Didn't Want the Fish.

From the Detroit Free Press.

Peters, the colored pugilist, took a little trip into the country last month for a vacation, and as has often happened to white men under the same circumstances, he got dead broke fifty miles from home and started back by the king's highway. One day, when he had reached the thirtieth mile-post west of Detroit, he met a wagon-load of people going to a picnic. There was a smart Aleck in the wagon and he ordered a halt and said:

"I've got to lick this nigger or we won't catch any fish to-day."

Several of the people protested and argued, but the young man was bound to show off, and he jumped down, pulled off his coat and replied:

"Nigger, can you fight?"

"No, sah," replied Peters, as he backed away.

"I'm sorry for you, but I've got to do it. I'll be as easy as I can, though."

He put up his dukes and made a rush. Then the heavens and the earth seemed to come together, and all the powder mills in the country exploded at once.

"You've killed him!" shouted the occupants of the wagon in chorus.

"No I haven't. I jist reached fur de pint of his jaw, an' he'll come to in about a minit."

He was a true prophet. Aleck opened his eyes after a bit, sat up, rubbed his jaw, and then suddenly dashed for the wagon and climbed in.

"How about the fish, sah?" asked Peters, as the wagon was about to go on.

"Fish! fish!" shouted Aleck, as he got a fresh brace on his jaw, "durn your black hide, but do you suppose I want the whole earth?"

From Birth to the Grave

We carry with us certain physical traits, as we do certain mental characteristics. Insomuch that psychologists have striven to designate by generic titles certain temperaments—as the bilious, the nervous, the lymphatic. The individual with a sallow complexion is set down as bilious, often rightly so. If the saffron in the hue of his skin is traceable to bile in the blood, its presence in the wrong place instead of the liver, will also be evinced by fur on the tongue, pain beneath the right ribs and through the right shoulder-blade, sick headache, constipation, flatulence and indigestion. For the relief of this very common, but not essentially perilous complaint, there is no more genial and thorough remedy than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is also a beneficent tonic and strength-promoter, and a widely esteemed remedy for and preventive of fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which we sell on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50 cents and $1. Trial size free. At a Druggists. jan14-lyd&w (2)

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had is not been for Electric Bitters.
