Takea peep at us, and you will wonder how we can even find spare time enough to write a decent advertisement. Others complain about business being slow. Let them take a gentle hint. Visit our place and see how we do things. It is not a secret, and when we know that you will benefit by it, we feel as the up the word will benefit by it, we feel as the up the word will benefit by it, we feel as the up the word will benefit by it, we feel as the up that you will benefit by it, we feel as the up that you will benefit by it, we feel as the up that you will be entitled by it, we feel as the up that you will be up and doing. Don't sit and wat. FUSH, PULL, and, if must be, RUN. Cater for the wants of your customers. Give them a large and varied store, nice and fresh, to select from. Buy largely. He shrewd, but not tricky. Take advantage of kandseine discounts, and seli your goods just in the same manner as you have tu chased them. Let your customers have the benefit of your garn in buying, and you will soon discover that they will know how to appreciate your generasity. All this takes money. You are expected to have it lieavy buyers yistt large stores. Large stores are easily located. Why, said one man to an other, in accidently got down weat King street on a hunt for a grocery. "I struck in," and when I got inside I "stuck." Yes, positively "stuck." I was amused. Thought I was in an auction room at first, but when I discovered the large armyof busy salesmen shooting their cash sales over the wires, the four immense electric fams, suspended from the ceiling, in constant motios, an electric motor, the Arc light and other attractions. I was soon convinced that I was in the largest grocery store I ever saw. I inquired, and was told it was it is the store.

We hardly thought this would pay to soil the finest Dried Beef at 13 cen's per pound, but we are making it pay by selling two or three barrels of beef per week. Come look at it. Taste it and be your own judge It's Armour's best Ohicago Beef.

Hotels and boarding houses. NOTICE.—We will make special prices on 50 pound lots.

The Corner Grocery COR. EAST KING AND DUKE STS, arranged for the display of Jerseys and Children's Cloaks and Coats only, and we invite all to come and look at them.

"MY, OH, WHAT A CROWD! WHAT are they giving away!" exclaimed one lady to another, as they entered the ORIGINAL AND ONLY CASH GROUGEY on Saturday night. "They give no presents here, but they seed a will be come and the common the store is always so ful of oustomers," was the store is always so full of customers," was the reply. That is it-wactly. From CLOPHES-PINS AT ONE CENT A DOZEM to the FINEST TEA at 50,80 and 70 cents a pound, every article is sold at CASh PROFITS, and this alone explains the won-

GRABILL

IN LANCASTER. But is there a difference between cash and credit prices? asks some one. Let us see a small bill:

Here is a difference of 55 cents in a small bill, such as a small family buys during a single week. In a year it will amount to $19.72. Will not that pay for a daily paper, some books, and lots of nice things for the baby and little folks? Cash dealing always did, does now and always will pay.
