Modern Treatment of Pneumonia. the New York Herald. The Medical Record, referring to some important facts recently brought forward by Dr. Henry Hartshorne, recepts the question whether the modern treatment of pneumonia is a fallore. In the Penn-sylvania hospital from 1845 to 1847 when sylvania hospital from 1845 to 1847 when sylvania hospital from 1845 to 1847 when consection prevailed in the treatment of pneumonia, only 1° in 16 patients died from the distase. From 1874 to 1886 the proportion of death was much greater—1 in 3.2. In the United States army between 1840 and 1844, when bleeding was a part of the treatment, the mortality was only 1 in 11.5, while be tween 1855 and 1858, after venescotion was abandoned, the mortality from pneumonia increased to 1 in 6.67. The Record considers the anti-pyretic method of treating pneumonia "distinctly pernicious," but apparently indorees Dr. Hartshorne's recommendation for a return to moderate bleeding in the early stage of the disease, except in aged, authenic, alcoholic and a few out-

Clinging to the Last. The virus of rheumatism often remains in the system through life, when it does not cut the thread of existence suddenly, as it is always hable to do by attacking the heart. Ere the grip of this tenacious disease tightens it should be unloosed by that beneficent ilberator from disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will free the sufferer at the outset from subsequent pain and danger. No purer or more agreeable blood depurent exists, as multitudes of the rheumatic and neuralgic have ascertained by certified experience. It is through the medium of a regular action of the kidneys and bladder that an outset is afforded for the escape of impurities which beget not only rheumatic, but gouty ailments, and dropsical effusion. To these organs the Bitters gives an impulse, never verging on the bounds of irritation, but sufficiently vigorous to cause them and the bowels to perform their functions with clock-like precision. Use it also for dyspepsia, billousness, fever and ague and debility. The virus of rheumatism often remains in tion hopeless. (ured by the Cuttours Remedies.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my anale; the skin was entirely gone, and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incursible. It had diminished about one-third the size of the other and was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no rollef whitever, I was pursuaded to jury your CUTI-CUEA REMIDIES, and the result was as follows: After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My fieth was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound I he flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Caiarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most roust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatapthose suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hither to untried method adopted by Dr. Sauford in the preparation of his Radical Cupe has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief is all head colds, speeding, anuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptom, clearing the head, sweetening the breath restoring the senses of smell taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.
