There is no more popular place along the Surquebsuna river than Shenk's Ferry. Every day during the bass and salmon season fishermen gather there, where many conveniences not to be had at other points are provided by William Weize, son of Capt John P. Weise, Mr. Weise conducts an excellent hotel, and his numerous visitors are received courieously and enter-tained most hospitably at the lowest possi-ble rates. His boats are light, easily pro-pelled and perfectly safe to be used in that vicinity, where the current is not swift. The bass are biting, and those Isaak Waltons who cast their lines at Shenk's Ferry will be sure to capture all the fish they desire. Opposite Shenk's Ferry station is that beautiful island of about 125 acres, known as Weise's laland, on which lives Captal John P. Weise, This spot Mr. Weise calls his little Florids. On it are fruits of all kinds in abundance; watermeions, canta lo ipes, etc.

The facts of 1 the plaintiff were these: Adam Oplender was treasurer of Monterey Lodge for a number of years. His term of office expired on March 26, 1886, at which time his books were audited and showed that he had in his possession $748 23 belonging to the lodge. This amount he failed to pay over. He was re elected treasurer prior to the audit, nd should have been installed for the year 1886 the first meeting night in April, but he failed to give bond and wasnot installed. Shortly afterwards he acknowledged that he had appropriated the funds of the lodge to his own use and could not pay them back. He was prosecuted for ember-riement and convicted. Pending a motion for a new trial, he skipped to Canada and is now a fugitive from justice. Christian Schaeffer was on his bond to the lodge, and this suit is brought to recover the smount of Oblender's embezzlement while Mr. Schaeffer was his bondeman.

The defense claim that a greater part of the embezziement occurred after the expiration of the term for which Mr. Schrelfer was his bondsman.

When she arrived here she found that Gibson had forgotten his early love, and was already married. She had no place to go, and accepted an offar made by Gibson to live in his house until she secured a place to work. She remained with this family for some time and claims that Gibson seduces her after which she left his house and went to Philadelphia. When she saw that she was soon to become a mother she concluded to come back to Lancaster and charge him with the paternity of her child and she made complaint sgainst him before Alderman Barr. A Wile Eurs Her Husband.

John Waters, a colored boot black, o this city, got drunk yesterday and raised a row at home. His wife, Julis, brought sult against him, charging him with drunken and disorderly conduct. The case will likely be settled, as Mrs. Waters says she will pay the costs on Friday. There are out a dozen women in the city who are continually bringing suits sgainst their husbands for offenses of this kind. As soon as pasce has been restored the wives pay the costs whenever they bring suits. The worthless husbands know this and are not fraid. A policeman, who has been on the force for years, says that he has known women to take the last cent in the house and pay their husbands' costs after suing them.

The result was that the straw stack caught fire and it was only by the hard work of the neighbors that the barn was saved.
