OMS PITTED UP BEAUTIFULLY FO THE M. E SUNDAY SCHOOL

A Description of the Improvements That Were Made - Services to the Churches - George C. Hill Carpenter, Severely Ir Jures Bitraself With a Harchet,

COLUMBIA, Aug. 11—The members of the Methodist Sunday school will find their room fitted up to a very handsome manner when they enter it to-morrow. For the few weeks repairs and improvement have been made at this place, making one of the fluest Sunday school rooms this county. The walls have been hand comelypapered, the sides in felt, the celling panelled and de orsted in gilt. New brass chandellers, with cut glass globes, hang from the celling and new side brack. ets have been placed within the alarpet of pretty design. The alear ratiing is new ord within are leather covered ture and walnut deak. The old se-t is specially adspted for Sunday school pur

Committed to Jail for Trial On Saturday, the 21st of July, George Lably, who had but lately been discharged from jail after having served a term for larceny, fell in with Stephen Cochran, s young man from the Gap, who had come to Lancaster to have a good time. After spending the day together the couple went to Kircher's hotel, and were put to bed in the same room, When Coehran got up in the morning be found that his room mate was gone, and that he had taken with him Cochran's pocketbook three $5 bills and a $2 bill. Lably was arrested some days afterwards up. Efforts were made to find Cochran having removed from the Gap, his whereabouts were not discovered until he was working at Townsend, Chester county. He was sent for and appeared before Alderman Deen this afternoop. The facts as above given were sutstantiated, and Lably in default of ball was committed for trial at court.

Queer Skylarking of Some Chicagoans Chicago apecial of Sunday is repro duced from the New York Sun : A funeral procession passed Clark and Madison atreets at 3:30 o'clock this morning. An old time gambler who happened to be standing there ran his bony fingers through his long, scrawny white whiskers, and his nerves seemed to be unstrung over the sight of the token of death. In the lead was a child's hearse painted and trimmed in white, and a couple of closed carriages followed. The procession moved at a decrous gait. At the entrance to the Boston Cester house the correspondent amount of the couples and the couples are the couples as the couples are the couples are the couples are the couples as the couples are the couples ton Oyster house the cortege paused a mo-ment. The driver leaped from his seat, and quickly cosned the door of the hearne. Two men with bewildered looks and badly wrinkly coats crawled out. The old gan der looked paralyzed.

Another onlooker, who didn't know that Chi ago ought to be temperate on Sunday, was so startled that he thought he ought to was so startled that he thought he ought to do something and do it quickly; so he turned in a fire alarm. It was responded to at once, but they found no sign of a hieza. Then the early funeral was ex-

Well does the writer remember the case of a parent who whipped his little daugh ter, attempting to overcome in this way he whimsical terror of the dark when left whenever terror or the dark when left alone at night. The poor little maid sobbed herself to sleep that night. But the next evening, five minutes after the had been left alone with the, to her, fearful 6 ark, her terror overcame her dread of punishment, and a pitiful little voice was heard at the head of the stairs :

"O, papa, please come up here and whip me! I'm so 'fraid of the dark!" This convinced the father that the child's terror was more than a whim, and he deeply never repeated. The following inciden related by a father, is of the same nature: "I shall never forget, though I have wished a thousand times that I could, how I punished little Mamie for confinually her say it correctly. She was quiet for a few minutes after I had punished her, and then she looked up with a quivering lip, " Papa, you will have to whip me again ;

You can imagine how I felt, and how I kep: on remembering the look on her face and the tone of the, sad little voice."

To Climb Wis ler's Bill.

Mr. John McLaughlin, who claimed to have ridden Wissler's bill, near Columbia, on his bicycle, undertook to prove it by riding it before a number of wheelmen or Thursday and Friday evenings, but failed in each trial, succeeding only in riding half the distance up the hill.

Fair Notes, Mr. W. W. Amos has agreed, on behalf of the "Fowler" gallery, West King street, to make a large crayon portrait, with elegant frame, of the winning babe at the Farmers' fair at McGrann's park, September 17 to 22

In the catalogue, just issued, the handsome special premium of Mr. Chas. S. Gill, watchmaker and jeweler on West King street, of a silver tea set for the best hand made dress by an amateur, a provoking error occurred in the use of the word "exhibited" for the ward excluded. It was meant to say that all the sewing machine work would be excluded. Next week it is expected there will be two or three special contests ready for an nouncement, and for which valuable special premiums will be offered.

Ligh ning in the Oats Field From the Akron (Ohio) Beacon

A very strange freak of lightning was observed at Long Lake Park, south of this city, where a merry party of campers was kept busy dedging the rain drops. Just north of the camp grounds is a large field of oats, which has been gathered into shocks. During the storm a very sharp crash was heard at the camp, and one of the oat shocks was seen flying about in the air. This particular shock of grain was in the lowest part of the field, being at the foot of a hill and not very far distant from a clump of trees, and despite the fact that the rain was failing in particularly ways, we all the showest burner. perfect waves, yet all the sheaves burned
