n, according to location.

The City Water. ar contemporary, the New Era, an an elaborate defense of the Repub-n city administration, which was asd by a correspondent of this journal fliciency of its management of vater works. The ill-success of the Era's defense will be seen from its on that the works are not at all and they should be, its excuse for their clency being that "infants must before they can walk."

It will seem to most of our citizens at our water works are rather incorstly described as infantile in age. Their irth dates pretty nearly back to the ction of the oldest inhabitant; to will remember, too, the time when did not have mud served to us instead the water we pay for; but it takes a old inhabitant to remember this.

We have no issue to join with our coemporary over the location of the new rater works, which probably was wise; at we do say that it is a disgrace to this that, after its great expenditure for ter, it is supplied, in every time of flood in mud instead of water. It is a fraud on the consumer and a discredit to the sity, which should not be endured for an at longer than it will take to remedy and which cannot be excused. It is practicable to pump water re leved of its mud from a muddy creek, and it can be done at small expense. The New Era wants to await the building of servoirs on the college hill. In our nt they are not needed. In these when stand-pipes give the needed all of a city's water supply, it is foolh to build reservoirs on high hills, a expensive ground within the city ts, unsightly objects as they generally obstructing inter-communication. aning disastrous floods upon their way, leaking frequently and costnuch. The storage reservoirs of n water are needed at the pumping setion; especially when the pumping power is as extravagantly provided as it is by this city.

William Mahone.

The contemplation of William Masone, of Virginia, at the Reputlican tional convention in Chicago cannot very pleasing to those of his party the sigh for statesmanship and hate the n. With his miserable contest th Wise for delegates, the convention res kept for 31 hours, and, if reports be ue, the scenes in the meeting of the ittee on credentials were worthy of he lowest bar-room in the country. The lie was passed, blasphemy freely uttered and lives at times were imperilled. But what better could be expected of ntest in which Mahone was party; with a semi-guerrilla record on wrong side in the war, he was one of the first of the superserviceable politius to go over into the Republican ranks. By disreputable methods, he awaged to come to the front in an era of carpet-baggism, and finally by rather nable means, which his own party distiked to uncover, he was chosen one of the senators from Virginia. Then he me a permanent leech upon his party, at he was always first for William Ma-

At length the people of Virginia arose as one man to drive him from power, and so deep was the sea in which he was engulfed that it was hoped he would not come to the surface again. But here he is in Chicago in the sweltering heat, stirring up demoralizing fights and playing his old part of champion political rowdy of the day.

The Republicans deserve commiseraon for being burdened with this Oldof-the-Ses. While the faintest hope or spoils remains, he will be with them. His retirement from public life would be a distinct gain for national political virtue.

A Snared Lawyer.

A lawyer has been convicted and sen-New York for larceny, because he adal a bank clerk, who was his relative and client, and who had stolen money m the Manhattan bank, to steal a big lle and give it to him and go to Canada; supon the lawyer would use a part of the money to compromise with the nk, and would return the rest, less his fee, to his client.

This was good advice from the lawyer to the bank clerk in a business point of view; having been proved to be so by the habit that banks indulge of comnding the felony of their employes, to pounding the felony of their employes, to get back part of their cash. If banks would serve the law, lawyers could not give such counsel to bank thieves.

This lawyer came to grief, not because be gave this advice, but because he lost he money in speculation before he got a ace to settle with the bank ; or maybe he never looked for the chance, and sluded that his best interests required lim to keep the $140,000 that he received. The bank, disgusted at this greediness, and unable to get any of the money, de mined to resolutely prosecute the man that got its cash. The thief was let off concondition of testifying against the lawyer; and so it comes that the confessedly guilty party is not punished; nor who, if his story is true, lost his money lating with it for his client's ulti sale benefit and acting wholly in his in-

Wemen as Doctors. Dr. Mary Willits has been elected aber of the Philadelphia County Medial society, one of the most conservative exclusive professional organizations the country, and the friends of woman's are in high glee over their triumph. imagine that it heralds the rapid s footing of most perfect equality the orposite sex; that the ociety of the most conservative of cities neans nothing less than an early and plete collapse of all opposition. In point of fact it only means that their op-ponents have abandoned an outwork of triffing importance, and are as confident as ever of the eventual relegation of woman to a separate field of work, no matter how hard she may try to become the rival of man. A certain measure of success they are sure enough to win, but none know better than the physicians themselves the barriers that nature has placed in the way of medical women, and the greatest barrier of all is the natural and stubborn prejudice that is found prevailing everywhere. The earnest women who are doing noble work in the profession are worthy of pro found respect, but the future does not seem to hold any promise that the sex will have any important share in the practice or advancement of medical science. Fate is more stern-faced in this matter than the men of Philadelphia's medical society, and few will mourn her final and adverse decree.

Estee Choked Off.

It is noted in the Chicago dispatcher. that Mr. Estee made a very different speech in taking the permanent chair of the convention, from that which he delivered. The speech which he intended to make was given to the press, with instruction to print it only when made. We had it in type, but could not furnish it to our readers because it was not delivered. The managers of the party must have objected seriously to Mr. Estee's speech to have choked it off at this stage. The rejected address has but about one theme and says but one thing, namely: That the Democratic party is for free trade, and that the Republican party is for protection. If the manager did not want Mr. Estee to make this declaration, why did they not? It is because the Northwest, where the convention sits is not for protection? Must the Republican party sing low there its favorite air ?

Or all the Pennsylvania booms that have been going around on crutches, we have heard nothing of the John F. Hartranft boom. It would be a little bigger than the Fitter and Wanamaker boomlets, but not

Our Republican friends are asionished at the size of the reports that the INTELLI-SENCER presents of the Republican national convention, and amazed at the superiority of them over the reports furnished by our Republican contemporaries in this city. It is simply in line with the INTELLIGEN CER's view of journalism, viz: to publish all the news. It was said when the INTEL-LIGENORE gave the most complete and extensive reports of the St. Louis convention that were seen in this town, that it was because that gathering was Democratic in its composition. Now the Republicans concede that we are printing the best aconly proves that the INTELLIGENCER Is true to its mission of printing all the news

The congressional act approved June 18, makes it an offense punishable by a fine of from $100 to $5,000 and imprisonment from one to ten years, to send through the mails an envelope or postal card, containing obscene, scurrilous or threatening printing or a dun. All such matter is declared nonmaliable. This does away with the "bad debt" onvelope issued by some of the collection agencies.

Baldwin locomotive works, of Philadelphis, can no longer claim that they have made the best time in building an engine. Their time is twenty-four hours. On Monday morning the Pennsylvania railroad company began the building, at their shops in Altoona of a class A anthracite burner, weighing 110,000 pounds, which when finished was to be used on the New York division. There were twenty men in the gang at work. The locomotive was fined at ten minutes of 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, thus making the record ten minutes less than seventeen hours and beating the Baldwin time seven hours. During this time there were two hours when no great amount of work could be done because of the parts being hot from Warren W. Wilber, nephew of the late Hor. Asa Packer and brother to Mr. Elisha P. Wilbur, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, died Wednesday in Bethlehem. Mr. Wilbur was born at Mystic, Conn., in 1826. In early life he moved to Mauch Chunk, where he entered the employ of the Lehigh Navigation company, and is the man who weighed and manifested the first boat load of coal that passed through the Mauch Chunk lock. He afterward was made private secretary to the late Robert W. Packer, with headquarters at Reading, and at the same time he had charge of coal transfers at Mauch Chunk and Philadelphia. About the year 1862 he moved to Bethiehem and took charge of the office work of the Franklin and Schrader Chail dempanies, in which he had a financial interest, and remained with them until his beaith gave way, since which time he lived retired until his death. until his health gave way, since which time he lived retired until his death.
