The services were opened at 8 o'clock with prayer mest-ing and experience meeting which closed at 10 o'ofock, after which preaching com-menced. Presiding Elder Rev. Wm. Gebman officiated and preached remarkably closer together, so that the road will be in first-class order by the time the county fair opens on Monday, August 29th.

The line from the Reading depot via North Prince, West James and North Queen street is rapidily approaching completion, the rails being laid and the track ballasted from the depot to North Queen and Walnut streets. By the end of the week the track will be laid to the Pennsylvania railroad passenger depot, and there probably some trouble may result, as the Pennsylvania railroad officials object to the crossing their road at grade, and the Millers ville railway company, whose track is of a narrow gauge, object to the new company running their cars on the Millersville track by the aid of an additional rail, as proposed New Cars for the East End Road,
