Harry G. Hirsh was arrested this morning by Deputy United States Marshs rms on the charge of violating the revenue law. It appears that the accused had a place on East Millin street, where he cut up leaf tobacco, which he shipped from the city. No one is allowed to ship tobacco in this way unless permission in received from the collector's office or the tobacco is properly stamped. Hirsh claims that he was merely cutting up the tobacco for other parties and mys that he has been engaged at it bince first of February. Deputy Collector ligie made the complaint before United States Commissioner Kennedy, who this ing held the accused in $1,000 bail for hearing. Marshal Burns locked up Hirsh's place of business and turned the key over to Collector MacGonigie.

Fight Over a Paper of Scrape. On Tuesday morning a short, sleepy soking Irishman, giving his name as John Brown, was before Mayor Edgerley. He was discharged and for the last couple of days be has been around town. He has contaged to get several loads of whisky on board, but kept out of the way of the coilos. Last evening he appeared on South Queen street and going into the store of John Stein, purchased a package of scrap c. He refused to pay for the tobacco Brown struck Stein in the face, knocking him down and then made his escape, taking the paper of tobacco with him. He has not been aince by the police, who are in search of him.

HE DEALS IN RINGS A Stranger Sells Them Away Below Their Market Value.

Last night a man, who was a stranger, boarded one of the street cars, which run between Centre Square and McGrann park. There were no passengers on board, and the stranger became engaged in conversa-tion with the driver. Finally he produced uon with the driver. Finally he produced a very heavy gold ring, which he insisted was of the best quality. He said that he had seen a man lay the ring down while he washed his hands in the Broad street station, Philadeiphia, and he could not resist the temptation to steal it. He wanted to sell the ring and saked $4 for it. The driver said he did not want it, but finally agreed to take it a much less sum. He cluded that if was not he would not be much out, and if it was he might find the real owner. This morning the ring was taken to a jeweler, who pronounced it very good and just as represented. Inside o inquiry it was learned that the same fellow boarded other street cars yesterday and offered to sell rings. One of the drivers at once recognized him as a fellow who tried to sell him rings last summer. The fellow is believed to be a thief who comes here from ome other city to dispose of stolen property

SHOOTING THROUGH WINDOWS. Lady Surprised to Find a Rifls Ball to

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Margaret Weish, who resides on Green street, nest Strawberry, was at work in the kitchen when she heard a crashing noise as though something had been thrown through one of her windows. She ran to the front of the nouse and was surprised to find that a pane of glass, in one of the windows was badly shattered. She made a further examinanation and to her astonishment, found a good sized rifle ball imbedded in the sash of the window. Who fired the bullet could which it struck the window the belief is that it came from Strawberry street. Whether the shot was an intentional one. fired with an idea of doing harm or whether it was accidental is not known.

A New Kind of Ride for Him. Among the passengers on the 7:15 train from Quarryville last evening was a man almost 60 years of age, who boarded the cars at New Providence. He was some-thing of a curious character in his way to trainmen, as he had never before ridden over a railroad. He refused to take a seat during the trip to Lancaster, but insisted upon standing. Upon arriving here he looked around apparently relieved that he arrived here safely and said to an ac quaintance, "I stood myself, they did not The Lancaster Athletic Club, There was a large attendance of the mem bers at the regular meeting of the Lancas ter Athletic club, held in the gymnasium

Thunder, Lightning and Rain. The first real storm of thunder, lightning and rain that visited Lancaster this spring set in about midnight last night, and con tinued for some hours. The rainfall was very heavy, the lightning vivid and the thunder loud. There was very little wind and no damage is reported.

Old Faster Eggs.

The children of the late Jacob B. Baer, of Rohrerstown, have some very old Easter eggs in their possession. They all bear initials, and the oldest was scratched in 1829 by the father. The others bear the dates 1850, 1852, 1857 and 1863.
