secret military organization that proclaims through its commanderin-chief such an accusation as occurs in gen eral order No. 16. We consider the aforementioned part of general order No. 16, treasonable in its character."

HANLAN and Gaudaur rowed an alleged race for an alleged stake of $1 000 at Pullman, Iti., on Saturday. It was plainly a hippodrome, and Gaudaur's backer bluntly says he told his man not to win. But races have become so dishonest that self-respecting people will not patronize them.

RUPUS E. SHAPLEY, the Philadelphia lawyer, who had much to do with drafting the revenue bill of 1887, pours some hot shot at ex Attorney General Palmer for pronouncing that legislation an "abortion and a tch." Shapley says :

When ex-Attorney General Palmer under-takes to criticize a bill which he does not understand, it would be well for him to reunderstand, it would be well for him to remember what an "abortion and a botch" the act of 1879 was, whichshad his approval, and which, according to the decision of our supreme court, resulted in allowing the corporations of this state, as a class, to escape with the payment of what is equivalent to a tax of about one mill on the dollar of their mortgages and moneys at interest, while private citizens are required to pay three mills. He would also do well to take up volume 101, of the Pennsylvania state reports, and re-read the case of the commonwealth vs. the Standard Oil company, which resulted so advantageously to that corporation, and, after reviewing the manner in which the commonwealth's case was presented by himself as attorney general, he will probably have a clearer idea of the meaning of the words, "an abortion and a botch.

Naturally enough, Ex-Attorney General Paimer regards the diffeated bill of 1887 with disfavor and will oppose it in the commiswhich he is a member, because the sion of which he is a member, because the fact that such a bill was necessary to correct the act of 1879 and its almost ananimous passage by both branches of the legislature, in spite of the protests of Mr. Palmer's friends, the corporations, convict him, at least, of having failed to earn his salary, in failing to point out to the governor that by it the state would lose and corporations gain about $1,000,000 per annum.

THE full delegate representation at Allen town, on August 31, will be 368. This is a gain of nine delegates over the vote of 1882.

BRIGADIER GENERAL WILLIAM MCKEE DUNN, retired, died Sunday morning at his residence in Fairfax county. Virginia, in the 72d year of his age. He was judge advocate general of the United States army. SPEAKER CARLISLE says: "I think the renomination of Mr. Cieveland is a foregone conclusion, and in my opinion it is the wisest and best thing the Democratic party can do.
It nominated be will be elected, no matter who may be his opponent. He has given the country a sensible, business-like and patriotic administration, and the best evidence of his capacity for the place he occupies is found in the fact that even his most vigilant and vindictive political opponents have not been able to point to a single instance in which any public interest has suffered on account of his official conduct."

ULBYBLARD'S POPPLABITT.

Alabama Congressman Talks of Strength in New York and the South. Washington Corr. Philadelphia Ledger. Congressman Wheeler, of Alabama, has been spending the past few weeks in New York, and in the course of his travels met many people with whom he talked about President Cleveland, with a view of secen taining average public sentiment in refer-ence to the president's chance for a second term. General Wheeler says there is conterm. General Wheeler says there is considerable talk in New York city among politicians in tavor of Governor Hill, but the people are for Mr. Cleveland and the general is confident he will have the New York delegation in the Democratic national convention. The Democracy of the country at large were for the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, and it would be folly for the New York Democracy to oppose him. General Weaver declares that the South is for Mr. Cleveland's renomination, because he has had the courage to treat the people of General Weaver declares that the South is for Mr. Cleveland's renomination, because he has had the courage to treat the people of that section with fairness. "Before Cleveland became president," said General Wheeler, "the South was under a ban. We were nominally equal to our Northern brethren before the law; but in reality we were in a very different position. In our own country we were really treated as a subject race; a race in whom rebellion and discontent and discorter were matural and hereditary. And as we were treated at home, so we were regarded abroad. Our credit was gone. Capitalists would not invest their money among us; strangers would not come to live among us. We usually opposed the Republican administration, and that party opposition was construed and perverted into a propensity to oppose the government. This Democratic administration has given us an opportunity to prove that imputation to be a lie. President Cleveland has given Southern men the position of equality to which they are by right entitled and has put us right before the world. The consequence is that men and capital are flowing to the South, as to a land of future wealth and greatness. The South has been put upon the road to prosperity by this Democratic administration, and the South will be solid for the renomination of Mr. Cleveland."

Handcuffed to His Sweetheart.

Among the attendants at commencement is a charming young lady from an adjacent county who is a great favorite in Athens. She is visiting a down-town family. On Sunday night last a handsome young professional, whom we call Dr. Hancock, called upon Miss Amanda Spriggins (which is not the lady's real name). There were in the parlor a pair of handcutts. Dr. Hancock jestingly proposed that they suffer themselves to have their wrists linked together, to which proposition Miss Spriggins readily consented. The handcutts were apring locks, and soon had the young couple firmly bound together. After a while they became weary of this bondage, but discovered to their consternation that the handcutts could not be loosened. Among the attendants at commencemen that the handculfs could not be loosened. It was then discovered that the key was in the possession of a young man who had gone on a visit to Oconee county, and was not ex pected home until next day. The young couple decided to make the best of their situation and spend the night sitting up. Fortunately, however, just as the clock struck 12 the possessor of the key chanced to return, and the handcuffs were removed.
