He May Regain Sight. Jacob Booth, a son of Mrs. Mary Booth, a well-known blind man of town, may recover his sight. He became blind when quite young, and much was done for his re-tier, but to no purpose. After the success-ful operation of Dr. L. Webster Fox, in own, he thought seriously of going so see the physician and aspertain if there was any hope for him. An examination ade and he was told that he had sixty es out of seventy to recover his sight He was determined to take the chance. A o'clock he went through the first opera on, which consisted of removing the blood vessels around his eyes. The operation took place at the German hospital in Phil adelphia. The final operation will not be made for two weeks. A Shirt Factory.
