

CHILDREN FIND SALVATION.

THEY HOLD UP THEIR HANDS TO INDICATE THEIR DID.

A Large Number of Little Folks at Camp-meeting Answered the Question of Rev. Roads—Sermons Preached by Rev. Gable and Rev. Dr. Harmon.

LANDISVILLE, August 1.—Yesterday afternoon tent brought to camp to spend the afternoon Miss Annie Miller, Misses Esther and Anna Bass and friend. Quite a large number of visitors were at the camp in the afternoon, the majority of them coming from Landisville and the adjoining towns.

Private devotion was held at 10 o'clock yesterday, followed by the children's meeting at 1:30. Rev. Roads gave the children a new prayer to learn, and afterwards gave them their regular blackboard talk. The subject of this lesson was "Jesus." On the blackboard he had drawn a cross, a Bible, a picture of light, a heart, an anchor and a cup. He told them of Christ's suffering on the cross and that He died because He loved us. These blessings are the healing balm of Jesus, light, love, hope and the cup. This cup fills to overflowing. A verse of scripture was given them to remember in this connection—"My cup runneth over." After an interval of singing Rev. Evans spoke to the children. He was the same subject as that of Rev. Roads' talk. He dwelt more particularly on Jesus' journey into Jerusalem. This subject and also Mr. Roads' subject was derived from a chapter of Matthew, which he calls the children's chapter. Singing—"Jesus now is calling you," then followed Rev. Roads again spoke to the children. He asked the children how many of them had found Jesus since yesterday, and a great many little hands were raised in reply. Mr. Bruner, of Columbia, who addressed the children on Sunday afternoon, continued her talk on the ten commandments. It took but a short time to discover that Mrs. Bruner was the right person to talk to little children. Prayer was then offered by Mrs. Helmer.

In conclusion, the children sang the pretty lullaby, "Hear the Father Drooping," and as they sang they left the audience, each one dropping his or her penny in the basket as they passed.

Rev. I. M. Gable preached the afternoon sermon from text, St. John, xii, 10: "Let us also go, we may die with him." At the conclusion of this sermon, Rev. Roads made an exhortation.

Prof. Harmon, of Dickinson college, was introduced by President Elder Crouch to the audience. He spoke in favor of Dickinson college. This college is in Carlisle, Pa. It is a present non-sectarian, the president having resigned. Greek and Latin and all the sciences are taught in this college, and it boasts of having one of the finest gymnasiums in the country. This college aims at the thorough cultivation of the head and heart. The cultivation of the head alone leads to coldness, selfishness and infidelity. The cultivation of the heart alone leads to superstition. The cultivation of the two together produces the perfect man, and this is the aim of the college.

Several meetings were held at 6 o'clock. The meeting of the ladies, was in charge of Rev. Jonathan Dungan.

Rev. Roads conducted two meetings. One was an evening service for the little folks and was held in the young people's tent at 6 o'clock. The other was a meeting for young men, especially ministers, in the tabernacle at 6:15.

The evening sermon was preached by Dr. Harmon, of the Dickinson college. His text was taken from Acts, xvii, 30 and 31: "And the time of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent, because he hath appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath raised from the dead." This sermon was full of satirical wit, and was very entertaining.

Wednesday passed very pleasantly, and the grounds in the afternoon were quite lively, a large number of Landisville people being over.

RAIN NEARLY ALL MORNING.

This morning the proverbial camp-meeting weather set in. It rained nearly all morning, and drove the people into their tents. They did not stay there, however, but repaired to the tabernacle to hear the morning's services.

Family prayer was held at 6:30 o'clock as heretofore. These family prayers are made quite an important feature of the day's proceedings. It is the custom for several families to get together in one tent and invite the minister of their choice to lead them in prayer.

The two meetings at 8 o'clock for the young men and young ladies came off according to program.

The 5:15 public prayer was conducted by Mr. Turner, of Dauphin.

The 10 o'clock morning sermon was preached in the tabernacle by Rev. F. G. Grove, of Catawissa. His text was taken from the prophecy of Isaiah, vi, 1: "And the Lord sitting upon a throne high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple." This was a very entertaining sermon. To make the morning service very delightful and entertaining Miss Vache, of Columbia, sang a solo.

President Elder Crouch is absent for the day, but is expected back this evening in time for the services. His place is filled by Rev. Roads.

Another meeting of great importance to all holders will be held at 12:30 p. m. Mr. High, with her daughter and niece, arrived here this morning to stay until the breaking up of camp.

Mr. A. L. Smith, proprietor of Hotel Lancaster, and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frey, all of Lancaster, spent the day at camp.

Mr. Augustus Retford, of Lancaster, spent the night here with his son, Augustus F. Retford.

It was reported that Mr. Retford had been robbed last night. There was no foundation in the report, but Rev. Crouch was from church last Sunday evening. Her dress caught on the seat and she fell to the ground.

A LABOR CONGRESSMAN'S VIEWS.

Hon. Henry Smith, of Wisconsin, Explains His Position on the Labor Party.

Hon. Henry Smith, the only member of Congress nominated by the Labor party and elected on a Labor platform, voted for the Mills bill, and his action excited much comment and attention all over the country, especially among workmen. He has not heretofore publicly explained his reasons for voting as he did, but in response to a request by the Star he has written the following letter. He cites four specific reasons for supporting the bill, and closes by saying that in taking the tariff of the necessities of life and the internal revenue tax of tobacco and whisky, I shall vote for the former every time I get a chance. His letter is as follows:

TO THE EDITOR OF THE STAR:—In reply to yours of the 28th instant, requesting my reasons for voting for the Mills tariff bill, I answer as follows:—First—It is conceded by the representatives of the Democratic and Republican parties that the country is in a state of surplus of money in the national treasury. If not stopped, will cause a panic and result in bankruptcy to a large extent. Being a Republican, I am in favor of a tariff which will stop the surplus of money in the national treasury, and will stop the surplus of money in the national treasury, and will stop the surplus of money in the national treasury.

Second—The bill proposes to place several articles on the free list that enter into the life of the people, such as wheat, corn, wool and several others, and a slight reduction, not exceeding on an average 5 per cent, on articles entering largely on home consumption. Now, so far as cheap and fresh lumber is concerned, it ranks next to bread to the people who seek to make a home on our great Western prairies, and no doubt it is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people.

Third—I do not believe that a nation can be made prosperous or happy by taxation, nor should a republican form of government be maintained by taxation. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people.

Fourth—I do not believe that a nation can be made prosperous or happy by taxation, nor should a republican form of government be maintained by taxation. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people. It is a blessing to the people.

Very truly yours, HENRY SMITH, U. S. C.

PARNELL'S VALIANT FIGHT.

THE IRISH STATESMAN BATTLES IN THE CAUSE OF HONOR.

The Parnell Commission Bill Creates An Uproar in the House of Commons—Chamberlain Charged With Betraying Cabinet Secrets—Labouchere Defies Smith.

The debate on the bill for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the charges against Parnell, which was resumed in the House of Commons Tuesday evening. Mr. W. H. Smith, the government leader, moved the suspension of the standing order under which the discussion of the commission bill would be interrupted at midnight. Mr. Smith's motion was adopted, after a protest, by a vote of 231 to 159.

Mr. Gladstone and the other leaders of the opposition voted with the majority and were cheered by the Parnellites.

Mr. Parnell, resuming the debate on Mr. R. E. Fildes' proposal to restrict the inquiry into the conduct of his associates to accusations for murder and violence, said that he referred on Monday evening to the proceedings in the cabinet in office from 1883, which had frequently been divulged by Mr. Chamberlain to himself and other Nationalists.

At the point the chairman interrupted to state that this line of observation was not in order.

Mr. Parnell replied that if this was the case he would reserve further statements on the subject until he came before the commission.

Mr. Chamberlain said he desired to offer a personal explanation. Mr. Parnell said that certain vague and shadowy accusations against him, referring to the fact that he had been in the cabinet in office from 1883, which had frequently been divulged by Mr. Chamberlain to himself and other Nationalists.

THE SITUATION.

What Democratic Leaders Think of the Campaign for Westinghouse.

The national Democratic executive committee held a secret session in New York on Tuesday. After the meeting interviews were had with some of the members.

Speaker Carlisle said that he was glad there were no personalities in this campaign. "It is a campaign of principles," he said. "The issue is clear and all we have to do is to win it. We have a great issue and a great leader."

Senator Kenna said that West Virginia will give the vote to the majority in this campaign. "It is a campaign of principles," he said. "The issue is clear and all we have to do is to win it. We have a great issue and a great leader."
