Small Politics. The appointment of Judge Alfred Hand, of Lackawanna, to the vacancy the supreme bench, caused by the enth of Judge Trunkey, is an act of Governor Beaver that plainly indicates a sal purpose more than devotion to the interests of the state. The most natural and proper course to have been taken by him was to have appointed Judge Mitchell, of the Philadelphia common pleas court, who is now the party nominee for the regular supreme bench succession. Judge Mitchell will most likely remain upon the bench in Philadelphia until after the election in the fall, which is most likely to place him upon the supreme bench. This will give Governor Beaver the opportunity to appoint his successor, whereas if Mitchell was appointed now, the people of Philalphia could choose by ballot his successor at the November election. Thus does

Beaver usurp a popular privilege to serve his own or other's purposes. And the appointment of Hand is like piece of small political work. Hand's term as president judge of Lackawanna county, does not expire for another year and his appointment to the supreme bench hastens the incy one year. This will enable Joseph A. Scranton, candidate for Congress in the Lackawanna district, to pick out a popular judicial candidate to help pull out of the fire for him the Cononal chestnuts. Hand seems satisa-d to become a part of this bargain by being a supreme judge for five months, which, when the circumstances are considered, is a most empty honor. The master hand of Quay is said to be that which moved the gubernatorial effigy.

Forgot Their Own Injunction. After declaring in their platform that the tariff was a sacred white elephant that dare not be rudely touched, but was only to be reverently worshiped from star, the Republicans of the Senate have set about making a tariff bill of their own. Thus are they forgetting their own injunction not to "tinker with the thriff," but rather stand up for free whisky than "surrender any part of our tive system."

The New York World very aptly says that this plan is in direct contravention of the programme adopted in Chicago where the intention was to get rid of the surplus by (1) national aid to schools, (2) an increase of pensions, (3) internal improvements, (4) coast fortifications, (5) a new navy, (6) a postal deficit created by penny postage.

How quickly the Republicans have been made to face about from this position by the force exerted on public opinon by Democratic teachings. The nate's position is now an admission that the Mills bill was conceived in jus, tice, and if it was brought forth not as beautiful as some desired, it has a sturdy development before it; and when it ches full stature, it will be most fair to look upon.

The Shadow of Blaine.

The extraordinary reception which is to be given to James G. Blaine on his arrival in New York next week, proves one thing very conclusively, and that is that the man from Maine proposes to keep at the top of the heap in this camsign, and his friends are to be well cared for in the very remote contingency of Republican success in November. Blaine is to be the watchword of the campaign. Harrison is to be nowhere. The latter will be permitted to shake the hands of visiting Hoosiers by the thousand, but on the great occasions when public interest is invoked for Republican procedure. there will be found Blaine's name leading

The situation cannot but be very hudistingto the real presidential candidat. He will have to bear the heat and burden of the campaign, while the pyrotechnic work that will attract the plaudits of the crowd, will be exclusively in charge of Blaine. And if by any far-fetched stretch of the imagination, we can conceive of Harrison's success, Blaine will be found in command of the patronage. and Harrison president in name only.

Two Williams. There seem to be two William Whitmans in this country. One of them is the president of the American Wool Manufacturers' association, and three years ago he made this argument for free wool for manufacturers before the secresary of the treasury :

The American manufacturer is engaged in a perpetual struggle with the manufacturer of Europe for the possession of the markets of this country. In this strife the European manufacturer possesses the advantage, which would be overwhelming if not counteracted by special legislation, or having the raw material of his manufacture free from duty. * They are able from the lower cost of their raw material to relieve themselves from overproduction by consigning their surplus stocks at comparatively slight sacrifices to foreign markets to which their chespness has already introduced them.

uced them. The second William Whitman is now down in Washington persuading the Relican senators in their tariff bill not to abolish the taxes on wool, because the l-grower and the wool-manufacturer were not more than half filled, and in some the number of employes exceeded the number of guests. Lancastrians returning from Atlantic City, Long Branch, Cape May and other coast resorts, say that the crowds are nothing to compare with those of last year.

The reason for this is plain to be seen Summer at home this year has been most delightful. The rains have been plentiful, and the vegetation luxuriant, causing the nights to be properly cool. Even during the day we have been rarely treated to periods of intense heat, and when they do me, they are of short duration. This is why the tide of summer travel out of Lancaster is so small. There are no mosquitoes of sufficient activity to make life a burden at home, and even the festive caterpillar is not dropping down on the neck of the unwary this year. All things unite to preach the lesson of the poet that "to stay at home is best."

So Republican party organs have been crediting to British newspapers articles on the tariff question which the English jour-nais never had in type! Alas! the G. O. P. is in an alarming state.

THE excess of our imports of merchandise in the year ended Jane 30, 1888, over our exports was $27,890,527. The boot should be on the other leg.

THE Knights of Labor propose to spend $16,000 in the publication in European prints of an account of the true condition of the labor supply in the Pennsylvania coal regions to stem the tide of chesp labor from Italy, Hungary and Poisnd to those regions. The native and English-speaking miners say that unless something shall be done to check the influx of this cheap labor, it is only a matter of a few years when the Wyoming and Lackswanns regions will have been reduced to the condition of the Lehigh region. The plan has the full assent of Powderly.

THE prevalence of typhoid fever in Philadelphia is believed to be due to the pollution of the drinking water of the Delaware. This is a very serious problem and one which demands earnest and immediate attention. At times polluted water has a bad taste and odor, but as often these warnings are absent. The board of health have no more important office entrusted to them than to see that the water supply is kept

BISHOP WIGGER, of the Roman Catholic diocese of Newark, N. J., takes a sensible stand against some of the public excursions that are held under the guise of religion. A large and reputable organization of the Catholic churches in New York had arranged for one of the steamboat excursions which have proved so disastrous in many instances. Two thousand tickets had been sold, and arrangements for the inevitable bar and restaurant were being completed. The council's decree demands that all scol-ties intending to hold excursions or picules must secure the permission of the bishops in their respective dioceses. This rule had been ignored, and Bishop Wigger had the officiating clergymen read in their respective parishes an episcopal letter positively forbidding Catholies to participate. He recites the conditions upon which he stands ready to permit excursions. He insists that no wine or beer shall be sold at the bar or on the excursion grounds. He will not grant his permission for any excursion which is to continue after twilight, or at least after darkness begins to set in. He is described as being most positive in his determination to execute the order of the JUDGE ALFRED HAND, of Scranton, has JUDGE ALFRED HAND, of Scranton, has been appointed to the vacancy of the state supreme bench caused by the death of Justice Trunkey. Governor Beaver has also appointed Henry M. Hinkley to be president judge of the Twenty-sixth district, compessed of the countles of Columbia and Montour. Judge Hand has telegraphed Governor Beaver that he will accept the appointment and has forwarded by mail his resignation from the common pleas bench.

A Wealthy Hanker's Daughter Elopes. William H. Lincoin, of Chicago, is only 22 years old, and is assistant chief clerk in the office of General Manager Stone, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road. He is Chicago, Buriington & Quincy road. He is now on his wedding tour to Seward, Neb., having cloped with Mirs Mamie Lucas, daughter of Captain Lucas, a wealthy banker of Columbus, Ind. She has a large fortune in her own right, and will inherit 1,000,000 from her father. The captain's wife and daughter went to Cedar Beach, where they had been visiting for four years. It was there several years ago that the lovers met. The old people objected to the lovers met. The old people objected to the lovemaking, and they made three attempts to clope, but were folled each time. Last Saturdsy night Miss Lucas escaped out of a window of the hotel, and, with her boots in one hand and her hat in the other, slowly let herself down a rope which was held in one hand and her hat in the other, slowly let herself down a rope which was held taut by young Lincoln, who was concealed in a cedar thicket. A few moments later they were aboard a train, and on Monday they were married in Chicago by Rev. Mr. Pooley, of Trinity Episcopal church. The bride is not yet 20 years old.

Miners Must Speak English. The Knights of Labor in convention at Wilkesbarre, on Wednesday discussed several proposed amendments to the mining laws of the state, among them being one to exclude from the mines all persons who are unable to speak the English lar-guage; another is to increase the number of inspectors, and the third proposes a system of examinations which all work men most pass before being allowed to work as aktiled miners. The proposition to explant most pass before being allowed to work as skilled miners. The proposition to exclude all who cannot speak English created a sensation in the convention, some of the delegates contending that this would operate against many skilled Welshmen.
