A Break In Indiana.

The Democratic canvass in Indiana has received a great impulse by the peremptory withdrawal of ex-Gov. Albert G. Porter, from the gubernatorial nomination. At the Chicago convention Porter nominated Harrison, and it is said that he had himself a'll groomed and waiting to have the dark horse blanket thrown across his own shoulders. But the fortune that came to Garneld was not for Porter, and he saw his rival in Indiana politics placed at the head of the

When state pride and party enthusias m was at flood-tide after the Chicago convention, it was given out that Porter would lead the party in the gubernatorial race. The statement was not denied, and so the Republicans had settled down to the conviction that their ticket was already made, and that it could not be stronger. It was a cruel shattering of hopes when Porter announced in a letter a few days ago that under no circumstances could he accept the nomination. For Porter is the strongest Republican in Indiana. In 1876 "Blue Jeans" Williams defeated Benjamin Harrison for governor in the October campaign, foretelling the triumph of Tilden in the month following. In 1880 Albert G. Porter defeated Landers, the Democrat, by 6,642 votes in a total poll of 471,738, and Garfield carried the state a month later. In 1884 Cleveland and Hendricks carried the state by 6,512 plurality in a total poll of a half million

It will be seen on what a narrow margin party supremacy hangs in this state and how very important is each point of vantage for the opposing forces. The withdrawal of Porter on the eve of battle must be interpreted as a confession of weakness. The bitter strife that will be engendered by those anxious to fill his shoes will cause Republican dissension and a united and harmonious Democracy pressing forward at all points along the line, sustained by the righteousness of their cause and the hope of victory, will sweep them from the field and plant the Democratic party high upon the ramparts of the enemy's towers.

The Immigration Snake.

The congressional investigating committee in New York keeps on unearthing the secrets of Italian immigration. On Mon'ay an Italian immigrant, Nicolao d'Aloe testified that he owned a vineyard in Italy worth four or five hundred francs. A man named Salceni induced d'Aloe and thirty others of his fellow villagers to come to the United States where plenty of work was assured. The witness said he mortgaged his property for 250 francs, which were to be paid to Salceni by the end of August, or foreclosure would follow, and his wife and children be driven into the streets of their native place. Now d'Aloe is infirm, and when he goes to the contractor who, he was assured, would give him work immediately, he is told that he must give a bonus of four to eight dollars to be paid out of his first wages. In any event his property cannot be saved, for if he worked day and night, he could not make up the desired sum in the required time.

These are dreadful revelations. They let in light upon an amount of human misery that was hitherto undreamed of. The immigration snake calls for speedy extinction.

Need Better Pay.

There is no reason why the United States should pay the supreme court justices such meagre salaries as they and now receiving. The chief justice of the supreme court of the United States receives $10,500 per annum. The eight associate justices receive $10,000 each. This is in full for all services rendered. They are the poorest paid of any of the cilicials of the government, for out of their annual income they are compelled to pay all travelling expenses.

There is no sense or fitness in this niggardliness. The position of a supreme court justice ought to insure pecuniary independence. The justices, whose circuits embrace the far Western states, spend a small fortune on railroad travel. Their positions force them to refuse all corporation favors, and their lives in Washington impose upon them a style of living that is a severe drain upon a thin pocketbook. The clerk of the supreme court makes twice as much money annually as the salary of any member of the court. This anomaly in judicial pay should be wiped out by a liberal compensation to those who have reached the topmost round in the legal ladder.

Labor's Friend. It is useless to attempt to make the president a fee to labor. Not one of his tariff reform utterances lacks the distine; and unequivocal declaration of the need of care for the interests of labor. His whole public life is marked with like utterances. In his letter accepting the nomination for governor of New York in 1882, he said :

The laboring classes constitute the main part of our population. They should be protected in their ciforts to assert their rights when endangered by aggregated capital, and all state statutes on this subject should recognize the care of the state for honest toil, and be framed with a view of improving the condition of the workingman.

[Harrison's record in the Indianastrikes is against the laboring man, and it will help largely to swell the volume of his defeat.

Bleeding Manufacturers.

It will be interesting to observe what position Senator Morrill, of Vermont, will take on the tariff revision bill in the Senate. In 1862, while a member of the House, he had charge of the tariff bill, carry.

and he said in explanation of its provi-

"It will be indispensable for us to re-yise the tariff on foreign imports, so far as it may be seriously disturbed by any inter-nal duties, and to make proper reparation. If we bleed manufacturers, we must see to it that the proper tonic is administered at the same time."

This bleeding of manufacturers may have been justifiable in war's extremity but it is all wrong now. Besides, labor has to bear the brunt of the bleeding.

THE Republican convention in Indiana meets on August 8 and Porter's withdrawal puts all arrangements at sea. This is why Colonel Matson, the Democratic candidate for governor, amiles.

TYPHOID PEVER is getting an slarming hold upon Philadelphia, and it is blamed upon the impurities of the drinking water.

THE country does not seem to be going to the dogs over the prospect of Cieveland's re-election. The journal New Enterprises, published in New York, makes this report for the week ending Saturday : Buildings costing over $5,000 each—205—$6,756,759; bridges-22-$920,000; churches-40-$1,695, 400; electric light companies and new plants-7-$500,000;gas companies-8-$790, 100 ; manufacturing companies-47-$8, 660,000; mills, factories, etc.,—64—$1,617,000; mining companies—16—$24,375,000; railroads and extensions-8-$11,875,000; waterworks-15--53,385,000. In Augusts, Georgis, new buildings are in course of erection, the aggregate cost of which will be $1,000,000. Tae list includes $225,000 for cotton extens one, $100,000 for the new hotel, and $95,-030 for expositio 1 improvements.

MR. EDWARD H. AMMIDOWN, the president of the Protective Tariff League and a large woolen manufacturer, is charged with employing 200 imported Hungarians who displaced at lower wages American workingmen. If this is true, Mr. Ammidown reads the protective tariff as only affecting the employer and not the work-

THE New York Press wonders why Irlahmen are Democrats. The answer is simple. Because they have the discriminating intelligence to see that the Democratic party is the party of the people ; tha it is opposed to the building up of those custe distinctions from which the Irishman fled in the Old World; that It is not per meated with the latent virus of hate of the foreigner; that it believes in not collecting more taxes than the government needs and finally that it is an ardent believer in that principle of home rule without need less federal interference, which Irishmen are struggling for in Erin to day.

THE Philadelphia Press is willing to pay double rates for news of Democratic conver sions to the Republican party. What are its prices for Republican conversions to the Democratic and Prohibition camp ?

It is announced very gleefully by Republicans that Jay Gould is for the Democratic ticket. If he becomes a Democrat, he will have to mend his ways and give up his evil Republican babits of being a monopolist and a labor squeezer.

COLONEL LAMONT, referring to Prest dent Cleveland's fishing trip on Monday dent Cleveland's fishing trip on Monday, said: "We left Whitestone at nine o'clock and anchored cif Long Branch. A most delightful day was spent. The weather was all that could be desired and the president's luck attended him as usual, for he caught fifteen of the finest and largest bass I have seen in some time. He was ahead both in weight and number of the fish caught by any one in the party. Mrs. Cleveland will remain in Marion a few days longer, and will join the president in Washington.

Jay Gould's unpopularity was never president in Washington.

JAY GOULD'S unpopularity was never more fully described than in a remark made by his old friend and business associate, Russell Sage. "It was Mr. Gould's contribution to the Blaine fund," the old operator is quoted as saying, "that defeated that candidate at the last presidential election. I firmly believe that Mr. Biaine would have carried this state and been elected if it had not been for the $50,000 check Mr. Gould gave to John J. O'Brien. check Mr. Gould gave to John J. O'Brien. Mr. Gould meant well enough, but the prejudice sgainst him was so strong that the gift did more harm than good.'

Protested Her Innoce A Titusville dispatch to the Palladelphia Press says on Monday an operation was performed upon Miss Gertle Roberts, aged 30, estenably for ovarian tumor. She was a social favorite and a prominent member of the Raptist church. For the past eight months she has been unwell, and though suspicions were excited, she protested her innocence so strenuously that her attending physician, Dr. Dunn, concluded she was authoring from an ovarian tumor and ad-suffering from an ovarian tumor and advised an operation.

Dr. William Varian, an expert, was called in, and after a thorough examination and renewal of the girl's yows of virtue undertook an operation in the presence of other physicians and members of the church. Consternation was produced when it appeared that the woman was enciente. The only chance of saving her life was to conclude the operation by the Cassarian method, which was successfully accomplished. The child is alive but the woman is in a precarious condition. She refuses to tell who is the father of the infant.
