

NEARLY A FATAL QUARREL

ALFRED COLLINS STRUCK BY A STONE AND SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Michael Friend After Receiving Heavy Blows From Collins on Saturday Night at one of the Assault which led to the Fatal Injury on His Head.

COLLIERIA, July 23.—On Saturday about noon a fight occurred on the Reading & Columbia railroad company's coal chutes between Michael Friend and Alfred Collins, which came near resulting in the death of the latter. The men wheel stones to be used in repairing the break in the dam. Shortly before noon Friend left his work to go to Brubaker's saloon, and on returning shortly afterward was told by Collins, who is boss of the gang, that several of the men were accusing him of striking his workmen on a spirited remark which was begun by both parties. During his progress Friend called Collins some hard names and declared that he (Collins) was the only man who accused him of striking. After some further talk Collins, who is a powerful man, hit Friend, who is slightly built, under the left eye, telling him like a wheel. Friend sprang up as quickly as possible and attempted to hit his assailant with his shovel, but Collins being too quick and the two men clinched. In the tussle Friend was hit on the bridge of the nose, badly disfiguring that organ. The two men were then parted and Friend picked up a stone and hurled it at Collins, striking him on the head, inflicting a serious wound. Collins was injured so that he could not continue the fight, but he managed to walk as far as the P. R. R. passenger station, on his way to a physician, where he was taken with convulsions, and had to be taken home in a wagon. On Saturday evening his life was despaired of, but on Sunday he rallied, and his physician, Dr. Griffin, pronounced him out of danger this morning. Friend was arrested and given a hearing before Squire Solly on Saturday evening, and was held in jail on a hearing, as Collins is able to appear against him.

TAKEN ON THE FLY

At Rauch catches a Fine Large String of Bass in the Conestoga.

At Rauch, of this city, is known as one of the best gunners and fishermen in the city, and is especially fond of trout fishing, at which he is very expert. His work as a fly catcher is wonderful and several times he has taken prizes in national tournaments among the best fishermen in the country. Mr. Rauch has always maintained a black bass pond, and has captured a string of a different kind however from those used for trout, as readily as with live bait, although many old fishermen laughed at the idea. For a week past Mr. Rauch has been trying his luck at 'em on the Conestoga, and has captured a string of small ones. On Saturday he went out to see Shirik's dam, and soon became tired and resolved to see whether he could not catch a finer string in the Conestoga than he could get for a quarter by waiting all day at the dam. He returned to town and in the evening went out to the creek. He took his position in a boat out in the stream below Wiltmer's bridge. With a fly he fished for some time, but up to 7 o'clock he had caught nothing. After that luck came his way however, and in a short time he caught a fine lot of bass as ever came from the creek. There were just six of them and the largest and finest weighed exactly four and a half pounds. The next weighed three pounds and the others one pound each. All were taken with a fly and on one of the lightest rds used by any fisherman in this city. The fish created a great deal of talk on the King street wharf. Mr. Rauch brought them home, and set the old fishermen to thinking. The moon was shining brightly when Mr. Rauch captured several of the fish.

He Dived Upon a Rock

George Roth, a fifteen-year-old son of Philip Roth, shoemaker of No. 38 Caroline street, met with a severe accident Sunday afternoon. He and some other boys went with the Little Conestoga to bathe, and they entered the stream at the "second turn" in the meadow some distance south of the turnpike. Roth jumped from an embankment, head foremost, for the purpose of taking a dive. In descending, his head struck a protruding rock in the stream with great force. He had two inches, four inches in length, cut in his head. These cuts start from one point in the front of the head and run towards the forehead in the shape of a V. The fish was torn from the head and fell upon the boy's forehead. Young Roth walked to the office of Dr. McClellan, who cut up the wounds, and he was fortunate in not fracturing his skull.

Found Dead Under a Tree

Charles Marshall, aged about 65 years, an elderly man, died at his home in this city on Sunday afternoon. He had not been in good health for some time, but was able to be about and he died at his dinner at the usual hour. After dinner he walked through the yard to the orchard and seated himself under a tree. He did not come to supper, and his wife, Mrs. Marshall, in search of him and found him dead under the tree he went to after dinner. Coroner Honaman was notified and he held an inquest. His jurors were S. C. Shaub, Frank Miller, Charles Berlang, Thomas O'Hara, James Kennedy and A. R. White. Their verdict was that death resulted from apoplexy. Deceased was a native of Cumberland county, but resided for many years in this county. He became an inmate of the almshouse some years ago, and was transferred to the hospital when his health failed a few months ago.

Rescued His Peonias

William Clinch, a young colored boy, was heard by Alderman A. F. Donnelly this morning on a charge of larceny. The allegation was that he stole a peony bush containing seventy cents from the pocket of a boy named Abram Kontor. The boys were at the circus grounds and the evidence was that Clinch induced Kontor to kneel on the ground to look under the tent and while he was in that position the tent was concealed. The aidman reserved decision for a few days.

Found a Boy Run Mad

E. H. Zober, driver of the Conestoga stage, recently found a large Martin Van Buren medal with a chain attached to the side and the picture of Van Buren with the word Democracy underneath; the other side has a pair of scales surrounded with the following words: "Our principles are justice and equality." The medal is dated 1842.

Was Sent Out

Augustus Schmidt, Andrew Panninger, and James Moorey, three drunks who were arrested on Saturday for annoying people on North Queen street while drunk, were sent to jail Saturday evening by Alderman Spurrier for terms of 20 and 10 days respectively.

Hearing Continued

This afternoon at 2 o'clock was the third appointed by Alderman A. F. Donnelly for the hearing of Harry Brubaker, who is charged with violating the liquor law and keeping a lawfully house, by Barbara Funk. On account of the absence of the attorneys in the case the hearing was continued until next Monday.

Did Not Make Out a Case

The case against City Engineer, for dis-orderly conduct, preferred by Henry Holbrook before Alderman Hibach, has been dismissed for want of evidence.

Campania Nov-ty

A very pretty button for the lapel of coat has just been introduced in this city by Martin Bros., No. 28 North Queen street. It is made of black silk and is a handsome, the monogram G. C. the figures 24-28, and the inscription, "Public Office in Philadelphia, Pa." The button is made similar to a sleeve button with a black back to hold it in a button-hole. Martin Bros. have them for both parties as well as a variety of other designs.

You Should Not Miss It

The Standard and Mercantile Bank will hold a picnic at "Tenny's park" next Wednesday, and this is sufficient assurance that a good time is in store. Much amusement is promised and will be provided for the ladies. A hearty good time should take the early train at West King street station and spend the end of the day at a most delightful pleasure ground.

More Festions and Society

A gentleman representing Milo B. Stevens of Washington, D. C. can be seen at the City Hotel, Wednesday, July 25 (day and evening), by persons desiring information concerning pensions, bounties, etc., or having claims which they may desire to have prosecuted by said attorney. July 23-24.

A Picnic Next Saturday

The returned Sunday school of Willow Street, will picnic in the woods next Saturday. The school will meet in the woods at 9 o'clock.
