To Kill Sugar Trusts. The expected reduction of $11,000,000 of duty on sugar will have one excellent flect in breaking up the sugar trusts that breaking up the sugar trusts that this most extensively used article of food The investigation by the New York Senate of the sugar trust showed that since its formation on December 1, 1887, it had orbed all the large refineries in the United States, except one in Boston, one in Philadelphia and two in San Fran-cisco. It holds the properties of the absorbed refineries, having issued certif.cates therefor to the amount of over $45. 500,000, which sum represents three or four times the par value of the stock of the refining firms and companies. Even on this inflated valuation, and after the loss incurred by closing up six refineries to retrict production, there remained a profit of twelve per cent.

In three months this brazen trust sucseeded in advancing the price of refined sugar over 1; cents a pound, which, when it is remembered how vast is the consumption of sugar, would amount to millions of dollars for ithose in the "combine." How they bring about these results is shown by the testimony of Mr. Sierck, of the Moller & Sierck refining company. His firm had built a refinery costing $210,000 merely to get taken into the trust, and since they were taken n, their refinery had been closed and their workmen discharged, though the profits continued as before.

The high tariff wall on refined sugars of 2.75, 3 and 3.50 cents per pound, have protected the trust from the competition of foreigners while engaged in plucking the native consumer. It will not be so easy to do this if Congress passes such a tariff measure as is contemplated.

The Tariff Bill.

The tariff bill prepared by the Demo cratic majority of the ways and means committee in the House, though the result of most careful and deliberate consideration, must endure an immense amount of cutting and amending before it can hope to receive formidable support. The long free list will be fiercely attacked and seems to offer many vulnerable points, but we suspect that this will prove the strongest part of the measure. The admission of lumber free is not only wise as a commercial measure, but is necesmary for the salvation of our rapidly disappearing forests, and though there may be complaint that certain manufactured wood, as hubs and gun blocks, are admitted free, the fact is that in these rticles American machinery has enabled that would have long ere this paralyzed one of less determination. He is older than the years allotted to the psalmist but when he takes hold of a piece of work, he brims over with enthusiasm like a boy. This is the best way of growing old-not to grow old.

An Interesting Point. The New York court of appeals has just decided that a trust created for the purchase of masses for the soul of a deceased testator is not valid. Thomas Gunning died about five years ago, at an advanced age, having amassed $27,000. He left a will by which he bequeathed about $20,000 to various relatives in this country, in Ireland, in Australia and in other places. The residue of his estate was left in trust to be devoted to the purchase of masses for the soul of the testa-

One of the beneficiaries brought an action in the supreme court to set aside the will on the ground that the trust for masses was invalid. Trustee Smyth interposed a demurrer, but Judge Pratt overruled it and held that the plaintiff's cause of action was good. The general term of the supreme court reversed Judge Pratt's decision and sustained the de murrer ; the court, in its opinion, holding that the trust was valid and that a person could devote his estate to the purchase of masses for either himself or others. The court of appeals has reversed the general term and sustained Judge Pratt, thus deciding that a trust created for the purpose named is not valid. It would be interesting to learn the point on which this startling decision was made. CHAIRMAN MILLS had a great head when he reduced the duty on peanuts from one cent to three-fourths of a cent a pound. Peanuts are necessaries to many people.

THE New York Herald has been publish ing on its editorial page occasional solitary stanzas from the pen of Walt Whitman They are doubtless intended to impress the reader with a notion of "the good grey poet," as his admirers call him, standing in lone intellectual grandeur above the uni verse. In fact in the last one he makes this quite plain :

I stand as on some mighty eagle's beak, Eastward the sea absorbing, viewing, (noth-ing but sea and sky) The tossing waves, the foam, the ships in the distance, The wild unrest, the snowy, curling caps-that inbound urge and urge of waves, feeking the shores forever," The spectacle of Wait Whitman standing on the nose of an eagle and casually absorb ing the sea, is indeed sublime for those who can imagine it. The last lines undoubtedly have merit in them, and it is a pity that they are ruined by the extravagant concelt of the first.

PERHAPS there was considerable Grevy malice in the dose that Son in-Law Wil

AFRICA should be the cause of wakeful nights on the part of the temperance cruaders, Strong drink pours into Africa from all parts of the globe. The United States stands third in the list of importing countries. In 1884.'5 we sent to Africa an aggregate of 921,412 gallons of spirits. In 1886 Boston sent 733 000 gallons in one carge. . Germany and Holland, the two powers whose unwillingness to join in a prohibition of all such traffic with native tribes defeated the efforts of the United States, England, Italy and Belgium in that direction at the Berlin Congress, take the lead in this profitable trade. The latest statistics, which are two years old, put down 7,000,000 of the 10,000,000 gallons imported into Africa in 1886 to the share of Germany-or nearly three-fourths. Holland sent about 1,000,000 gallons.

PPLY TO THE SCHOOL BOARD FOR THE USE OF A SCHOOL BUILDING.

The Matter Discussed and Beferred to the Prop erty Committee-Another School Building Proposed for the West End - The Super-Intendent on Industrial Education.

The March meeting of the Lancaster city school board was held on Thursday evening in common connell chamber with the following members present :

Messrs. Baker, Bernard, Bolenius, Bro sius, Breneman, Darmstetter, Eberman Erisman, Evans, Griest, Hegener, Lippold Lichty, Marshall, McCormick, McCom McElligott, McKillips, Ochs, Owens, Pontz, Raub, Schnader, Shirk, Wohisen, White and Wickersham, president. The minutes of the February meeting were read and approved. Mr. Evans, of the finance committee, reported the bills for supplies furnished during the month and on motion the treas-rer was directed to pay the same. Mr. Ochs, of the night school committee reported a good attendance at the boys' night school. There are 81 enrolled, with an average attendance of 60. The girls night school is not so well attended. There are 43 on the roll, with an average attendance of 31. Mr. Ochs reported that the services of one of the teachers in the girls school had been dispensed with. The reports of the chairmen of the visiting committees showed the schools of the city to be in a flourishing condition. REPORT OF CITY SUPERINTENDENT.

The following is the report of the city superintendent for the month : LANCASTER, PA., March 1, 1888.

To the Board of School Directors. GENTLEMEN .- Your city superintenden submits the following report of the public schools for the month of February. The whole number of cupils enrolled was 265 in the high school, 379 in the grammar, 638 in the secondary, 38 in the ungraded, 882 in the intermediate, and 1,377 in the primary, making s total of 3,579, and adding 124 attending the night schools, the grand total was 2,760 total was 3,703. The average attendance was 251 in th high schools, 344 in the grammar, 552 in the secondary, 31 in the ungraded, 729 in the intermediate, and 1,104 in the primary making a total of 3,011 and adding 91 at ending the night schools, the grand total The average percentage was $6, the num ber of pupils never absent was 1.071, the ber of pupils never absort was 1,071, the number of visits made by the city superin-tendent was 111, those made by the direc-tors numbered 147, as follows: W. O. Marshall, 62, Chas, Lippold, 22. W. Me Comsey, 20, Hon J. B. Wariel, 13, J. Mc-Killips, 11, J. I. Hartman, 5 J. Oshs, 3, T. B. Cocherg. 1.

B Cochran, 1. The number of teachers present at the teachers' meetings was 70, those absent were Mr. W. H. Lovergood and Misses M. Mar-tin, L. Zog and K. Bucktos. The subject of industrial education and manual training has been before the board on a former occasion, and your city super-intendent has, therefore, no hesitation in laving before you the following letters :

Having before you the following lotters : [Here are given letters from the Ham-mond Type Writer company, of New York, and Wyckeff, Seamans & Bouedict, of Philadelphia, offering inducements for the introduction of type writing in the schools.] What particular kind of industrial educa-tion chail has charge will of course he ocction shall be given, will, of course, be con-ditioned by the wants of the community a well as the sex of the pupil. Bearing mind that many of our pupils, girls as well as boys, go from the school to mercantile pursuits and clerical occupations, your city superintendent believes that the board could not err were it to accept the offer here made, and, at least by way of experiment, incorporate type-writing among the subjects to which attention, should be given, especially in the girl's high school. While in attendance at the national con-vention of superintendents at Washington, called especially to consider the subject of manual training your city superintendent manual training, your city superintendent took occasion to visit the manual training schools and those living on the outskirts of the city could attend the township schools. There are two city children sitending the schools of Lancaster township and four-teen attending city schools. The com-mittee saked that the board do not enforce the rule too strictly this year and next year these people will make arrangements echoes to their bargain talks.

year these people will make arrangements to pay for the tuition of their children. Mr. Evans said there were a number of people who owned property in the city but who live outside the city limits, and it was unfair that these owners of city real estate should be asked to pay tuition. He in-stanced Mr. Kepler, who paid over $100 per year school tar. He thought the matter ought to be re ferred to the superintending committee a that the rule could be amended and th owners of city real estate relieved. Mr. McComsey took the position that the board cannot make a rule governing the matter. The law prohibits non-real from sending children to our schools and while it is a hardship the board cannot relieve these people. After some further discussion participate in by Measure. Hegener, Raub, Broalus and Baker the matter was dropped. A PROPOSED NEW BUILDING.

Mr. Marshall made a motion that the ad visability of building an eight room school building on West Chestnut street be referred to the property committee, to report at the next meeting. Adjourged.

us to excel the world, and we have no cause to fear foreign competition.

The section bearing on wool will doubtless be more bitterly assailed than any other portion of the bill, and that, not because it is the weakest part but for the reason that the interests affected are among the most powerful and the most thoroughly dependent on the tariff. The iron and steel men will feel in duty bound to raise a great cry over the deadly peril to their industries lurking beneath the reduction on pig iron, rails and bars, but it is far less than they had reason to fear and will probably have the effect of checking the tendency of the business to smodic and unhealthy booms, giving it a more even and safe prosperity.

Public Buildings.

In the Century for March there is an article on public buildings calling attention to their inferiority in architecture as compared with buildings erected by private enterprise. The writer says that until the architectural business of the United States government is put upon such a basis that it will tempt the hands of our very best architects, and will permit that many of them shall join in devoting to it a portion of their time, the American people must be content with a some service than any other nation ac-

The complaint seems to be that architects are chosen, not because of their talents, but because of their ability to lobby their causes. The frequent change in them results in an average of works which do not rightly represent the standing of American architecture to-day. All of which it will be well to keep in mind in view of the near possibility of a public building for Lancaster.

Our Vanishing Debt.

The debt statement issued by the treas ury department in March should be held in mind when considering the tariff bill. It shows a decrease of the national debt in the eight months ending February 29th, of nearly seventy-seven millions of dollars. The decrease during February was $7,756,366. Twelve times the decrease of this short month would give an annual reduction of over ninety three milns. The national debt less cash in the treasury and available cash items in March," amounted to $1,202,454,714 ; quite an impressive procession of figures : but they would all be swallowed up in less than a dozen years by the monthly decrease shown for February, 1888. The report also shows that the following enormous treasure is stored away in the vaults of Uncle Sam :

Total gold and allver $65,526,882 05

De Lesseps.

That irrepressible, energetic and fiery old man, Count De Lesseps, has announced at a meeting in Paris of the shareholders in the Panama Canal company that a further sum of money would be raised by the issue of bonds to the face value of 600,000,000 francs ; that locks would be used in the canal, and that it would be opened in 1899, one year later than he has heretofore claimed for its opening. The meeting approved his report.

Some people are advocating the teaching of type-writing in the public schools. 'The next move will be to teach plane playing. Reform is necessary.

FRANK STOCKTON, writing in St. Nich olas of the queer notions of foreigners concerning America, describes an English atlas as follows :

"We shall find, in such an atlas, full and complete maps of every European country and principality, a whole page being some times given to an island, or to a colony in Asia and Africa ; but the entire United States, with sometimes the whole of North America besides, is crowded into a single map. Some of these are so small that the New England states are not large enough to contata their names, and are designated by letters which refer to the names printed in an open part of the Atlantic ocean. No wonder that the people who use these maps have a limited idea of our country. ' Mr. Stockton would find a French school atlas much more primitive in this respect than the English article. An atlas used by an American boy in one of the first school of France, the Lycee Imperial of Paris, shows the whole of North America on one small map with the names of only five cities on the coast and none at all west of the Alleghentes, while the Mississippi valley was labelled Louisians and thriving We tern states appeared as unexplored coun try. But this map was used before the contennial celebration which did much to open the eves of Europeans to the fact of our existence as a great nation.

REPUBLICANS will attempt to may that the Mills tariff bill is a free trade measure. On this point the New York Herald says It is not a "free trade" measure: on the contrary, no free trader can examine it with out strongly disapproving very many of its provisions. It is a measure for tariff revision made strictly from the protectionist standpoint, and there is not a section or clause in it which does not show the influence of protectionist opinion or protectionist information upon those who framed it. It will, therefore, in many ways disappoint tariff reformers and free traders.

But it deserves the support of all moder-ate protectionists, and the prudent friends of the protective system will do well to He is one of the most wonderful of they were drawn before they are misled by extremists into opposing it.

the plant consists of six forges and as many lathes and moulding benches. It cost, ex-clusive of the building, about $1,300; and the cost of teaching is about $2,100 per annum. The other division consists of about $60 koys from the grammar school, who attend Loys from the grammar school, who attend twice a week, one hour each time, in classes of 24 at a time. For these 24 work-benches are provided, and they also are taught to work in wood and iron, to make the model in sand and cast it in meta'. not be wanted at all in another. In view of the recent change of time of opening and closing our schools, by which a half hour was added for five months in the year to the grade above the primary, (excepting the high schools) it may be of interest to the board to learn that Dr. Eliot, the learned president of Harvard University, as well as Supt. Jones, of Erie, Pa than whom no superintendent in Pennsyl than whom no superintendent in Fennsyl-vania is more competent to form a correct opinion on this subject, both agree that children should be kept at school more hours per day, and no superintendent present seemed included to call this view in question. The fact no doubt is that it is not the time spent at school, but the character of the school that determines either the injury or the benefit received by the child. Respectfully submitted by your obadient servant, R. K. BUEHRLE.

Mr. McCoursey said application has been made for the use of one of the school rooms for church purposes. He referred to Olivet Baptist church, who have been worshipping for some time at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, but who are obliged to leave there on April 1st. This congregation has on hand sufficient funds to warrant them in going on with the erection of a building and they have purchased a lot of ground and will begin their building about April ist and have it completed about November

1st. He moved that the property committee enter into a contract for the use of R. S. Gates' school, on South Duke street, and it be granted to the petitioners. Mr. Evans said there was a Baptist church on East Chestnut street which was plenty large enough to accommodate all the Baptists in the city. There was a fight in the church and some of the members left and started another church. He did not think Olivet congregation would be able to build for years. He was opposed to granting the use of the school buildings for any purpose. He moved as an amendment that the mat ter be referred to the property committee to report at the next meeting. Mr. McComsey made a strong ples in favor of granting the privilege asked for.

He mentioned among other parties the name of Mr. Foster as one of the members. Mr. Baker took the position that the board did not have the right to give the use of their school buildings to any church. Mr. Evans thought that giving the use of he school for church purposes might invalidate the insurance placed on the building. Mr. Brosius desired to correct Mr. Mc-Comsey as to Mr. Foster. Ho'ts a member of St. John's Lutheran church. The amondment of Mr. Evans was adop-
