TAR AND PRATERED FOR A MINISTER Bov. Mr. Rhody Gots Bissoil Disliked by

At Lepeer, Mich., the Rev. Guiles G. Rhodes, a Methodist preacher, has sworn out warrants before Justice Barber for the arrest of Dr. William F. Harrison and Dr. Wilson, the er a veterinary surgeon, and for twentyer whose names are not given, for wone bodily essent. Mr. Rhodes says that a few days ago, while he was holding divine service at a private house in Rich township, thirty men, masked with false beards and blackened faces, entered the house of Harrison, and Wilson, he says, led the party. Rhodes was seized and struck on the head with a club. He was then taken out, his clothes removed and his body bedsubed with tar. A feather bed was then cut open and the feathers applied. He was next ridden on a rail and terribly maltreated. They dragged him, he claims, toward a mill pond on the farm and threatened to throw him in, but desisted when he said he could not wim. They, however, gave him a sayers sim in, but desisted when he said he could not swim. They, however, gave him a severe well pumping and then another cost of tar and a cost of fine grass, the feathers having given out. He was finally liberated more dead than alive.

Rhodes claims not to know the motive of the party, but from another source comes the statement that the preacher has given great offense in the community by his free-love doornes, which he has mixed with free Methodism. Rhodes is an old man and a harmles-looking creature. He says that some oi the party to the outrage feel greatly stirred up against him because he has exposed the evil doings in the township. Harmon and Wilson have been arrested, and their examination is set for August 10th.

BAID, THUNDRE AND LIGHTNING.

Another Lively Storm Breaks Upon This Only.

Visited by Lighting.

At noon to-day Lancaster was visited by a heavy fall of rain, accompanied by rather phenomenal thunder and lightping. The phenomenal thunder and lightpin bolts of lightning in several instr peared to be great balls of fire, and the thun-der sounded more like the discharge of heavy artillery and the bursting of shells than ordinary thunder. The lightning struck several places in this city, but not much damage was done.

The chimney of a house 315, North Charlotte street, was struck and some siste was torn from the roof of the building. Damage

The electric light pole corner of Orange and Charlotte streets was struck. The pole was shattered, the lamp broken and the battery burned out. Other poles and lamps on the same line were more or less injured.

Dr. Shaub, veterinary surgeon, 624 North and was in the act of putting the deadistoh key in the door when he was almost blinded by a flash of lightning that seemed to fill the whole street and dealened by a simultanous peal of thunder. When he recovered suf-ficiently to look after his team he found the horse so badly stunned as to be scarcely able to stand, and the new phreton on which he was harnessed badly shattered. It would seem that the bolt of lightning struck and demolished the vehicle without killing the

Dr. S. H. Metzger had tied his horse to a post in front of the Robrer house, on East Chestnut street, near North Queen. The lightning struck near by, stunned the horse, causing him to fall and break a shaft and de-slightly stunned by lightning, which took effect in one of his arms. The house of John Cresbaugh, 307 North Mulberry street, was struck and several bricks knocked from the top of the chimney. A large locust tree in the Lancaster stock yards was struck and shattered.

Prior to the storm at noon, this morning was one of the most enervating of the season While the thermometer did not get much above $85, the humidity must have been well up in the nineties. It is said that when the humidity reaches 98 per cent. a cigar will not remain lighted. It was not quite that bad here, but the moisture exuded out of the body, as though poor humanity was being subjected to a Turkish bath. The recollection of the morning made the afternoon precze all the more delightful.

THE WEISE ISLAND CLUB. Breaking Up Camp, After a Most Erjoyable

Week on the Surquehanus. WEISE ISLAND, Aug. 6.-5 A. M.-The Weise Island Fishing club, of your city, which has been encamped here for the week broke up camp this morning, have packed up all camp and garrison equipage, and be-fore many hours go by will be on their way homeward. The members are a jolly, whole souled body of men, who know how to enjoy excursions to the country, as well as to make themselves comfortable and happy, and how to entertain friends and guests. Although they met with some disagreeable weather storms, yet they did not allow any discouragements to arise to spoil their pleasures and sports, and there is not single accident nor incident to record that could appen to mar or disturb their enjoyment of Capt. Weise complimented the club and expressed regret on behalf of his family at their departure, announcing that the people of York county held them in grateful remembrance for alding them at Sunday school festivals, etc. Delegations from two other of Lancaster's piscatorial associations paid their respects to the club and they were sumptuously entertained. They represented the Farmers' and the Algonquin clubs and were highly gratifled with their receptions. The Algonquins started with our boys on their trip and rendered acts of kindness and courtesy which had not been forgotten by the Weise Island Fishing club. The club was fortunate in having secured the services of Abraham Maxwell and Frank Dean as caterers. The club upon its return will be met at the depot by the members now at home, and escorted to Knapp's Lie derkranz hall, where a collation awaits them.

Germ Proof Water Filter. The germ proof water filter, which was invented, by the famous French scien-test, M. Pasteur, and first introduced by him, invented, by the famous French scientest, M. Pasteur, and first introduced by him, two years ago this month, at the French Academy of Science, is without exception the most compact and durable invention of kind ever constructed. Its efficiency is marvelous, and in Europe it has superseded all other filters in use there, and is now being introduced in America with very gratifying success. The people of this city will readily appreciate the utility and the advantages of M. Pasteur's favorite invention, and look upon it as a household necessity. One of those handsome filters should last a life time, and a single bongie will filter about 50 gallons daily of Conestogs water.
