Gratifying Abuse.

The president cannot please the Reeditors and orators. He is ablican editors and orators. He is fatis to do. They have been having a em down now and Maine's railroads; and the Repub-Sonn journals say that the people of Maine agree with Blaine because they have given a big majority for the Repub-lican ticket.

If the president was to depend for reion upon the Republican party it is clear that he would have a poor chance. As it happens that he he does not expect the Republican vote, it may be that it does not matter whether or no he pleases i; all he cares to do is to please those inndent Republicans who do their own thinking and who propose to cast sir votes for the best man. The presisent has not addressed his letter accepting the Democratic nomination to the ablican party. It is a letter to Democrats, and is so inscribed. It fails decry it with great unanimity. It ase the Republican journals, mente to say that they would receive unstefully and anappishly, at least while this campaign lasts, the profoundest truth and the wisest words that could ne from a Democratic source.

It is no impeachment of the president's ter that it receives Republican condemtion; the sharper its thrusts and the effective its fire, the less pleasing will it be to its victims. It is amusing, if not surprising, to see how unanimously and heartily the letter is abused on the Rean side. The fact conveys a high acomium on its expressiveness; which sustained by the warm current of that flows in upon it from all sides in the house of its friends.

No Ground For the Cry. . Is the Mills bill sectional? This question has been answered by Repub-licans by noting that lumber, wool, salt, beans and peas, flax, lime and vegetables Northern products on the free list. All of these things are also Southern lucts. In 1887 there were over 10,-00,000 sheep in the South, about a quar-ter of the total, and Texas had more Mee Jersey and Pennsylvania added. As for beans and peas New York and fornia produced in 1878 more than alf the total product of beans; 3,075,050 were produced altogether, and www.York furnished 1,303,444 bushels, alifornia 378,971 bushels. Of the re-usining 1,392,635 bushels the South fur-ished about one-third or 482,584 bushels. By far the largest product of peas is in 50uth. In 1879 the total was 6,514,977 els, of which 4,833,594 was produced a the South. Peas may be considered a seathern product if beans are counted ferthern, and it will be noticed that the sep of peas is over twice the size of the chies" that is an extremely infaite phrase, and though $52,000 tax collected on "vegetables fresh or in 1887, at 10 per cent. we do not the market gardeners of New will suffer very severely by a reother may soon be able to ship Amerimearien corn and sweet potatoes to to tex on food, will certainly not com-and Ohlo. Of the remaining 5,980,909 ushels the South furnished 3,556,938 ushels, so that salt is also a Southern Flax is a Southern product to a certain extent, and rice and sugar are great Southern staples; these we find heavily cut. Refined sugar is reduced 20 per cent. and raw 35 per cent. Rice is reduced 11 per cent. and rice meal 25 per cent. Lumber and flax alone can be considered Northern products of importance on the free list, and it is plain from the wholesale reduction of duties on Southern staples that there is no ground for the cry of sectionalism.

It seems perfectly clear that when the government, this instrumentality created and maintained by the people to do their bidding, turns upon, and, through an utter perversion of its powers, extorts from their labor and orbital tribute largely in excess of public necessities the creature has re-belled against the creator and the masters are robbed by their servants—President Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.

JOHN A. HAMBLETON & Co., bankers, O Baltimore, in their weekly circular to their ustomers make the following comment on the effect of the presidential canvass:
"The commercial and financial situation continues in a most promising condition, and the present season bids fair to be the exception which proves the rule regarding an off year in business during a presiden tial canvass. Business men are not bother ing themselves about politics, and are well satisfied that the success or defeat of either party cannot and will not curtail the benefits to be received from an abundant harvest. The bluster about free trade and ion, the Canadian fisheries or the Uninese question has no terrors except to those who have political office at stake, and the people are satisfied that nothing can stop the period of progress and prosperity which has arisen from natural causes which are not controlled by political events." This seems to be the opinion of many business men, though few of Republican pro clivities have the frankness to confess it.

THE Hamburg American steamship company has refused to accept any pay for ser-vices randered to the Danish line at the time of the Gelser disaster and suggests that the amount should be turned over to the families of the violims of that collision. This is certainly a most refreshing example of a in this connection it is worth noting that the pilot chart of the North Atlantic just issued shows that if the Geiser had followed the rules laid down by that most valuable publication it would have been many miles further south. These harts are furnished free by the governmen to all vessels, and the directions given fix a line across the Atlantic north of which west bound vessels should always keep while the east bound have plenty of room and favoring currents south of it. The editors of the chart do not hesitate to say that the terrible Geiser disaster was due to a strange disregard of the directions of the

THE poet Whittier is said to have replied as follows to the charge that he was an enemy of the South : "I was never an enemy to the South or the holders of slaves. I inherited from my Quaker ancestry hatred of slavery, but not of slaveholders. To every call of suffering or distress in the South I have promptly responded to the extent of my ability. I was one of the very first to recognize the rare gift of the Caro-linian post Timred, and I was the intimate friend of the lamented Paul H. Hayne, though both wrote flery lyrics against the and session of fault finding with him in North. I am sure no one rejoices more abusing him in the state Canvass for Tun city of Pitteburg has an energetic ent of public safety who has lately distinguished himself and incurred the eternal enmity of Unleago by telling slarming stories of the slaughter of diseased cattle in the abattoirs of that city. The chief of the department now auggests municipal and state legislation for the pro-tection of the beef eaters, providing for the establishment of a city abattor where all cattle to be sold in Pittsburg must be killed. Failing this, he thinks a law could be passed that all dressed beef sold in Pennsylvania must be accompanied by an illicial certificate from inspectors at Chicago that it is wholesome and as represented.

There does not seem to be occasion for great alarm, as the talk about the matter will probably compel great care for the present on the part of the Chicago butchers. but it would undoubtedly be a wise measure of protection to insist upon rigid inspection of the animals slaughtered.

THE Dally Kennebec Journal publishes a list of Republican honorables, generals and coloneis, a column and a half long, each of whom had from two to a dozen engagements to speak in Maine before the election. Among them were the following: General Lucius Fairchild, ex-governor of Wisconsin; General James A. Beaver, governor of Pennsylvanis; Hon. James G. Blains, Hon, R. E. Frazier, of Michigan; Genera Adam E. King, of Maryland; Hon. J. R. G. Pitkin, of Louisians; Hon. Lewis E. Mc-Comas, M. C., from Maryland; Col. Clark E. Carr, of Illinois; Hon. W. C. Plummer, of Dakots; Hon. W. P. Hepburn, of Iows Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Hon. Robert P. Kennedy, of Onic; Col. Anson S. Wood, New York : Hon. George Maney, Tenn.; Hon. W. W. Rice; Massachusetts; W. H. Caikina, Indiana; Hon. Wm. P. Frye, General John L. Swift, Massachusetts; Hon. George M. Dewey, Michigan; Hon. Solon Chase, Hon. R. G. Horr, Mich; Hon. W. C. Doane, Pennsylvania; Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, of New York. These are only a few of the best known speakers and it will be seen that the Republican managers scoured the whole country for the very flower of their forces Over 500 Republican meetings were held in Maine. By concentrating in one strongly Republican state all the power of a national campaign organization they have been able to save it for their party. Knowing the desperate efforts that were being made we are greatly surprised that the Republican mejority is not larger. If they cannot do better than this by an attack in force upon the weakest part of our line what will be the result of a contest in which their best men who spoke in Maine must be scattered over the whole country?

THE Philadelphia manufacturers are nearly all Republicans, and they are kicking like steers against the advance in mannisctured articles which has set in and ha become a full blown boom in the West. The Philadelphia people are so much opposed to anything that will show that the country can be saved without Harrison that they are physically and mentally un-able to believe and unfit to understand that things are moving. No Philadelphia Republican will buy anything that costs more that it did a month ago. He proposes to starve for 60 days and then eat; if Harrison is elected be will gorge; if Cieveland he will take a cracker.

THE United States sloop-of-war Antietam was sold at League Island on Saturday for $6,700 She cost the government $525,-000, but was never put to sea or fitted up. And yet the people are seked to vote for a return to power of the party that is responsible for this outrageous squandering of the Wz propose, too, by extending the mar-et for our manufactures, to promote the het for our manufactures, to promote the steady employment of labor, while by cheapening the cost of the necessaries of life we increase the purchasing power of the workingman's wages and add to the comforts of his home.—President Cleveland's Latter of Acceptance.

Judge Davenport, of Kansas City, has decided that women can wear trousers whenever and wherever they please in Missouri.

CAPTAIN HENRY JACKSON appears to have taken Ben Hill's place at the head of the Georgiabar. Three fees that he recently received amounted to $75 000, and his regular retainers reach $10,000 a year. He has just declined an offer of $20,000 a year to go to New York as counsel for an insurance

NINA VAN ZANDT has, at least for every day wear, put off mourning. She was seen tripping down the street in Chicago in a charming new suit of white, with pretty colored ribbons and a neat summer hat to match. She exhibited no signs of mourning whatever, and her face were a bright, happy smile.

Mr. MAURICE F. EGAN has resigned his adjurate connection with the Economy.

MR. MAURICE F. EGAN has resigned his editorial connection with the Freeman's Journal because an article of his commend-ing the president's fisheries in essage was suppressed by the owners. The New York Star says "the new Freeman's Journal will hereafter be a mere annex of the Iriah World, and it will lose the paper's old constituence."

John Dunn, the renegade Zulu leader John Dunn, the renegade Zulu leader, has entirely renounced civilization, and his taken two or three dozen Zulu wives. By birth he is a Scotchman. His father was a trader in Natal. John went out to South Africa when very young and has never returned. He traded among the Zulus for his father, and by and by took a liking for the people and the country and settled permanently there. He soon became an influential Zulu.

SECRETARY VILAS IS much better satisfied with his present duties in the interior department than he was while holding the ned with his present duties in the interior department than he was while holding the postofiles portfolio. This is owing to the iset that the work in the interior department is more diversified, and, as a rule, more legal in its character than that of the postmaster general. The secretary is a prodigious worker. He is a Western man, and in the quaint vernacular of that section he is known as a "hustier." He reaches the office promptly at nine, and remains remainly until five and six in the evening. Unlike his predecessors, he reads every important letter which comes to the department before sending it to his subordinates. He follows this plan also with regard to the letters which are brought to him for his signature. He has the rare faculty of absorbing their contents at a glance. In this respect he would make an excellent news editor. He keeps two stenographers busy the entire day. When he went into the department twolve months ago he found the work of one buresu—the land office—two years in arrears. He immediately inaugurated different methods with such beneficial results that six months hence the work will be up to date.
