CENTENNIAL SEASON TO BE USE ERED IN BY BELL RINGING.

Town Bountifally Decorated For the bratten-Programme of the Opening Exercises - William Schram Dies in Lebanon-Udd Fellows Officers Chosen.

COLUMBIA, Sept. 25.—The borough is sew on the eve of celebrating the centendal with imposing exercises. The talk of all the people is nothing but this great event. The work of the various committees has been completed and everything is in readings for the opening. A walk through the form will convince anyone that the decorations are on a very elaborate scale. The people have spared no expense to make their homes look beautiful. The success of the great event is now entirely dependent on the state of the weather.

His principal support is his mother, Mme. uville, who plays Mildred Earlston, the maniac mother. She is a good actress, with an unpleasant voice, and her work in he lunatio asylum scene was very clever. H. Percy Meidon was a very villalnous villain, with an inclination to rant, and the ther people were fair. The scenery in the second and third acts was very good, and during the play some variety "business" was introduced. The gallery yelled with delight at every appearance of revolvers, with which the hero seemed to be loaded.

AN OLD THIEF.

William Stehman, in the County Jail, Recognized as Wm. Potest. The man who stole the horse of Jacob an, of the New Danville turnpike, sok ago last Saturday, and was arrested this city, seems to be an old hief. Some days ago Chief of Police melts received a photograph of a thief who me wanted for stealing a horse belonging John Coulman at Mt. Washington, Baltisent to the prison and recognized the sent to th E. Barringer, city detective of Baltice, came to this city and with chief of police went to the con. The detective wanted, if possible, o find something of the wherabouts of the erse. He at once recognized the priser, who when arrested had given his name as William Stehman, as William Potest. The prisoner at arms pretended to know nothing about cer, but finally came around. He eaid he had lost Coulmann's horse while drunk. The detective made complaint re Alderman Deen against Potest detainer was lodged at the n for him so that when he serves le term here, he will be taken to Balti-The police records show that Potest is a

BEFORE THE MATOR.

A Humber of Interesting Cases Disposed Of This Morning. Fred Elermo, living in the Eighth ward, arcested yesterday. He is the owner of a dog that severely bit Charles Keller on Sunday. The dog grabbed young Keller by the leg, pulled him into an alley, and when the boy was rescued the dog ran away. Dr. McCormick cauterized the boy's pands. When the owner of the dog was so then threatened with arrest for keepag a victous dog, and he defied the officers arrest him. When the policeman called spen him, armed with a warrant for his armest, he did not resist arrest but went reliefly with the officers. This morning then taken before the mayor he cen before the mayor he agreed to we the dog killed and was discharged. Louis Saddier, one of the young men en-

RESULT OF THE INQUEST. Testimony Before the Coroner's Jary In the

After the body of John Foust, the boy big railroad bridge on Monday afterno had laid on the bank for some time it was taken charge of by Undertaker A. C. Rote, who took it to the home of deceased's father, Geo. Fouet at No. 109 Middle street The roport that the boy had been drowned spread very rapidly and long before the body arrived at the house a tremendous crowd of people had gathered around it and in the street.

Coroner Honaman quickly empanelled a jury consisting of John Riley, Miles Fite, Henry Dare, H. W. Bucklus, Abraham Peters and Harry H. Hensel and an inquest was held over the remains. The quest was held over the remains. The testimony of Capt. Abraham Settley, Will Yackley, Charles Wiley, two boys, was heard. The evidence elicited the same facts as published yesterday. The deceased and Xackley, who is somewhat younger, went to the country for wainuts. About two o'clock they were at the railroad bridge, and found several control of the country for wainuts. railroad bridge, and found several gentlemen fishing on the west side of the stream. Willism Schulize was one of the party, and soon the tip of his rod came off and became anterest and became entangled in the weeds or sticks in the creek. The Foust boy said be would recover it, and Mr. Schulizs told him if he did he would give him ten cente, but he should not go in if he could not swim, Foust could not swim, but said nothing. He ran across the bridge and, taking off his clothes, entered the water from the eastern bank, probably thinking that the depth was not so great there. He went out about 15 feet and was soon in water that was too deep for him and had a rather swift current. He struggled bravely to save himself, but could do nothing. He cried for help and came up twice. Finally nothing could be seen but one hand, which he seemed to hold up. This at last disappeared and the boy was not seen again above. When the lad was first seen to get beyond his depth Capt Abram Setley, who was fishing further down the stream, heard the alarm and ran to his assistance. He took off his above and pantaloons and plunged into the stream. He swam to within a few feet of the boy, and tried to encourage him by calling. The captain could not reach him, however, as be began to become exhausted, and fearing be would drown also started back; for the shore, which he reached after the greatest difficulty. Some men who stood on the eastern bank of the stream threw a plank to the boy but he could not reach it. The current ecemed to be too strong for him and the water cov-ered him. In an hour after the drowning the body was recovered by George, Max and John Hogarth, Wm. Pontz and Jacob Witch, who had a boat and rakes. It was found a short distance below where the boy eank. After hearing the evidence the jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning. The mother and father of the boy arrived at the creek before the body was recovered and the scene when he was brought ashore was one calculated to make a strong man shed tears. It was only equalled by the cones at the house when the body was brought home. The boy would have been 15 years old next Saturday had he lived. The father is a day laborer and has a large

The President Coming to Lancaster, Pa,—The fick to Receive Redical Service Free of Charge.

The President of the Great English Staff of Physicians and Surgeons, consisting of four-teen in number, will arrive at the City Hotel, Lancaster, Pa., on the 28th of September, and will render services to the sick free of charge until 2d of October. The only favor desired is a recommendation from those who are cured. Invalids will please not take offense if they are rejected as incurable, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral cer-tainty of a cure being effected. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honorably tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicines and appliances which imposters usually suggest. This syndicate of Physicians and Surgeons treat every variety of disease and deformity. They have had a vast experience both on land ses, also in the following places. following places, viz : London, Paris, Dublin, Belfast, Liverpool, Rome, Heidelburg, St. Pe-tersburg and Stockholm.

The following are the number of cases they have accepted as curable and rejected as incurable, viz

SOMETHING NEW!

Any Tailor with common wit can put a Suit together so as to make it present a nice appearance to the eye, but will such a Suit give you service? As a matter of course you cannot tell. We read and hear a great deal about CHEAP SUITS, which are hawked about everywhere. The simple truth is implied in the words, they are CHEAP SUITS. Our idea is not to sell CHEAP SUITS, but to furnish at a low figure that which will give Satisfaction in every Partic-ULAR. How will we do this? By taking our employes into consideration. You cannot pay poor prices and get Good Work, while on the other hand if High Prices are paid you get first-class workmanship, and you benefit both WORKMAN and Cus-TOMER, as the goods being well made will stand longer and rougher service. If you want to see the sequel to the above facts call in and have a look at our FALL OVERCOATS, which range in PRICE from $7.00 to $25.00, in all the latest fabrics; also jour Cutaway Suits at $16, in Worsteds, Corkscrews and Broad Wale, and all the most FASHIONABLE CLOTHS.
