Head of the Army. The death of General Sheridan leaves Major General Schofield at the head of the army list. It would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer to tell who is the real head of the curious set of bones that passes for the army of these United States. The president is commander-in-chief, but does not issue orders or assume actual control. The adjutant general is supposed to supply the military knowledge necessary for the conduct of army affairs by a civilian, and this officer appears to be the real custodian of the power implied by the sounding titles of others. There are now three major generals on the list who rank according to the dates of their commissions. This arrangement is awkward enough, but the president, acting through the adjutant general, could greatly simplify matters in case of war. In times of peace the old generals care very little about the adjutant general's rule of matters military, and find enough to do without quarreling with him, but if war should come there may be some dignified noses broken in the scramble for the real control of the reviving army. The president could use his discretion in the matter regardless of commission dates, and could even continue the rule of Drum.

LI Hung Chang.

A curious tale comes from Australia of the plans of China for a big war in three years from date. Chinese affairs are managed with a sublime deliberation that has been the admiration and despair of Western diplomats, but that she should calmly decide upon a war three years from date and set to work preparing for it is hardly to be believed. It is more probable that the trouble given by her emigrants in Australia and other countries is to be used as a pretext for strengthening the military force of the empire with a view to the conquest of Corea, and perhaps the resistance of Russian encroachments.

Viceroy Li is a crafty and unprincipled man, as civilized men measure principle. and whatever his plans may be it is clear that military strength has great value to him. Before he dies he may be emperor

This man, who is now accused of hostile designs against the English, is the same who narrowly escaped death in the Tal Ping rebellion at the hands of General Gordon, the hero of Khartoum. He had criered the execution of rebel chiefs who had surrendered on Gordon's guarantee of safety, and on hearing of this perfidy, the outraged Englishman sought for Li with a loaded revolver. If he had found him the fate of modern China might have been very different. The position of China with regard to foreign war, is similar in some respects to our own. She has little to fear by land, for her troubles with Russia are hardly more serious than our own with Canada and England. She can mass her untrained millions for useless slaughter by European soldiers, but she has little to fear from the latter because of the great cost and risk of transporting armies over the sea. But her sea coast and commerce are at the mercy of hostile navies, and, like us, she is awakening to the need of ships

Where Is the Board of Health ! Where is the board of health? If Lancaster ever needed such an organization, that need exists now. The intense heat of the last five days has caused the decomposition of all long exposed animal and vegetable matter, and the sickening stench and disease-breeding decayhas been breathed out upon the town. Those who live in the vicinity of people who keep open slop barrels in these intense August days are in great danger therefrom, for there is no better friend of the undertaker than vitiated air. Meanwhile the mayor and councils are at variance over the question whether the old board of health, appointed by the court of common pleas, is in existence, or whether the city councils ought to pass the new ordinance which gives this appointment to the mayor. It is only a question of tweedledum or tweedledee What the people want is a board of health, and they want its protection right

The City and the Sea. In this very warm weather our city is only at a disadvantage as compared with seashore towns in the lack of an ocean. It will probably be found that the average temperature of the lower Jersey coast does not differ greatly from the average in Lancaster, and the only thing we need to start business as a first-class summer resort is a section of ocean and a supply of mosquitoes. Now there is a great deal of nonsense about the ocean idea, and many of the people who visit the heach do not care at a'l for bathing in suif or still water. They like the salt air and the crowd, the social pleasures, dressing and brass bands, ant above all, they like the good living at high prices in the great hotels.

Some day the wind of fashion will set this way and the unequalled markets of Lan aster will give her control of this element of summer pleasure seekers. The ten-dollar-a-week clerk will find out sooner or later the folly of five-dollar-aday hotels and the excellence of fare in the county seat of the nation's garden spot. Possibly by that time we may have a natatorium that will supply in a measure the place of the ocean and can be trusted not to rise up and overturn the dignity of an inexperienced bather. Let those who really enjoy ocean go to it and be happy, but let those who do not give up all shallow pretence and fice from the blazing sand and land breezes to the hills of Pennsylvania.

IT looks as though King Death is getting

THERE used to be some doubt as to how John H. Landis won the sobriquet of the "Manor statesman." Those who read his argument concerning the benefits of a high protective tariff for tarmers will see clearly into the reasons for this satirical designa-

MR. JOHN H. LANDIS shows to his own satisfaction that the farmers of Lancaster county are protected one thousand dollars worth each. He might now entertain himself and the public by figuring out just how much each of these farmers pays for this protection, what is the total value of manufactured articles consumed by the farmers, and the total of the tariff on the same. We cannot see the other side of the moon, but it probably resembles the side that is shown to us.

It is said that the coal operators of the Clearfield region have been enabled to capture the market for this year by a simple and sharp piece of strategy practised by the Pennsylvania railroad management. The story runs that Berwind, White & Co., and other large operators made large contracts before the announcement of freight rates, and when the Pennsylvania and Reading management had agreed upon a uniform tariff for both roads, it was found by the Beach Creek men that the Pennsylvania railroad shippers had taken all the business. The Clearfield county operators had made contracts just before the sharp advance of freights to the figures agreed upon by the two railroads, and so they and their road are resping the benefit.

THE Democratic state committee will meet in Harrisburg at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, August 28, at the Bolton house to nominate a candidate for auditor general, and to transact such other business as may properly come before it.

THE Indian Rights association has pub habed the report of their agent, Prof. U. C Painter, on the condition of affairs in Indian Territory and California. This gentleman tells what he knows and thinks in a way that inspires confidence, and it is clear a least that he is a reasonable man and no mere dreamer of ideal justice. After a brief review of the causes of recent Indian wars he reaches the following suitable conclusion: "We may as well settle it first as lost, and better no " than let ir, that such an immense territory as now lies vacant and worse than useless under the shadow of old treatles can never, as a matter of fact, be held for such time as the Indian, left to himself, may be able to utilize it and cause it to con tribute what it is capable of doing to mee the world's cry for food. But a successful appeal may be hopefully made to the American people as against essential and absolute injustice and cruel wrong, and this appeal should be promptly and distinctly made." The report gives in detail the con dition of each tribe, and if it is as free from partisan bias as it appears to be, should prove of great value to the administration in the guidance of Indian affairs.

DR WILLIAM PEPPER's gift of a valuable medical library and an additional subscription of $5,000 to the library fund of the University of Pennsylvanis, bas been accepted by the trustees.

REV. FATHER K. O'BRANNIGAN, pastor of the Sacred Hoart Catholic church, of Sharon, Pa., one of the best known priests in the Eric diocese, died on Tuesday, aged 65 years, of strangulated berais. He was educated in Maynooth, Ireland, was a classmate of Archbishop Ryan, and had been connected with the Eric diocese for thirty years. He built up the church membership from 300 to 1,000, and paid off a debt of $18,000 in a few years. ALFRED B. AMES, the young principal whom the Bridgeton, N. J., school board dismissed from the public school because of his secret marriage to a 15 year-old pup 1 who had just graduated from the school, has accepted the position of principal of the Cedarville, N. J., public school. He will continue to hold Bridgeton pecuniarily responsible for his dismissal, having taken legal advice to the effect that this can be one not withstanding his acceptance of the other position.

Miss Mary Anderson is much annoyed by "the pestileutial nulsances who write for autographs." It is understood, and has accordingly invented a pian for dealing with thom. She has had a specimen of her writing lithographed, and her manager, it is asserted, sends each applicant a copy thereof, with a printed card saying: "Miss Anderson desires me to enclose you her subgraph, as you request. enclose you her autograph, as you request, and to say how sorry she is that the matter has not had her attention ere this."

COLONEL PERKINS, of Norwich, Conn. has just celebrated his one hundredth birth has just celebrated his one sundredth birth-day. A correspondent says that "the colonel is still in active business, having been treasurer of the Norwich & Worces-ter railroad—of which he was one of the in-corporators, in 1836—almost since its estab-lishment, and he draws his checks and looks over the important busin-ss papers of his position as keenly and as uncertingly of his position as keenly and as unerringly at the present time as he has at any period during the last 65 years. In truth, he looks to be many years on the right side of 100." to be many years on the right side of 100."

Coloner George Girson, of the Fifth infantry, U. S. A., commandant at Fort Bliss, Texas, died very suddenly at Las Vegas, N. M., where he had gone for a rest. The remains will be sent to Carlisle, Pa., for burial. Colonel Gibson was the second son of the late Calef Justice John B. Gibson, of Pennsylvania, and was born at Carlisle in 1828. He was appointed a military storekeeper in the regular army in 1853. At the outbreak of the war in 1861 he was commissioned captain of the Eleventh infantry, won a brevet as major in the bat-infantry, won a brevet as major in the bat-tie of Gettysburg, and another as lieuten-ant-colonet for gallant and meritorious services during the operations resulting in the surrender of General Lee's army. He be-came mejor in the First Infantry, January 12, 1869; deutemant colonel of the Third in-tantry, March 20, 1879, and colonel of the Fifth infantry on August 1, 1886.

Jim Wanted to Know

A good illustration of the beauties of the tariff was related to me yesterday, said Hon. G. D. Nichols, of New Canaan, Conn. One of our local Democrate named Jim Davana, s shoemaker, has a wife who works as a tailoress. There is a certain clothing manu facturer here who is a rampant Republican and proselytes wherever and whenever he can. He met Davana on the street a day or so age, and he began to get in his work on Jim. He told him how the Republican party protected the American workman, and declared that if the tariff was reduced the country would go to the demnition bow wows.

Jim isstened attentively and then said to the merchant: "My boy went to your clothing store the other day to buy a pair of pants, didn't he?" "Yes." replied the merchant, "and you asked $7 50 for them?"
"Yes, but they were all wool and a nne

"I know that," replied Davana, "out my wife made that same pair of pants for you for 31 cents. Now 1'd like to know where the other $7.10 goes to."

The manufacturer looked at Jim in horror and then departed.

Young Thubs is a good business man, but outside of business he is not such a good manager. He had a beautiful typewriter, one of the perfect kind, aged nineteen years, better than new, with laughing blue eyes. Having fallen in love with it, he one day sat down beside it and told it that he wanted to dictate a letter of love to his sweetheart. It went to work mechanically "My dearest angel, I love you deeply, devoledly; no other being could ever inspire in my heart such a fervent and lasting affection, and I take this method of laying at your feet my life, my love, my honor and my fortune. Will you accept these? Answer immediately. Your sincere lover.

Killed by an Riectric Current. In Atlantic City, on Tuesday night, Louis Mund, sge 14 years, of Philadelphia, was instantly killed by grasping an electric light wire. He, his brother and another boy were playing on the roof of Albrecht's hotel, when they were called to come down. In getting down young Mund grasped the wire, where a splice had been made and where there was no insulation, to steady himself. The current had just been turned on, and he received its full force, staggered and fell dead. His body was picked up and all possible means used to restore him, but without avail.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Almost a Wreck

It is often the case that a person gets into a run down condition, the cause of which it is almost impossible to determine. From a weak-ened system and impure blood, more and more serious disorders appear, until the constitution breaks down and some definite powerful disease gains a firm hold. When that tired feeling comes on it should be overcome at any cost: Hood's Sarsaparilia should be taken to revive the declining powers, restore the appetite and vitalize the blood.

"I feel it my duty to tell what I think of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was in a very poor state of health for several months; for four weeks I was unable to work, and nothing seemed to be what I needed. My sppetite was poor, I could not sleep, had headache a great deal, pains in the small of the back, my bowels did not move regularly. Why! I seemed almost a complete wreck. In this condition I began to take Hood's Saraparilla. and in a short time it did me so much good that I feel good that I feel
