

The Daily Intelligencer.

LANCASTER, AUGUST 29, 1883. THE DAILY INTELLIGENCER publishes all the news of the United States...

Two Congressmen. That is a curious turn of the wheel of fortune which throws Representatives...

Mr. Bowden is supposed to have been defeated in Lehigh by his adverse attitude to the position taken by the Democratic administration...

We do not think that the explanation is difficult. Mr. Bowden is a strong man, but he was not strong enough to buck against his party in a Democratic stronghold...

Mr. Ermentrout also is a strong politician, as he has shown by the hold he has kept in Old Berks from the time that he was Hester Clymer's chief engineer...

Who would have guessed that right here in Lancaster a brace of Chinamen would be found eager to "Hully for Hallison"?

The Philadelphia Inquirer at first showed a leaning toward the patriotic course of the Ledger on the question of retaliation, and only a few days ago recommended the repeal of the sections of the law...

There can be no doubt that combinations of corporations in trusts that are intended to control the corporations and deprive them of their independence, are unlawful.

The Indian question will, in all probability, be forced upon public attention at an early date by disturbances in Dakota and Montana, directly traceable to the same old causes that have made most of our troubles of the kind in the past.

Most of them fully appreciate the fact that in spite of the most sacred obligations assumed by the "great father at Washington" they must sooner or later give up their land...

The error of all our Indian policy has been in the making of treaties that could not be kept with tribes unworthy of consideration as nations.

Chairman Quay ought to go to Washington; and so should Blaine. There is evident need of early conference among the Republican orators and leaders to see that they strike somewhere near the same air upon vital topics.

Mr. Blaine is from Maine, and through which railroads from Canada run to Maine seacoast ports. Blaine and Maine do not want restricted intercourse with Canada.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

TRUE ECONOMY. It is true economy to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, for "100 Doses One Dollar" is original and true only of this popular medicine.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for loss of appetite, dyspepsia and general languor. It did me a vast amount of good, and I have no hesitancy in recommending it.
