An Old Story Reteid.

From the Chicago News.

"Bill wuz old Jedge Hiram Cadwell's oldest boy—you recollect the Cadwells—used to live on the toll road near the cemetery. Old Jedge Cadwell wuz about az shil'iess a man ez I ever see, but Bill had a great bizness head—calc'iate he must hav inherited it from his mother, who come of the finest stock in Hampshire county. When he wuz a boy Bill was always tradin' an' swoppin" an' I s'pose he started out in life with more jack-knives than'd stock a store. An' Bill preserved in manhood all them talents which he exhibited in youth. Whenever you met a man' at looked ex if he'd been run through a lieve you'd feel mighty safe in bettin' that he'd been havin businiss dealins with Bill Cadwell.

"One day Bill came into Eastman's store

'One day Bill came into Eastman's store an' allowed as how he'd be powerfulgled to git a knittin' needle—his wife wanted one, he said.

''Mr. Cadwell,' sex Eastman, 'a knittin' needle will-cost you jest one cent.'

'Bill looked kind uv surprised like, an' sez, 'knittin' needles must hev gone up sence I come in fur one last winter.'

"'Wall,' sex Eastman, 'after payin' freight an' one thing an' another 1 can't afford to let knittin' needles go for less 'n a cent apiece.'

"Bill didn't say anything fur a minnit or two, but after lookin' out uv the door at the scenery he turnt round an ser: 'Look hero, Mr. E satman, I tell you what I'll do; I'il trade you an egg for a knittin' needle, "Eastman shook his head. 'Why not?' sez Bill. 'You don't suppose at a darned old knittin' needle is wuth as much ez an egg, do ye?"

"'I never heerd uv anybody payin'

"'No, nor I never heerd uv feedin' knittin' needies, 's z Bill. 'It don't cost nothin' to raise knittin' needies.'

"We'l, Bill an' Eastman argued an' argued for more'n an hour about hens an' knittin' needies an' things, until at leat Eastman give in an' sez: 'Wall, I s'poze I might jeat zz well swop ez not, aithough I hate to let anybody get the advantage uv me.' So Eastman give Bill the knittin' needle an' Bill give Eastman the egg.

"But when Bill give Eastman the egg.

"But when Bill got to the door he turnt round an' come back agin an' sez: 'Mr. Eastman, ain't it the custom fur you to treat when you've settled with a customer? You an' me hev hed our dispute, but we've come to a settlement an' an understandin'. Seems to me it would be the harnsome thing for you to treat.'

"Eastman didn't see it in just that light, but Bill hung on so an' wuz so conciliatin' that finally Eastman handed out a tumbler an' the bottle o' Medford 1um.

"Now, this come pretty near breakin' Eastman's heart. He had laid the egg on a shelf behind the counter, an' he reached for tan' handed it to Bill, sayin', 'Wall, I'm in for it, an' there's no use uv kickin'.'

"Bill broke the egg into the rum, an' lo an' behold, it was a double yeik! Goah! but Bill was excited. but Bill was excited.
"'Mr. Ess'man,' sez he, 'you'v' been a

How so ?' asked Eastman. "'Wby, this egg has got two yelka."
"'Wbat uv that?" sez Eastman.
"'Well, simply this," sez Bill, 'that if you're inclined to do the fair thing you'll

We are warranted by concurrent testimony in affirming, that if you will use twice or thrice a day Hestetter's stomach Bitters, an enabling medicine of long ascertained purity and fonic virtues, that you will be materially nided. It promotes a flow of the gastric juices, and helps the system to assimilate the nourishment of which it stands so much in need. It remedies a tendency to constipation without convulsing the bowels. FOR OLD PEOPLE. FOR OLD PEOPLE!

In old people the nervous system is weakened, and that must be strengthened. One of the most prominent medical writers of the day, in speaking of the prevalence of rheumatic troubles among the aged, says: "The various pains, rheumatic or other, which old people often complain of, and which materially disturb their comfort, result from disordered nerves." There it is in a nut shell—the medicine for old people must be a nerve tonic. Old people are beset with constipation, fistulency, drowsiness, diarrhea, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia. These diseases are of nervous origin. Paine's Celery compound, that great nerve tonic, is almost a specific in these disorders, and by its regulating influence on the liver, bowels and kidneys, removes the disorders peculiar to old age. Old people find it stimulating to the vital powers, productive of appetite, and a promoter of digestion.

Sold by druggists. $1.00. Six for $5.00. Send for eight-page paper, with many testimonials from nervous, debilitated, and aged people, who bless l'aine's Celery Compound.

Dear Birs.— About two months ago, on your recommendation, I bought a bottle of curticura for the continuous and the continuous agod thirteen years, who had been amicted with eczems for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense, his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was covered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now all disappeared, his skin is healthy, eyes bright, cheorial in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are witnesses to this remarkable cure, and the doubting ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.
